THE ALUMNI NEWS–LETTER

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION ACCREDITMENT PLAN

Alumni gifts for the Fiftieth Anniversary Memorial Fund to build an auditorium-gymnasium continue to arrive. Within recent weeks contributions have come from alumni in India, South America, China, France, Oregon, California, Arizona, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Washington, D.C., Texas, and many points in between.

May we point out that this Golden Anniversary Fund is the "most golden opportunity" that has ever come to alumni of Goshen College! The fund in cash and pledges now totals approximately one hundred thousand dollars. President Miller announced at a recent faculty meeting that he hoped to see the auditorium-gymnasium completed in time for the opening of school in September, 1947.

BUT!—to begin building in time to have the building completed on that date the fund needs fifty thousand dollars within the next few months. Goshen College alumni have always responded generously to any especially urgent appeal. Alumni, this is such an earnest appeal.

How many of you who have given five, ten, twenty-five, fifty, or even one hundred dollars could spare an equal amount between now and the printing of the next NEWS-LETTER? And how many of you who have not yet contributed to this fund would be willing to make your proposed gift soon? This is not merely "another one of those pleas," but it really is a very special and urgent call to your loyalty to your Alma Mater.

Following is a list of contributors from December 1 to approximately April 1.

COMMENCEMENT, 1946

With the removal of travel restrictions, the administration expects a large number of visitors at the annual commencement exercises, May 16 to 20. This issue of the May bulletin is being prepared early so that all of you who expect to attend will receive the announcement in plenty of time. The housing situation is still a major problem, but there are many friends in the city and in Elkhart County who would be glad to welcome some of their friends for a few days' visit.

Several classes are planning reunions, especially the ten-year class which this year is the class of 1936 whose president, L. Glen Guengerich, of Kalona, Iowa, has been planning for the reunion for several weeks

The general outline of the program follows:

Thursday evening, May 16, Th.B. Class Program
Friday, May 17, Class Day
Friday evening, May 17, Senior Class Program
Saturday, May 18, Alumni Day. Alumni Banquet at 6:00 P.M.
Sunday, May 19 (afternoon), Chorus Program
Sunday, May 19 (evening), Baccalaureate Service
Monday evening, May 20, Commencement

SECOND SEMESTER ENROLLMENT STATISTICS

The final enrollment for the second semester as reported by Dr. Paul Bender, registrar, was three hundred and one full-time students and twenty-nine part-time. Ninety-five of the full-time students are men and two hundred and six women. Enrollment by classes: freshmen, one hundred and fifteen; sophomores, seventy-three; juniors, fifty-three; seniors, forty-six; fifth year, Th.B., twelve. The enrollment includes twelve full-time discharged veterans, nine discharged C.P.S. men, and five discharged veterans, part-time.

According to present indications, Goshen College may be forced next fall to join the growing number of colleges who are closing their doors to students wishing to enter in September. Dr. Paul Bender reports that an unusually large number of students from Indiana and other Middle Western states have already applied for admission to the freshman class entering in September and have paid their admission fee. The administration is making strenuous efforts to relieve the housing shortage, but even then it may not be possible to accommodate all the students who wish to enter.

SUMMER SESSION, 1946

The College is offering opportunity to secure twelve hours of credit during the spring and summer sessions. Only one spring session will be held instead of two as during the past few years. Spring session continues for three weeks, from May 21 to June 7. The summer session begins June 10 and continues to August 9 (nine weeks).

Twelve regular three-hour courses will be offered during the spring session and thirty-one during the summer session: six in the Division of Language, Literature, and the Fine Arts; five in the Division of the Social Sciences; ten, including three home economics courses, in the Division of the Natural Sciences; three in Bible and philosophy, and seven in the Division of Teacher Training. The tuition is eight fifty per semester hour. For resident students the inclusive general fee (board, room, tuition, and health fee) for the spring session is forty-five dollars and for the summer session, one hundred and seventy-five.

ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

The ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER of the Goshen College Alumni Association has been printed irregularly during the past two years as numbers of the Goshen College Bulletin.

FELLOWSHIP MEETING OF CHRISTIAN BUSINESSMEN

On Saturday evening, March 16, two hundred and six Mennonite businessmen from Pennsylvania, Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Ontario assembled in the College dining hall for a fellowship meeting. President Miller was host and chairman. He stated that the purpose of the meeting was to show recognition to representative laymen who were participating in the support of the work of the Church and to promote mutually beneficial relationships between the College and the laymen of the Church.

The meeting was unique in one respect. Usually when a large number of visitors assemble on the campus, the majority are ministers. This was the largest body of laymen ever assembled on the campus.

After a bountiful dinner, the men from all the areas represented gave brief informal talks on a variety of subjects: What they expect of the College, why they support the College, their impression of Goshen students and faculty, the need of close and friendly relations between the College and the constituency, and the place of the Church in a businessman's activities. They expressed gratitude and general satisfaction with what has been done in the past by the College.

Among the speakers were Carl Magnusson, Morton, Illinois; Frank King, Chicago, Illinois; Harley Nofzinger, Archbold, Ohio; John L. Yoder x13, West Liberty, Ohio; Vernon Snyder, Ashley, Michigan; Ernest Clemens, Lansdale, Pennsylvania; Chester Buschert 18, Preston, Ontario; Ralph Staley, Wakarusa; G. A. Berkey, Bremen; and Lewis S. Martin, Harrisonburg, Virginia.

Ralph Bauer, head of the architectural firm planning the auditorium-gymnasium, spoke on "Architecture for the Campus." J. C. Bontrager, of Elkhart, head of the Bontrager Construction Company, made the principal speech of the evening on "Stewardship."

During the dinner hour, Mary Oyer 45, Margaret Detwiler 43, and Carolyn Weaver 46 furnished music. The Penn Quartet sang four songs during the program and Arthur Roth 33, of Orrtanna, Pennsylvania, sang two tenor solos. The meeting closed with group singing following a prayer led by Dr. Sanford C. Yoder.

EDUCATIONAL COMMISSIONER TO EUROPE

The Mennonite Board of Education has agreed to release President Ernest E. Miller 17 for special work under the Mennonite Central Committee during the coming summer. After the beginning of summer school President Miller is to leave for Europe on a special commission for the M.C.C. and for American Mennonite colleges. He will be absent from six to eight weeks. On behalf of the Mennonite colleges he will seek to bring refugee students to America and help to facilitate registration of such students in Mennonite colleges.

He also will conduct preliminary investigation regarding the possibility of setting up summer extension courses for students from Mennonite colleges who wish to spend some time in study in European educational centers.

President Miller also will make a tour of certain European educational institutions to learn what progress is being made in getting postwar education under way.

DEMAND FOR FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY ADDRESSES

Higher Education, Vol. II, No. 7 (December 1, 1945, p. 12), carries the following item: "Fiftieth Anniversary Addresses, April 29-May 1, 1945. Goshen, Indiana, Goshen College, 1945. 28 pp. Free.

"Commencement address in 1945, two historical addresses on the College, and an address dealing with an expanded program for the future."

This little notice brought requests for copies from almost every section of the Union. Fiftieth Anniversary Addresses contains the commencement address delivered by President Gage last May, as well as historical addresses and President Miller's address on the occasion of the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the founding of Goshen College. If any alumni have not received copies, they may do so by mailing a request to the College.

Several copies of the Fiftieth Anniversary, illustrated, fifty-six page book also are still available. Copies may be secured by addressing Dean Carl Kreider.

BUSINESS MANAGER APPOINTED RELIEF COMMISSIONER

The Mennonite Board of Education has released C. L. Graber, business manager of the College, to accept a three months' assignment by the Mennonite Central Committee as relief commissioner to the Philippines and China. He left South Bend by air for San Francisco on March 27 and caught a plane from there to Manila.

His first assignment is to survey relief needs in the Philippines and find a suitable location for a Mennonite relief project. He will then report by cable to the M.C.C. the type of supplies and kind of relief workers needed.

Afterward he will continue to China where a Mennonite relief unit is already at work in Honan province. He will arrange storage facilities and housing at the port of entry and transportation for workers and supplies from this port to the area of operation. Goshen alumni already working in China relief under the direction of Dr. S. F. Pannabecker are J. Lawrence Burkholder 39, Clayton Beyler 43, and Verna Zimmerman, R.N., 45.

After his visit to China, Mr. Graber will return to the Philippines with one of the China workers who will have charge of the work there until other workers arrive from the United States.

During Mr. Graber's absence the building program of the College will be carried on by John M. Snyder who recently came from service with the Mennonite Central Committee at Akron, Pennsylvania, to Goshen to assist in the Mennonite Mutual Aid program.

GOSHEN COLLEGE BIBLE SCHOOL BECOMES SEMINARY

The Mennonite Board of Education has authorized the Goshen College Bible School, first organized in 1900 as a division of the Elkhart Institute, to assume the name, The Goshen College Biblical Seminary.

The Biblical Seminary will include both the Th.B. Curriculum, a three-year course of Bible following a two-year course in general education, and a three-year graduate Bible course following graduation from college with the B.A. or B.S. degree. The latter course will lead to the degree, Bachelor of Divinity. The candidates for admission to the B.D. curriculum must have a college degree, proficiency in Greek, six hours in philosophy, three hours of sociology, and a year of speech. Any deficiencies in these requirements must be made up, but such credit will not be given as credit toward the degree, Bachelor of Divinity.

Regular faculty of the Biblical Seminary will include: Ernest E. Miller, Ph.D., Lecturer in Missions and Pastoral Theology; Harold S. Bender, M.A., Th.D., Dean of the Seminary and Professor of Church History; Sanford C. Yoder, S.T.D., D.D., Professor of Bible; Paul Mininger, M.A., B.D., M.R.E., Professor of Practical Theology; John C. Wenger, M.A., Th.D., Professor of Theology and Philosophy; John H. Mosemann, B.A., B.D., Assistant Professor of Practical Theology; and George J. Lapp, B.A., M.R.E., Director of the Bible Correspondence Department. The following people will serve as special lecturers: Guy Hershberger, Ph.D., sociology; Walter E. Yoder, M.Mus., church music; and Mary N. Royer, M.A., Christian education.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE

The annual Goshen Young People's Institute will be held at Goshen College June 12-16. The staff includes John E. Gingrich, of Elkhart, director; Verna Burkholder 43, of Hesston, Kansas, matron; Bishop J. D. Graber 25, of Elkhart; Mrs. J. D. Graber (Minnie Swartzendruber) 27, of Elkhart; Lester Mann, of Goshen; Russell Krabill 44, of Goshen; T. H. Brenneman 37, of Argentina; Roy Umble 35, of Akron, Pennsylvania; Mary Oyer 45, of Goshen; and Ray Bair 47, of New Springfield, Ohio.

A neat folder prepared by the director promises five full days of opportunity for Bible study, happy fellowship, and wholesome recreational activities. The total expense for tuition and board and room from Wednesday evening to Sunday evening inclusive is five dollars. No charge will be made for C.P.S. men who wish to attend the Institute.

TWO ALUMNI ORDAINED BISHOP

On Sunday, June 27, 1945, H. Frank Reist 04, ex-president of Goshen College and pastor of the Mennonite church at Falfurrias, Texas, was ordained to the office of bishop by the request of the Missouri-Kansas Conference and the call of the church. Bishops E. S. Hallman and Paul Hershey officiated. Mrs. Reist is the former Lulu Greenawalt 04. Bishop Reist was president of Goshen College during the year, 1919-20.

Edwin I. Weaver 30, who has just returned to India after a period of service in America as a teacher at Hesston College, was ordained bishop of the India Mennonite Church on Sunday, November , . Bishop and Mrs. Weaver (Irene Lehman 31) and their children, Carolyn Grace, Elizabeth Marie, and Jerold Lehman, recently returned to India. Bishop Weaver is especially interested in evangelistic work among the natives.

GROFFS SAIL FOR INDIA

"A farewell prayer service was held for Brother and Sister Weyburn Groff 44 (Thelma Miller 44) in the regular chapel service at Goshen College on Friday, March 15. They left Goshen on Monday, March 18, for San Francisco where they embarked for India on the liner USS General Hershey on Saturday, March 23."—Gospel Herald, issue of March 29.

The managing committee of the India Mission assigned Mr. and Mrs. Groff to Landour, Mussoorie, in the foothills of the Himalayas for language study and has designated they will live at Dhamtari when they return from the hills.

CLEVELAND ALUMNI MEET

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Y. King 22 (Edna Thut 20), of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, entertained the Goshen alumni in the Cleveland area at dinner in their home on Hilltop Road, Orange Village on February 8. President Ernest E. Miller 17 was the principal speaker. Roy Umble 35, of M.C.C. headquarters in Akron, Pennsylvania, was also present. The local committee in charge of arrangements in addition to the host and hostess were Fern Ann Umble 21, of Cleveland, and Professor Jacob C. Meyer 16, of Western Reserve University.

EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA ALUMNI BANQUET

As we go to press, eastern alumni are making arrangements to revive their annual reunion which, on account of travel restrictions, had been postponed from year to year. The banquet is scheduled for April 27 at the Brunswick Hotel in Lancaster. Howard Musselman 29, of Orrtanna, Pennsylvania, is committee chairman and Abram Hallman 31 chairman of the local committee on arrangements. J. Forrest Kanagy 30, of Biglerville, is president of the group. The committee has planned for several musical numbers but no other speakers except President Ernest E. Miller in order to leave ample time before, during, and after the banquet for the evening's principal purpose—reunion.

GERBER BROTHERS TO PRACTICE IN ELKHART

C. J. Gerber 17, principal of the Wakarusa Public Schools, has purchased from Dr. George W. Menges the office building at 122 West Lexington in Elkhart. The building provides office space for several occupants. Dr. Max Lionel Gerber x45 and Lt. Richard E. Gerber 42, of the Navy, plan to open dental offices in the building soon.

Dr. Max Gerber is completing his dental training at Northwestern University Dental School and Lt. Richard Gerber, also a graduate of Northwestern, expects to be released from the Navy in August. Both young men, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gerber 17 (Florence Wenger 16), of Wakarusa, have made an excellent record at Northwestern during their dental training.

LIBRARIAN RETURNS TO CAMPUS

J. Boyd Cressman 21, librarian of the College, has returned to the campus after spending a year in graduate study in English at the University of Michigan. After spending the second semester and the summer session on the campus, he expects to return to Ann Arbor to continue his graduate work.

Miss Neva White 44, who had been acting assistant librarian during Mr. Cressman's absence, has returned to the University of Michigan to complete her work for the degree, Bachelor of Arts in Library Science. On the completion of her work in August she will return to the campus as assistant librarian. Miss White's Ann Arbor address is 2026 Day Street.

CHANGES IN SCIENCE HALL

According to present plans, the English Room in Science Hall will be equipped as a bacteriology laboratory. An electric hot water heater is to be installed in the Home Economics laboratory.

What is now the art room in the basement of Science Hall is to become a Science Survey lecture room. The physics laboratory is to be moved from its present location on the third floor to the large room in the west end of the basement. The greenhouse at the rear of Science Hall has undergone extensive repairs and will be used by the science survey and botany classes.

The physics room on the third floor will be equipped as a science reading room and library. Present plans call for removing the partition in the advanced chemistry rooms on the west end of the third floor. Refurnishing of the general chemistry laboratory at the east end of the third floor with equipment for a combined laboratory and classroom for a semi-micro chemistry is under consideration.

A PRIZED LITTLE GIFT

What is now an almost forgotten chapter of the history of education in the Mennonite Church was brought to mind recently by J. S. Hartzler's gift to the Mennonite Historical Library of a well-preserved and beautifully decorated program and announcement of the "Semi-Annual Graduation Exercises of the Elkhart Normal School and Business Institute, Elkhart, Indiana, Friday evening, June 1, 1900, Bucklen Opera House."

This school was founded by Dr. H. A. Mumaw after he resigned from the Board of Directors of the Elkhart Institute. The list of six faculty members includes such well-known names as A. E. Weaver, the Honorable A. S. Zook, and Miss Clara Mumaw. Oddly enough, the device pictured on the last page of the program is a book supporting a lighted Grecian lamp into which a hand is pouring oil from a vessel. A part of this device in simplified form has since become the emblem printed on the Goshen College seal.

Older alumni will be pleased to learn that J. S. Hartzler is still hale and hearty although he has resigned from the pastorate of the Prairie Street Mennonite Church. Even in retirement he maintains an active interest in church and educational affairs.

MENNONITE HISTORICAL BULLETIN

Many of you alumni would enjoy the neatly printed four-page bulletin edited by Dr. John C. Wenger 34, of Goshen, and Dr. Melvin Gingerich 26, of North Newton, Kansas, and a group of associate editors. The editors are able to gather together from many out-of-the-way corners interesting items on early Mennonite history and also current "News and Notes" which help to keep the student up to date on recent books and other interesting material.

NEW MENNONITE MAGAZINE

Dr. Cornelius Krahn is editor of a new semiannual magazine entitled Mennonite Life. Associate editors include Dr. C. Henry Smith, of Bluffton, former professor at Goshen; Dr. Abram Warkentin; Dr. Melvin Gingerich 26, of North Newton, Kansas; and Dr. J. Winfield Fretz, also of North Newton. This new illustrated Mennonite magazine proposes to give Mennonite life as it was, as it is, as it should be. The first issue was exhausted in a short time and a new printing was necessary.

The editors have gathered material from many sources. Typical items to appear in early issues of the magazine are, "I Find My Life Work" (autobiographical, by Dr. C. Henry Smith), "On a Kansas Farm" (autobiographical, by Dr. E. E. Leisy, professor of English in Southern Methodist University), "Flooding Walcheren Island," "Literature of the Russo-Canadian Mennonites," "Kant and the Mennonites," "From Danzig to Denmark," and many others. There is also Mennonite poetry (Joanna Sudermann Andres 30, of Newton, Kansas) and Mennonite art (J. P. Klassen, of Bluffton, Ohio).

ELECTED TO MINISTRY

William Wenger, senior theological student, was made a licensed minister of the Brethren in Christ Church on March 18, at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, his home congregation. He plans to enter the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, in September. The close proximity to five churches in the district will make it possible for Mr. Wenger to serve as assistant where needed. A large part of his work will be assisting his father who is pastor of the Carlisle church.

Mr. Wenger has been active in student affairs including athletics, music, and as editor of "The College Record." He will receive the B.A. degree in May with a major in Bible and a minor in music.

ANNUAL STUDENT MISSION DRIVE

A record total of $1461.50 was subscribed during the campaign sponsored by the Mission Study Committees of the Y.P.C.A. and the Foreign Missions Fellowship.

Program for the period:

1. Ernst Harder, Paraguayan Mennonite student of the Mennonite Biblical Seminary, of Chicago, spoke at a Vesper Service on March 17 on bringing foreign students to Goshen College.
2. Monday, March 18, Frank Ventura, a member of the Mennonite Mexican-Spanish Mission in Chicago, presented the claims of the new church building for his congregation.
3. Tuesday, March 19, Mr. and Mrs. Don McCammon 45 (Dorothy Snapp 44) told of the needs of the new Mennonite mission field in China to which they and Christine Weaver 44, the College dietitian, have been appointed. Their first project will be the establishment of an elementary school.
4. On Wednesday, March 20, Gabriel Coll, a junior, Goshen's Puerto Rican student, also spoke on the foreign student project. Bishop J. D. Graber 25, of Elkhart, secretary of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, presented an over-all view of the need.

SPRING FESTIVAL

Do you old-timers remember the Vesperian Soiree? This annual event has now graduated into an all-society Spring Festival. It was held this year in the gymnasium on March 29, the outstanding social event of the year. (Apologies to Kulp Hall and Coffman Hall Open House.)

A NEW CLUB

Several missionary-minded young men and others recently petitioned the faculty for permission to organize "The Goshen College Areo Club." Dr. Glen R. Miller, professor of chemistry, was chosen as faculty sponsor. Reverend Dick Reilly 46, of Pandora, Ohio, candidate for an African Mission field, was unanimously elected president. The other officers are Paul Lederach 45, of Norristown, Pennsylvania, vice-president; J. Alton Horst 48, of Ephrata, Pennsylvania, secretary; and Wayne Brenneman 47, of Goshen, treasurer.

CONTEST WINNERS

Women's Discussion Contest sponsored by Vesperian Literary Society: first place, Kathryn Yoder, freshman, of Hubbard, Oregon. Subject: "Papa Is a Preacher."

Men's Discussion Contest sponsored by Aurora Society: first place, Ray Bair, junior, of New Springfield, Ohio. Subject: "Doors."

Peace Oratorical Contest: first place, Don Berry, junior, of Goshen. Subject: "We Must Be the World We Want." Dean Harold S. Bender annually awards a five dollar prize to the winner. Mr. Berry will represent Goshen in the state contest to be held at Manchester College about May 2.

Women's Fourteenth Annual Poetry Reading Contest, April 5, sponsored by the Avon Literary Society. Winner, Ethel Yake, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania, reading a group of seven poems written on the Goshen College campus.

The Twelfth Annual Freshman Men's Discussion Contest, Monday evening, April 8, sponsored by Waldo Thutt Stalter, member of the Class of 1927, who annually gives ten dollars in prizes to the four men placing highest in the contest: first, Richard Anderson, of South Bend; speaking on "Nuts, Bolts, and Dictionaries"; second, Orley Swartzendruber, of Pehuajo, Argentina; third, Norman Berkshire, of Elkhart; fourth, Robert Lindhorn, Goshen.

LECTURE COURSE 1945-46

Alumni may be interested in the type of numbers presented on this year's lecture course.

Rev. Guy Howard, "Walkin' Preacher of the Ozarks," October 17.

Canfield Cook, "Revolution in the Air," illustrated, November 23.

Mbonu Ojike, "Africa Speaks," December 8.

Cleveland P. and Ruth Grant, "Wild Life of Marsh and Mountain," illustrated, January 31.

Louis Untermeyer, "America's Golden Future," March 8.

The committee offered as an extra number without charge to season ticket holders, Professor and Mrs. Richard Clayton, concert artists, of Indiana University, April 18.

On account of the large student body, only one hundred and twenty-five season tickets were offered for sale. The Canfield Cook lecture (Homecoming) was given in the gymnasium, and the Grant lecture was presented in Assembly Hall before two overflow audiences, the first at 6:30 and the second at 8:15. Professor Willard H. Smith 28 has been reappointed chairman of the committee.

The new Auditorium-Gymnasium will make possible a wider service in the lecture field.

WEDDING BELLS

At the Shore Mennonite Church on the afternoon of December 15, David Derstine of Telford, Pa., and Maxine Troyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Troyer, of Shipshewana, were united in marriage. Paul Erb, of Scottdale, Pa., performed the ceremony. Mr. Derstine will graduate from the College with the B.A. degree in Bible next spring and plans to continue his work for the Th.B. degree. Mrs. Derstine had been employed in a food products store in Elkhart. Mr. and Mrs. Derstine are at home at 1106 South Eighth Street.

On December 26, at the Simpson Methodist Church in Elkhart, Marjorie Scott 46, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minard Scott, of Elkhart, became the bride of Jack Renbarger, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Renbarger, of Niles, Michigan. The bride's pastor, Rev. Harold Mohler, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Renbarger were classmates in the Elkhart High School. Mr. Renbarger attended Purdue University for three years and was a Naval Aviation Cadet stationed at Pensacola, Florida, at the time of their marriage. He has since received his commission as ensign. NECROLOGY

On November 18, a memorial service was held at the Eighth Street Mennonite Church for Lt. Harold E. Oesch who met his death near Bielefield, Germany, as a result of a mid-air collision on September 30, 1944. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Oesch 10 (Elva Garber 08), of Bristol.

Rev. Amos A. Ginder 44, aged 26, missionary to Africa, died of typhoid fever in South Rhodesia, South Africa, on November 22, after an illness of two weeks. He was stationed at the Mtshabizia Mission, superintendent of twenty-nine mission schools with seventy-five teachers and more than two thousand pupils. He was a graduate of the Manheim, Pennsylvania, High School, of Messiah Bible College, and held the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education from Goshen College. Rev. Ginder was a member of the Brethren in Christ Church. He and Mrs. Ginder, the former Verna G. Faus whom he married in June, 1941, were engaged in mission work in Virginia in 1942-43. Rev. Ginder also taught school there for one term. He is survived by his wife; his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Ginder; a brother and a sister. He was buried in the Matapo Mission Cemetery in South Africa. The untimely death of Rev. Ginder has saddened the College community where his sterling character and the beautiful home life of Rev. and Mrs. Ginder were an inspiration alike to students and faculty.

Mrs. Jonathan M. Stutzman (Berdine Thornton 22) was born May 1, 1898, at Radcliffe, Iowa, the daughter of Hervey M. and Ilora Thornton. On December 22, 1927, she was united in marriage with Jonathan M. Stutzman. With her husband and their daughter, Rachel Ann, she had lived at Midland, Michigan, for the past two years, having moved there from Benton Harbor. Following her graduation from Goshen College, she graduated from the Library School at the University of Wisconsin and was librarian in the Elkhart Public Library for a time. Funeral services were held in Midland and also in Goshen. Burial was made in Oakridge Cemetery near Goshen.

Rufus Buzzard x03, a native of Harrison Township, Elkhart County, died at New Castle, Indiana, recently. While he was a student in the Elkhart Institute, he was known as the campus poet. He is survived by three brothers, Dr. D. K. Buzzard; Rev. A. L. Buzzard, of Goshen; and John F. Buzzard, of Dunlap; and one sister, Mrs. Saloma Lehman, of Wakarusa. Funeral services were held at the Yellow Creek Mennonite Church and burial was made in the cemetery adjoining.

Mrs. Ellen Blosser, widow of the late Elder Noah Blosser, of New Stark, Ohio, and the mother of Mrs. Ernest E. Miller (Ruth Blosser 17), died on January 10 at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blosser (Grace Hostetler 16), at New Stark, Ohio.

Mary Fisher 09, born near Kalona, Johnson County, Iowa, September 4, 1886, died at her late home in Aberdeen, South Dakota, on January 21, while sitting in a chair. She attended Goshen College and taught school five years in Iowa. In 1914 she was married to Curtis C. Ziegler 10. They lived in New Paris where Mr. Ziegler was principal of the high school for three years. In the fall of 1917 Mr. and Mrs. Ziegler with their two sons, Dale and John, moved to Brown County, South Dakota, settling on their present farm, where Mr. Ziegler is known as a prominent Mercer Township farmer. Funeral services were held in the Methodist Church in Aberdeen. Survivors are her husband; three sons, Dale, John, and James; two brothers, Bishop D. J. Fisher, of Kalona, Iowa, and Professor John J. Fisher 10, of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania; and one sister, Mrs. Ella Guengerich, of Wellman, Iowa.

Dr. Ivan Baumgartner 41 died Saturday, March 23, at Marshallville, Ohio. Dr. Baumgartner was born September 21, 1919, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Baumgartner, of Marshallville. He was married at Wakarusa in September, 1941, to Mary Huntsburger. Following his graduation from Goshen College, he attended the medical school of Western Reserve University and was a member of the American Medical Association. He was recently released from service in the army medical corps in which he held the rank of first lieutenant. Surviving, in addition to his parents and widow, are a daughter, Margaret Ann, and his sister, Edna Mae Baumgartner. Funeral services were held in Marshallville and interment was made at that place.

EX-PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE PASSES AWAY

Reverend Irvin R. Detweiler 01, former Mennonite pastor, missionary, and educator, died suddenly from a heart attack at his home at 1323 South Eighth St, February 22. He was born August 24, 1873, in Souderton, Pennsylvania, the son of Joseph B. and Heddy Rutt Detweiler. He married Bertha Frances Zook. of Topeka, in 1901. Her death occurred in Goshen in 1934. In 1937 he married Esther Mishler, who survives. Also surviving are three children, Mark 32, of Goshen; James , of Burbank, California; and Mrs. Harold Shultz, of South Bend. His brother, Reverend Reuben Detweiler 09, lives in Hollywood, California.

Rev. Detweiler served as missionary to India from 1902 to 1904. In 1911 he was graduated from Goshen College with the Bachelor's degree. From 1916 to 1919 he was dean of the Goshen College Bible School and from 1919 through 1922 he served as acting president of Goshen College. During that period he organized religious education in the city of Goshen. He served as pastor of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church in Goshen from 1924 to 1931 and while serving as pastor taught Bible in the Goshen Public Schools. He was professor of Biblical literature and Greek at Bluffton College from 1930 to 1936 and then accepted Mennonite pastorates at Normal, Illinois, and later at New Stark, Ohio. He retired from his active duties several years ago. He had been suffering from a heart ailment for a number of years, but his condition had not been regarded as serious.

GOSHEN ALUMNI AT LA JUNTA

Items from the March number of the Alumnae News published by the Alumnae Association of the Mennonite Hospital School of Nursing, La Junta, Colorado:

Recent visitors of the Hospital and School of Nursing were S. C. Yoder and E. C. Bender, representatives of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, and Dean Carl Kreider 36, of Goshen College. They were here in the interest of the School of Nursing.

Mrs. Clayton Diener (Inez Snyder 43) wrote from Hutchinson, Kansas, February 15, "Clayton was released (from C.P.S.) January 7. We left Durham the 10th and came here to Kansas where we met my brother who took us to Idaho. From there we went to Oregon. We stayed there just one week and then returned to Kansas. For the next two or three years we are planning to be in China doing relief work. We had expected to leave in March, but now I don't know if we will go before April or not. We are waiting to see just when we will get everything arranged."

On February 20, Mary Gross 34 was doing private duty nursing in Peoria, Illinois. Three R.N.'s were on the same case. She had the late night shift.

Mrs. Ernest Gillis (Lilly Esch 32) is teaching English and one health class at the Fairview High School near Mio, Michigan. Hence, she and five of her children, Eugene, Jerry, Joy, John, and Joan, all are attending school at the same time.

Phebe Yoder 34 is spending a few weeks at her Alma Mater, Mennonite Hospital School of Nursing, in a refresher course in obstetrics before returning to her work in Africa.

The following Goshen College alumnae who are members of the nursing staff at the Mennonite Hospital have been elected to fill offices in the La Junta church and Sunday school for the coming year: church chorister, Maude Swartzendruber, R.N. 37; radio program committee, Edna Amstutz, R.N. 43 and Elta Yoder, R.N. x45; and the prayer meeting committee, Ethel Zook, R.N. 41.

Four Goshen alumnae were members of a freshman quartet who gave a program in song and talks at the Pueblo Mission on Sunday evening, February 17: Carol Schertz x46, Mary Short x47, Kathryn Miller x47, Edith Yordy x47.

ITEMS FROM THE 1942 CLASS LETTER

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lehman (Genevieve Warner) are living at 321 North Vine Street, Muncie, with their daughter, Annie. Dr. Lehman's internship ends June 15. After that their plans are indefinite, but he expects to be called to active duty in the army medical corps.

Jon David Byler, who is living at Okemos, Michigan, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Byler (Lois Mary Schertz), celebrated his first birthday in January. At that time he weighed thirty pounds and was thirty-two inches tall.

Lester Zimmerman was in Europe with a load of livestock while the material for the letter was being gathered.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Helfrick (Laura Blosser) were in New Jersey State Hospital at Marlboro, New Jersey, in January, but are looking forward to a return to civilian life. (By the way, the book that the C.P.S. unit at that place is preparing sells for two dollars and should be worth the money.)

Harold Mishler wrote from Mt. Pleasant State Hospital, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, that he received his discharge rather unexpectedly on January 17. His present address is rural route two, Seville, Ohio, in care of Ford R. Kreider. Mr. Kreider, a brother-in-law of Mr. Mishler, is a farmer. After Mr. Kreider was disabled by illness, Selective Service decided that Mr. Mishler would render more important service by farming for his brother-in-law than by being assistant director at Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lichti are at New Jersey State Hospital, Marlboro, New Jersey. Since November 1, Mr. Lichti has been assistant director of his C.P.S. unit. His wife has returned to the hospital and is working for one of the doctors. She is able to keep their young son, Roger Lynn, with her during her hours on duty. After work Mr. and Mrs. Lichti have their own room at the hospital.

Bennie Dwight Fadenrecht, who arrived October 4, is now old enough to stay with his parents at Ypsilanti State Hospital. Mr. Fadenrecht expects to receive his discharge in April. After that he hopes to take work leading to the Th.B. degree in some Mennonite college. Mrs. Fadenrecht is the former Ruth Zook.

Rev. and Mrs. Merle Meeden, of 6396 Gale Road, Atlas, Michigan, are enjoying their work. Mr. Meeden is pastor of a growing church at that place. Their son, Glen, is in the beginner's class in school.

Dr. Robert LaMar has been released from Public Health Service by Selective Service. Dr. and Mrs. LaMar (Freda Maust) feel that it would be foolish to leave Snow Hill, Maryland, after struggling through two years in establishing a practice and getting acquainted with the town and its people. Last summer they bought an eight-room bungalow with living quarters on the main floor and office rooms in the basement. There is a large lot to serve as a playground for Bruce, now two years old.

Lois Musselman continues to enjoy teaching at Wilmot, Ohio.

Mary Zehr, of Morton, Illinois, has a school of four girls and five boys, the same school she taught last year. She reports that Mr. and Mrs. Marion Albrecht x42 (Aleeda Sutter x41) are back from Farnhurst, Delaware, and that they plan to farm south of Morton.

Mrs. Ivan Hess (Elizabeth Buckwalter) explained her failure to write for the class letter last summer by saying that she was then on her wedding trip. She is teaching public school, grades one to eight, in an Old Order Amish community. In February her husband was helping to care for a shipload of heifers en route to Europe.

Royce A. Engle, whose son, Scott Royce, and wife, Doris Stuckey 41, are at Archbold, Ohio, expects to be released from C.P.S. in June. Royce philosophizes, "Folks and life are extremely interesting. I am glad to be alive . . . even in C.P.S."

On April 1, 1945, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lehman (Goldie Gerber) started housekeeping on the farm where Mr. Lehman had been hired man for four years. About March 1, 1946, they moved to a one-hundred-acre farm about two miles from U.S. 30. A blue-eyed son, Galen Michael, came to live with them on January 23.

Mildred Hess is completing her fourth year of teaching home economics at Jamestown (Baugo Township Schools), south of Elkhart. She teaches a class every period of the day, besides keeping an eye on the cafeteria and guiding the seniors.

Ernest W. Lehman is assistant director of the C.P.S. unit at Harrisburg State Hospital.

Gladys Widmer is busy in the office of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at 1711 Prairie Street, Elkhart. One of her duties is to mail the thirteen hundred copies, semimonthly, of the Mission News Bulletin. She is making her home in Elkhart with Mrs. Cleo Mann, whose husband is doing relief work in Belgium, and is teaching a Sunday-school class at Belmont Mennonite Church.

Mildred Witmer, of 1608 South Eighth Street, whose industry and loyalty to her class keeps the class-letter going, finds her regular work supplemented by Sunday-school activities at the College Sunday school and by extension work at the Indiana University extension center in South Bend. She has also had "opportunity to brush up a little on her housekeeping techniques since her mother broke her arm on November 1 and has been on the sick list ever since."

PERSONALS

The Mennonite Weekly Review in the issue of Thursday. March 21, 1946, has a cut of Evergreen School, No. 9, in Johnston County, Iowa, taught by L. Glen Guengerich 36, and an interesting write-up of the school as well as of Mr. Guengerich's interests and his contribution to the educational work of his community.

The Gospel Herald in the issue of March 22 contained the names of a considerable number of alumni either in C.P.S. or recently released. Andrew Bean x38 sailed for LaHavre, France, on March 14, and Howard Blosser 39 for Genoa, Italy on March 17. Mary Ellen Shoup x43, of Los Angeles, California, has been appointed for Northwestern Europe; Donña E. Yoder W.B.T., of Elkhart, Indiana, and Charles L. Cocanower, Jr., W.B.T., also of Elkhart. for Holland; Dorsa J. Mishler 42, of Shipshewana, Indiana, for Ethiopia; and Mildred Shoemaker, R.N., W.B.T., of Dakota, Illinois, for India.

The March 2 meeting of the M.C.C. Executive Committee made the following staff appointments of C.P.S. assignees. John E. Lehman 35, director at Malcolm, Nebraska; Clarence Liechty x43, educational director at Malcolm, Nebraska; Lloyd Conrad 38, unit leader at Ypsilanti, Michigan; and Arthur Weaver x45, unit leader at Union Grove. Wisconsin.

Dr. Paton Yoder 35, professor of history at Westmont College, Los Angeles, California, is enjoying a semester's leave of absence. Professor and Mrs. Yoder (Hazel Smucker 30) and family are living with Mrs. Yoder's parents at 1123 South Eighth Street. Dr. Yoder has accepted part time employment at the Independent Protection Company at 1607 South Main Street.

The address of Alice L. Aeby x31 is Apartment 11, 1111 Perry, Davenport, Iowa. It is always interesting to learn that alumni retain their interest in Goshen College and in their former instructors.

John D. Zook x20 of 204 Kelso Road, Columbus, Ohio, is a member of the executive staff of the Ohio State Chamber of Commerce and legislative representative in research in special assignments.

Edward L. Smith 22 former manager of the Ben Franklin Store at Chillicothe, Illinois, has now retired and is living at Eureka, Illinois, his former home.

Dr. John M. Kauffman DO x24 of 331 West Wayne Street, Fort Wayne, Indiana, is another successful alumnus who proves in a substantial way that his "heart is with Goshen."

Reverend Ralph M. Holdeman x30 formerly of New Paris has been appointed Assistant to the General Secretary of Christian Education and Evangelism of the Evangelical Church. Reverend Holdeman was born on May 8, 1906, united with the Evangelical Church of New Paris in 1923 and was licensed for the Christian ministry in 1928. After two years at Goshen he transferred to North Central College at Naperville, Illinois, where he received the B.A. degree. He was graduated from Evangelical Theological Seminary also at Naperville with a B.D. degree in 1932. He served as pastor of Trinity Church, Louisville, Kentucky, from 1932 to 1941, and of Bethel Church, Elkhart from 1941 to 1945. For three years he served as Secretary of the Indiana Conference and editor of the Conference Journal and of the "Indiana Conference News Bulletin" and was very active in the leadership of the Conference Centenary Crusade Program. Reverend Holdeman and Mrs. Holdeman, the former Miss Mildred Chrisman, with their daughter Margaret Rose aged 16 are living in Cleveland. Dr. Paul Conrad, M.D., x40 writes from Ethiopia, "Since we arrived in Addis Ababa most of our time has been spent in studying the country, the people, and the plans for remodeling the buildings at Hadama. We find that Ethiopia is far more civilized and modernized than we expected—i.e., Hadama at least. For instance, we will have running water, even if it does need further purification, and a compound of six good buildings besides several native huts. Flush toilets, bath tubs, septic tanks, and comfortable furniture are all among the unexpected items. Nancy and I are staying in Addis spending our time at language study and reading books on tropical medicine. The other three are at Hadama preparing the buildings to receive our equipment when it arrives. Pray for us in Ethiopia."

In the War Sufferers' Relief Bulletin for March. Clayton Beyler 43 writes an interesting article, "Six Days in a Box Car." NOTES FROM "THE THIRTY-EIGHTER"

Through the kindness of Mrs. Emanuel Hertzler (Myrtle Schnell 38) the editor of the NEWS LETTER is able to share with the alumni family high lights from the April 1, 1946, "Thirty-Eighter," one of the livest of the alumni class letters.

As mentioned in a previous issue, Don Kreider, who had been employed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System under the Direction of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland as a bank examiner in Ohio and parts of Kentucky, Pennsylvania, and Virginia, is now Assistant Comptroller of the Ohio Match Company in Wadsworth. Mr. and Mrs. Kreider (Elda Hostetler 37) and their three children, Eldon. Dierra, and Leo, live in Wadsworth. Eldon attends kindergarten.

Mrs. Lowell Weldy (Arlowene Stiver) with her husband and two children, Randy 4 and Sherry 2, are living in an immense house on a one hundred and sixty acre farm about half way between Wakarusa and Mishawaka.

Clyde E. Miller (still single) has quit teaching to accept a position as research engineer at C. G. Conns, world's largest manufacturer of band instruments. At present he is studying band instrument design and is particularly interested in a wire recorder and the Connsonate Electronic Organ.

Alvin J. Blough writes that he is still trying to be a carpenter-farmer and as a little sideline a teacher of mathematics and science at Boswell High School, Boswell, Pennsylvania. He and Mrs. Blough (Gertrude De Boes) are the parents of three children, Johnny 8 (in the third grade and taking piano lessons) Jerry 5, and Judy almost 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kreider 37 (Lois Yoder) are living near Wadsworth, Ohio, where Mr. Kreider operates a greenhouse. They and their children, Jan and Jerry, enjoy being near grandpa's farm.

Anna D. Leatherman is working on her master's thesis, a project on conservation at the Mt. Pleasant School, in the foot hills of the Blue Ridge Mountains not far from Harrisonburg, Virginia. She has two more summers to finish her work for the Masters degree taking half her work in biological science and half in nature study.

Leland Bachman is back in Morton, Illinois, at work in the church since completing his term as director of C.P.S. camps. He does part time bookkeeping for three concerns, also works some as a clerk in the local postoffice. He is serving on a C.P.S. Rehabilitation Committee for the Illinois Conference.

Eva Stouffer, keeping house for her eighty-one year old father and her brother, studies painting under the instruction of the wife of the Lutheran minister.

Lotus Troyer, released on March 1 after three years, six months, and eleven days in C.P.S. The twins now three and one-half. Mr. and Mrs. Troyer are living in Middlebury while he decides on some "place within the church to serve her and a society that so badly needs to be taught the way of love. understanding, and all the principles of the Christ way of life."

Mrs. Lester Hershey (Alta Good) is looking forward to the construction of the new building at the Mexican Mission which they hope to have by Thanksgiving. Janice Jo is very fond of her little ten months old sister, Sherilyn.

Ruby Martin and her mother spent the winter in Sarasota, Florida, where Miss Martin was employed as waitress in a drug store restaurant. She planned to return to her position in the office of the Armour Creameries at Minot, North Dakota, about May 1, where she has been employed as a part-time worker (afternoons only) since April, 1945. Miss Martin and her mother were accompanied to Florida by Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Yost 42 (Erma Martin 37) and their son, Byron, who returned to their home in Kansas by plane after an interesting trip including a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Hertzler 38 (Myrtle Schnell 38) at Gulfport, Mississippi.

The letter written by Mrs. S. Paul Miller (Vesta Nafziger) on May 21, 1945, was delayed so long that it did not reach the editor in time for publication last year. "We haven't received the "Thirty-Eighter" for some time, but perhaps it found its way to the bottom of the ocean as so many other letters did . . . everything moves slowly . . . took two men and four oxen two days to thresh about seven bushels of rice . . . Paul . . . has had up to one hundred eleven patients a day in the dispensary . . . spend my forenoons in the village with the Bible Women or supervising the Bible School . . . ever since we are living at Sankra, we have been supervising some kind of relief project . . . making brick . . . making lime . . . making a brick wall around the church yard . . . a brick wall around the garden . . . Paul pastor of the church at Sankra . . . started to Kashmir on April 30 . . . Elaine three years old July 2 (1945)." The editor adds that since this letter was written, Mr. and Mrs. Miller are the parents of a baby boy.

Ruth Ressler—"school goes on as usual—interesting and a little too complicated at times, but I do have an enthusiastic sixteen in spite of the fact that they are all morons . . . a good seventy-five per cent of them will end up with enough social poise to get by . . . My psychologist supervisor says that big, blue eyes and blond curls will go a long way toward bolstering an I.Q. of 49."

Henry Holderman writes from Elbo Woods, North Dakota, where he has been teaching Indians in the North Berthold Reservation for the past four years. "Plenty of wild game . . . pheasants . . . chicken . . . venison . . . Fishing is good . . . Reserve ideal for raising cattle . . . We are helping to start a Sunday school this year . . . The girls are fine . . . Marjorie is nine , , , Janet is seven . . . They enjoy going to school with the Indian children . . . Leona Ruth is three.

Lloyd Conrad, unit leader of C.P.S. #40 since March 1. "As your acting treasurer, I am happy to report that the class is now financially solvent having liquidated all indebtedness."

Dr. Charles Neff writes from Jerrettsville, "A lovely little village among the hills of Hartford County, Maryland . . . three miles north of the city of Baltimore . . . April 1, a month off for a rest cure . . . Orrville and Wooster, Ohio; Goshen, Chicago, then south as far as Louisiana."

Mrs. B. Frank Byler (Anna Hallman) writes from Tuleta, Texas, where they have been living since the middle of January. They have rented a small house across the street from the home of her parents, Bishop and Mrs. E. C. Hallman, and are taking Spanish lessons from a Mexican Presbyterian minister. Although Argentina has refused their second application for entrance into Argentina, they hope to enter Argentina through Uruguay.

Bertha Risser continues to teach at Hershey, Pennsylvania, and writes enthusiastically of her work as well as the church activities in their home congregation. She is looking forward to the Goshen alumni dinner at the Brunswick Hotel in Lancaster on April 27.

Emanuel Hertzler wrote the inclosure for the Class Letter while his wife was typing the other letters. Mr. Hertzler has been in Mississippi for nearly a year, Mrs. Hertzler and Barbara since December. He is laboratory technician for the County Health Department. Several other C.P.S. men are helping him as he makes a large number of tests for venereal diseases, intestinal parasites, chest X rays, disease cultures and so on. If his release comes before the end of the summer he plans to continue his present work on salary and return to school at Ann Arbor next fall.

CONFERENCE ON EVANGELISM

The Biblical Seminary of the College sponsored a special conference on evangelism on the campus on Friday and Saturday, April 12, 13, 1946, which was planned as a study conference in which outstanding practical evangelists of the Mennonite Church, together with the Biblical Seminary faculty, presented discussions of various phases of the evangelistic program of the church.

The conference was designed for the benefit of the seminary students and for the Mennonite Church as a whole. Forty to fifty Mennonite ministers, mostly evangelists, came to the campus for the meeting which was also well attended by the Bible students. The major addresses of the conference were as follows:

The Evangelistic Imperative	A. J. Metzler
The Meaning of Evangelism	Paul Mininger

The Mood of Modern Man in its Relation to the Evangelistic Task	Paul Erb
Is the Mennonite Church Today Reaching the Unevangelized world?	John Mosemann
Nineteenth Century Protestant Revivalism and its Effect on the Mennonite Church	H. S. Bender
The History of Evangelism in the Mennonite Church	John C. Wenger
The Incentives to Response to the Evangelistic Appeal	Milo Kauffman
Recovering and Maintaining Our Sense of Mission	C. F. Derstine
The Outreach of the Mennonite Church in Our Time (a) Locally (b) Church-wide	J. D. Graber

In addition to these addresses, two sessions were devoted to a discussion of (1) types of evangelism needed today, and (2) a clinic on revival meetings, in which the following persons took part: C. F. Derstine, Mary Royer, Nelson Kauffman, Jess Kauffman, Oscar Burkholder, E. E. Miller, J. R. Mumaw, Ray F. Yoder, Milo Kauffman, A. J. Metzler, and Milton Brackbill.

There was great interest in the conference, and a strong feeling that the meeting was worth so much that similar conferences should be held in the future. It is planned to publish in book form the proceedings of the conference including all the addresses.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ELECTED

Four new faculty members will join the Goshen College staff in September: Dr. Samuel A. Yoder 28, associate professor of English at Wheaton College; Dr. Alta Schrock, assistant professor of botany and acting head of the department of botany at the American University in Washington, D. C.; Roy Umble 35, instructor in speech and assistant dean of men at the University of Pittsburgh; and Miss Edith Herr, instructor in physical education in the Mountville, Pennsylvania, public high school. All of the new instructors have received offers of promotion and increase in salary to remain in their present positions and come to Goshen College at a financial sacrifice.

Transfers to Goshen from Wheaton College

Dr. Samuel Yoder, was graduated from Goshen College in June, 1928, with majors in English and social science and received the M.A. degree in English at Harvard University in June, 1929. He was granted the Ph.D. degree in English in 1937 following two years of study at Indiana University.

Dr. Yoder was instructor in English and speech at Goshen College in 1930-31, 1931-32, 1933-34, and 1934-35 and since 1937 was instructor in English at Wheaton College except for two years, 1944-46, while he was serving in relief work in Egypt and Ethiopia under U.N.R.R.A. and the Mennonite Central Committee. He is teaching at Wheaton since his return from Ethiopia. He has been elected professor of English.

Assistant Professor of Biology

Dr. Alta E. Schrock was an undergraduate assistant in botany at Waynesburg College in 1934-36 and was granted the B.A. degree from that institution in 1937. She has served at the University of Cincinnati (1937-38) and at Kent State University (1938-39) where she was granted the M.A. degree in 1939. She was a graduate assistant in biology at the U. of Pittsburgh in 1939-40 and 1942-43, receiving the Ph.D. degree from Pitt. in 1944.

Dr. Schrock has been instructor in biology at Bluffton College, 1940-41; instructor in biology, Erie Center, U. of Pitt., summer of 1943; special assistant in botany, Oberlin College, 1943-44; and graduate research worker, summer of 1944. She is now assistant professor of botany and acting head of the department at the American University, Washington, D. C. As assistant professor of biology at Goshen College, Dr. Schrock will have charge of the greenhouse and will assist Dr. S. W. Witmer in teaching courses in the biological sciences.

Assistant Professor of Speech

Roy Umble was graduated from Goshen High School in 1931, attended Wabash College in 1931-32, and Goshen College in 1932-33, where he received the B.A. degree in June, 1935, with majors in speech, English, and social science. He attended the School of Speech at Northwestern University every summer from 1933 to 1942 and during the fall quarter of 1942 when he completed his residence requirements for the Ph.D. degree with a major in public speaking and rhetoric and a minor in speech re-education.

He was granted the M.A. degree in August, 1938, with a major in public speaking and a minor in interpretation. He has done considerable work on his thesis, "Mennonite Sermons and Addresses with Biographical and Critical Essays."

Following three years of high school teaching, Mr. Umble was instructor in speech at the University of Pittsburgh (1938-1944) and served as assistant dean of men (1941-44).

From March, 1944, to March, 1946, he served in various C.P.S. units and was appointed Educational Liaison officer. Since his release from C.P.S. he is continuing his Educational Liaison work and is serving as Mennonite Central Committee representative in the cattle attendant program at New Windsor, Maryland.

Instructor in Physical Education for Women

Miss Edith L. Herr is a native of Millersville, Pennsylvania, where she was graduated from high school in 1940. Since her graduation from Millersville State Teachers College in 1944, she has been teaching physical education at the Junior High School in Mountville, Pennsylvania.

For the past two summers, Miss Herr has served at the Laurelville Mennonite Camp at Laurelville as recreational director for girls and assistant matron and counsellor. Her training and her natural ability in many sports assures the women of Goshen College a well balanced physical education program.

To Receive M.A. Degree

The return of Mr. Roman Gingerich to the College faculty after several years service in various capacities in Mennonite C.P.S. camps both in the United States and in Puerto Rico, will insure the continuation of a strong program of intramural athletics on the campus. Before being called by Selective Service, Mr. Gingerich was a popular and capable instructor at the College. He will receive the M.A. degree in physical education at the State University of Iowa at the end of the summer session.

The return of Dr. H. Harold Hartzler and the addition of Dr. Alta Schrock to the staff gives Goshen one of the strongest faculties in the Division of the Natural Sciences of any small college in the Middle West. With one exception the instructors in the Division have their Ph.D. degree from leading universities: Dr. S. W. Witmer from Indiana University; Dr. Glen R. Miller and Dr. Paul Bender from the State University of Iowa; Dr. H. Harold Hartzler from Rutgers University, and Dr. Alta Schrock from the University of Pittsburgh. Professor Olive G. Wyse has completed the residence requirements at Columbia University for the doctor's degree in home economics and is engaged in working out a program for teaching home economics at Goshen College as a project for her doctoral dissertation. The project is nearly completed.

THE ALUMNI NEWS-LETTER

ALUMNI ACCREDITMENT PLAN

Contributions for the Fiftieth Anniversary Auditorium-Gymnasium fund continue to arrive at the business office of the College and at the alumni office in substantial amounts. The loyalty of the alumni and their interest in the growth and development of their Alma Mater is most gratifying. There is still time between now and the end of the fiscal year on August 31 for any delayed alumni contributions.

According to present plans, initial construction operations will begin this fall. South Cottage which now stands on part of the area to be occupied by the foundation of the Auditorium-Gymnasium is being moved this summer to a lot one-half block west of the library on High Park Avenue, a street leading west from the railroad between the heating plant and the tennis courts and continuing west to the race. C. J. Gunden, who has shown an active interest in the work of the College for many years, is in charge of the removal of South Cottage to its new location.

Following is a list of contributors to the Fiftieth Anniversary Auditorium-Gymnasium fund from approximately April 1 to about June 27:

COMMENCEMENT, 1946

The exercises of the forty-eighth annual commencement of Goshen College began on Thursday evening, May 16, and closed on Monday evening, May 20, when one hundred and one degrees and certificates were granted to graduates of the Class of 1946. The traditional order of exercises was followed.

The Th.B. Class Program was given in Assembly Hall at 7:30 on the evening of Thursday, May 16, by the five-year graduates from the Goshen College Biblical Seminary. The Senior Class of the College, including the B.A. and B.S. in Education graduates, gave their program in the gymnasium on Friday evening, May 17. The Senior Class Breakfast was held at the Hotel Goshen on Saturday morning, May 18. The size of this year's class made it impractical to hold this traditional event on the campus or at the home of the class sponsor.

Saturday, May 18, was set aside as Alumni Day. Several class reunions were scheduled for the noon hour. The Class of 1936 met at the home of Miss Lois Winey in South Cottage. The Class of 1941, whose president, Lt. Charles W. Ainlay, of Mishawaka has just returned from Europe on terminal leave, also arranged a reunion.

The Annual Reunion

The annual reunion and banquet of the Alumni Association of Goshen College was held in the dining hall of the College on Saturday evening, May 18. Following the dinner and a brief business meeting, John Umble, president of the Association, introduced J. B. Cressman, member of the Class of 1921, as toastmaster. Dr. Glen R. Miller, senior class sponsor, presented the Class of 1946, and following their election to membership, Helen Rohrer gave the response. Mrs. Ralph Gerber, the former Elinor Smith, of Elkhart, toasted for the Class of 1936.

Dr. Samuel A. Yoder 28, associate professor of English at Wheaton College, who had been absent on a two-year leave for relief work in Egypt and Ethiopia under the Mennonite Central Committee, gave the principal address. During his stay in the Middle East, it was necessary for him to travel rather extensively in Palestine, Syria, Egypt, and Ethiopia. His address covered the high lights of his experiences as a relief worker among the Yugoslav refugees and in investigating the possibilities of relief work in Ethiopia. Music numbers were presented by Miss Mary Oyer 45 and William Wenger 46. The latter was accompanied at the piano by Carolyn Weaver 46.

The committee on arrangements in charge of the banquet was Dean Levi Hartzler 35, chairman; Christine Weaver 44, dietitian; Professor Olive Wyse 26, Misses Mary Oyer 45 and Lois Gunden 36, and Nelson Springer 41.

At the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Association ten of the eighteen directors were present in person and five by proxy. Members elected to the Board of Directors for three-year terms were Harold S. Bender 15, Dr. Carl M. Hostetler 33, J. Forrest Kanagy 30, Tillman R. Smith 28, and John Umble 01. All of the officers were re-elected with the exception of the second vice-president. Bishop George J. Lapp 02, retired Mennonite missionary to India and newly elected head of the correspondence department of the College, was elected to that position.

The Board voted to devote the income from the Alumni Endowment Fund for Goshen College (income from $10,000) to the purchase of library books as an addition to the amount specified in the annual budget.

Sunday Program

Following Sunday school, Paul Erb, former professor of English and now editor of the Gospel Herald at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, preached the morning sermon on Sunday, May 19. In the afternoon in the gymnasium, the College choruses under the direction of Professor Walter E. Yoder rendered Alfred Gaul's "The Holy City."

Following the chorus program the Class of 1946 with their parents and invited guests met at the home of President and Mrs. Miller (Ruth Blosser 17) for the president's annual tea for seniors.

Dr. Harold S. Bender 15, dean of the Goshen College Biblical Seminary, preached the baccalaureate sermon in the gymnasium on Sunday evening, using as his subject Paul's question, "Am I not an apostle?"

On Monday, May 20, the exercises began with the combined Y.P.C.A. Devotional and final chapel service in charge of President Miller. The College Luncheon was followed by an informal program in Assembly Hall in charge of Dean Carl Kreider 36.

Commencement Exercises

Dr. Dean Greer McKee, newly elected president of the Biblical Seminary of New York, delivered the commencement address in the College gymnasium on Monday evening, May 20. He chose as his subject, "What Have We Learned?"

President Miller conferred degrees on the forty members of the class who qualified for the Bachelor of Arts degree and on the eighteen who qualified for the Bachelor of Science in Education degree. Fourteen students received the Bachelor of Theology degree; seventeeen, the Associate in Arts; and three, the Associate in Arts in Bible. Two students received the certificate for completion of the one-year Christian Workers' course and nine the Secretarial Certificate.

The overflow audiences at all the main events demonstrated once more the urgent need for an Auditorium-Gymnasium.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER TO EUROPE

President Ernest E. Miller 17 left New York via American Airlines on Sunday, June 9, and arrived in London on the following day. He plans to return home about the middle of August. He is being accompanied by Dr. Ed. G. Kaufman, president of Bethel College.

President Miller has been recommended by the United States Association of Mennonite Colleges and appointed by the Mennonite Central Committee for a threefold mission as commissioner to the Northwest European Area services of the M.C.C. His first duty is to observe general relief needs in this area of Europe with the intent of being helpful to the committee in the further planning of their general relief program.

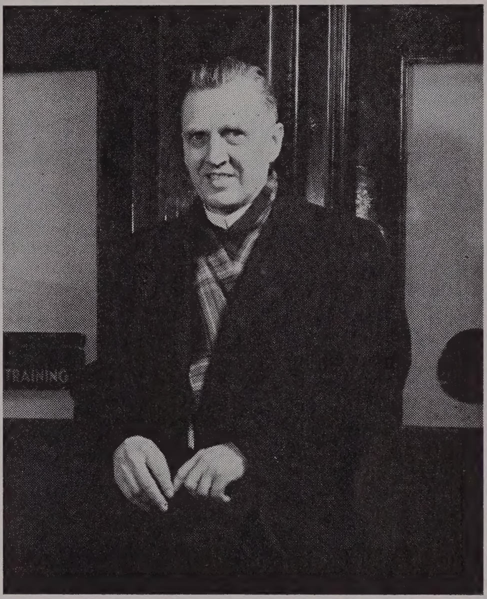
The M.C.C. now has relief workers in England, France, Belgium, Holland, and Denmark. Robert Kreider, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Kreider 15, of Goshen, is conducting preliminary investigations in Berlin. Presidents Miller and Kaufman, acompanied by Mr. Kreider and Howard C. Yoder 22, of Wooster, Ohio, plan to tour northwestern Europe by car, visiting all the Mennonite relief centers.

A second duty committed to them is to make necessary contacts and study particularly the possibility, need, and facilities for bringing students to Mennonite Colleges in the United States. The government at Washington is showing a warm interest in this phase of the trip as a means of strengthening relations between the United States and northwestern European countries. To cut the necessary red tape and make the required financial arrangements will be a task of no minor proportions.

Goshen College expects next year to enroll a number of students from foreign countries. Arrangements have been undertaken to admit students from the Middle East as well as Europe. Three Puerto Ricans are enrolled in the Summer Session and expect to continue in attendance next year.

A third phase of the work delegated to President Miller is to study, and to make contact with, European educational institutions which could be recommended to American Mennonite students wishing to do graduate study abroad. Before the war a number of Mennonite students pursued graduate study in the leading universities of Great Britain and the continent. President Miller's study is to discover suitable institutions for such students.

President Miller's itinerary as revised on June 16 is as follows: England, June 11-18; Holland, June 18-25; Belgium, June 25, 26; Paris, June 27-July 6; Switzerland, July 6, 7; Germany, July 8-22; Italy, July 22-29; and Holland, July 29-August 5. After completing their work in Holland, they plan to wait in Amsterdam for passage home.



Ernest E. Miller

During President Miller's absence routine work connected with the counseling and admission of new students will be in charge of Dr. Carl Kreider 36, dean of the college; Dr. Paul Bender, registrar; and Miss Lois Winey 36, assistant business manager. Housing of campus students will rest largely in the hands of Mr. Levi C. Hartzler 35, dean of men, and Miss Viola M. Good 38, dean of women. Miss Winey is conducting a vigorous campaign to find housing for married students and their families.

Dean Carl Kreider, chairman; Dean H. S. Bender 18; Dr. Paul Bender, registrar; Miss Lois Winey, Dean L. C. Hartzler, and Dean Viola M. Good have been appointed an interim administrative committee to take care of nonroutine college matters during President Miller's absence.

EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA GOSHEN COLLEGE REUNION

On April 27 the Eastern Alumni of Goshen College held one of the largest and most enthusiastic reunions in the history of their organization. The group met for a three-course dinner at the Hotel Brunswick in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and had invited graduates, friends, former students, and potential students.

Arrangements were in charge of Howard Musselman 29, of Orrtanna, Pennsylvania, president; J. Forrest Kanagy 30, of Biglerville, Pennsylvania, treasurer; and Abram Hallman 31, of Akron, local chairman. Roy Umble 34, of New Windsor, Maryland, served as toastmaster.

After grace by Professor J. J. Fisher 13, former dean of the College, now of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania Warren Leatherman 43 led in group singing with Mrs. Milton Smith (Gertrude Bishop x32) at the piano. Following dinner a men's quartet, Warren Leatherman 43, Harold Swartzendruber, a prospective student from Manson, Iowa, John Oyer x46, of Goshen, and Dave Shank x46, of Goshen, presented several numbers, one of which was "Teach Me Thy Truth," written by Edith Witmer and set to music by Professor Walter Yoder 33. Warren Leatherman, accompanied by Harold Swartzendruber at the piano, favored the group with a solo.

Then followed the introduction of former and future faculty members: Professor and Mrs. J. J. Fisher (Alma Warye 18); Edith Witmer, Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania; Faye Grassmeyer 21, of Greenwood, Delaware; Orie O. Miller 15, of Akron, Pennsylvania; and Miss Edith Herr, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Those coming from the greatest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Amos Showalter 18, of Harrisonburg, Virginia, and Professor and Mrs. J. J. Fisher. After electing Dwight Yoder 37, of Akron, Pennsylvania, formerly of Bellefontaine, Ohio, chairman; and Howard Musselman 29, of Orrtanna, Pennsylvania, treasurer, the group agreed to meet again next year.

Following a piano solo by Mrs. George Bishop (Verna Smith 34), President Ernest E. Miller addressed the group on "The Service of Goshen College," a subject which he divided under the following heads: to students, to faculty, to the Mennonite Church, to the alumni, and to the world at large. (Incidentally, the Alumni Office never before has received so many and such enthusiastic reports of any meeting as of this one.)

The formal program closed with the singing of the Alma Mater led by Warren Leatherman and a closing prayer led by President Miller. After the program, the group spent more than an hour in informal handshaking and visiting. The list of over one hundred and thirty people present at the reunion includes many of the most prominent names in the alumni circle as well as a large number of other loyal supporters and friends of the institution.

(The editor is sorry that space forbids printing the entire list of those present.)

REUNION OF 1936

The strenuous efforts of Glen Guengerich, president of the Class of 1936, in trying to assemble members of his class for a ten-year reunion, brought together twenty-two people who were at one time or another connected with the class. Misses Lois Winey and Lois Gunden and Mrs. Carl Kreider were the local committee on arrangements. A dessert course was served at the home of Miss Winey, Mrs. Ina K. Slate presiding at the serving table.

The following were present: Miss Lois Gunden, of Goshen; John D. Hartzler, of Metamora, Illinois; Katherine Royer, of Orrville, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Guengerich, of Kalona, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gerber (Elinor Smith), of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hartzler (Mildred Hostetler), of Elkhart; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Brunk (Ann Jennings), of Chicago; Dean and Mrs. Carl Kreider (Evelyn Burkholder), of Goshen; Carolyn Hershberger, of Chicago; Lester Hershey, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Powell (Rachel Byler), of Goshen; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gascho, of Auburn; Mrs. Slate, of Goshen; Mrs. Paul Kauffman (Retha Hostetler), of Dunlap; and Miss Lois Winey, of Goshen.

Three members of the class are on the Goshen College staff: Dean Kreider, Miss Winey, and Miss Gunden. Levi C. Hartzler, dean of men, served as president of the Class of 1936 during the year 1933-34, but completed his course with the Class of 1935.

RETIRES FROM THE COLLEGE STAFF

Mrs. Bertha Sieber (Bertha Shoemaker x08), chief cook in the Goshen College kitchen since September, 1936, retired in May after ten years of faithful service. Throughout these ten years, some of which were lean ones financially for the College with an underpaid staff and forced economical operation, she not only maintained her own cheerful even-tempered serenity but also kept up a fine spirit among her helpers in the kitchen.

Mrs. Bertha Sieber

During these years most of her income was devoted to assisting her daughters to secure the benefits of a college education and settled station in life. She enjoys the satisfaction of having seen all of them graduate and set up Mennonite homes as the helpmates of Christian young men who also are graduates of Goshen College. Elizabeth 39 is the wife of Ralph Hernley 41, ex-C.P.S. man and rising young printer employed by the Mennonite Publishing House at Scottdale, Pennsylvania. Ruth 38, after teachnig for several years, became the wife of Robert Reist 38, enterprising dairyman and citrus fruit grower of Falfurrias, Texas. He is the son of Bishop and Mrs. H. Frank Reist 04 (Lulu Greenawalt 04), of Premont, Texas. Miriam 42, poet, artist, imaginative writer, is the wife of a Mennonite pastor, Millard Lind 42, who serves the Kouts Mennonite Church. He is the son of Bishop and Mrs. Norman A. Lind x01 (Sarah Flohr x03), of Tangent, Oregon.

Mrs. Sieber also is the mother of three sons, one living in Illinois and two in Idaho. Following commencement, Mrs. Sieber, with her daughters and two of her three sons, held a family reunion at the old home at Freeport, Illinois. Following this happy event Mrs. Sieber accompanied one of her sons to Idaho where she is spending the summer. During this next year she expects to live with her sister, Stella 16, during the period that the latter's husband, A. E. Kreider 15, will be in the Far East on a mission for the Mennonite Central Committee.

EDITORIAL CHAT

The editor regrets that the large amount of campus news has crowded out a number of interesting "Personals." Two class letters, "1941," collected in March and April, and "1944," also collected in April and May, contain dozens of items that would be interesting to the alumni family as a whole.

The present issue contains an account of one of the largest regional alumni reunions. Now that gas rationing and travel restrictions have been discontinued, wouldn't it be well to revive these interesting annual affairs? Several new regional reunions should be organized. Anyone interested in securing the names and addresses of Goshen College alumni living in any particular region may have them by addressing the Alumni Office. In certain sections it is wise to include not only Goshen alumni, but also the alumni of Eastern Mennonite School and Hesston College.

Alumni are inquiring, and not without reason, about the possible publication date of the Fiftieth Anniversary Alumni Directory. It was hoped that it would be possible to print it during the past year. Elizabeth Hershberger 46 devoted approximately ten hours a week to complete the list during the past year. Others also have helped with this arduous task.

According to present plans, the copy should be ready for the printer during the next month or two. The printers have promised publication aproximately six months after they receive the copy. Announcement regarding the exact date of publication will be made in a later issue of the News-Letter.

It has been impossible to secure the addresses and present occupations of some alumni. Any alumnus who knows of someone who might have been omitted from the list on account of change of name or residence will confer a favor on the Alumni Office by sending in the name, address, present occupation, and marriage status of such persons. For completeness, the directory should list the present name, address, and present occupation of each graduate or former student together with the full maiden name of wife or full name of husband.

SPRING TERM

The 1946 spring term marks the end of the accelerated program. The large enrollment, however—one hundred and thirty—seems to indicate a demand for work of this type. Twelve regular college instructors offered twelve regular college courses giving three hours' credit in the three weeks' period from May 21 to June 7.

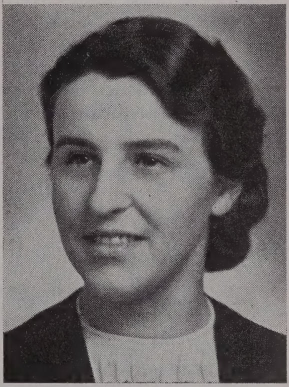
NEW MEMBERS OF THE STAFF, 1946-47

As mentioned in the last issue of the News-Letter, four new members are being added to the instructional staff for the coming year. Dr. S. A. Yoder 28, who has been associate professor of English at Wheaton College, comes to Goshen in September as professor of English. His excellent record as a student and as an instructor as well as his recent experience in relief work in Egypt make him a valuable addition to the teaching staff. Dr. Yoder is a good writer and speaker. Since returning fro mthe two-year period of service as a relief worker in the Near East, he has been teaching at Wheaton College and has received an attractive offer to continue his connection with that institution. Professor and Mrs. Yoder (Ethel Oyer 28) will occupy the first-floor apartment in south Cottage.

S. A. Yoder

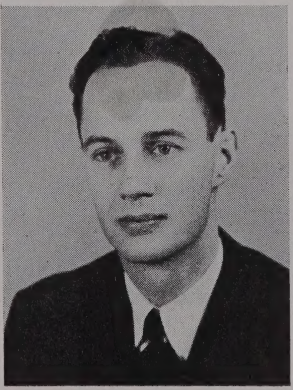
Dr. Alta Schrock of Springs, Pennsylvania, has been assistant professor of biology at the American University in Washington, D.C. She will come to Goshen in September as assistant professor of biology. She is a popular and an enthusiastic instructor in her chosen field.

The June 10, 1946, issue of LIFE Magazine under the caption, "Speaking of Pictures," describes and illustrates an experiment with microbes as directed by Dr. Schrock.



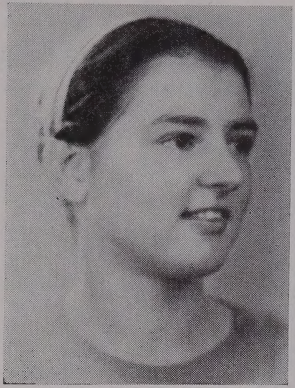
Alta Schrock

Roy Umble, who until he was called by Selective Service in March, 1944, had been serving as assistant dean of men and instructor of speech at the University of Pittsburgh, comes to Goshen in September with the title, assistant professor of speech. He will have charge of the speech courses formerly taught by Professor John Umble who is being transferred to the English department with his former title of Professor of English. Professor and Mrs. Roy Umble (Ferne Smith x35) have rented from C. L. Graber the residence at 1301 South Eight Street, now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Jonathan G. Yoder 27 (Fyrne Miller 30).



Roy Umble

Dr. and Mrs. Yoder plan to return to India during the winter.



Edith Herr

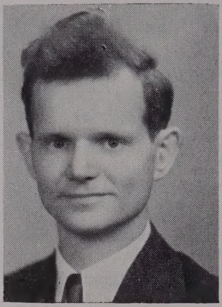
Beginning in September, 1946, the women of the College will for the first time have a full-time instructor in physical education, when Miss Edith Herr, of Lancaster comes as instructor of physical education for women. She has been teaching for several years and has spent her summers at the Mennonite Camp at Laurelville, Pennsylvania, as director of recreational activities for girls and young women.

Beulah Litwiller

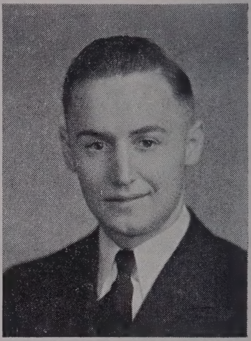
Another new member to be added to the staff is Miss Beulah Litwiller 44 who has accepted a position as assistant registrar. This will release Miss Miriam Stalter 41 for full-time teaching in elementary education. Miss Stalter attended Ohio State University during the 1945 summer session, and is enrolled there during the present summer. She will be given a leave of absence during the second semester next year in order to complete the requirements for the Master's Degree and will then continue further study in education during the 1947 summer session.

Miriam Stalter

The addition of the new instructors together with the return to the campus of Dr. H. Harold Hartzler, professor of mathematics, and Roman Gingerich 41, director of recreation and physical education instructor for men, in September, will give Goshen the strongest faculty in its history. Mr. Gingerich was granted the Master of Arts degree in physical education at the State University of Iowa in June. During the present summer he is constructing a garage-residence on his five-acre "farm" about three quarters of a mile east of the College and adjacent to the five-acre plot owned by Jacob Sudermann 32 where the latter also is constructing a temporary residence.



Harold Hartzler

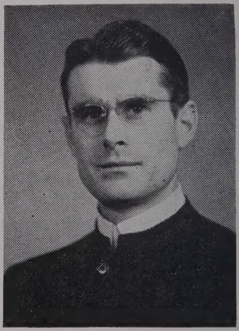


Roman Gingerich

NEW INSTRUCTORS AT HESSTON

Hesston College and Bible School announced in May the addition of four more Goshen graduates to its faculty. Naomi Brubaker 43, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, will teach courses in foods and clothing, thus relieving Miss Bertha Nitzsche 36 of part of her teaching load and enabling her to give more time to her work in the business office. Since her graduation from Goshen College, Miss Brubaker taught home economics for one year, then served as dietitian in C.P.S. camps at Sideling Hill, Pennsylvania, and Three Rivers, California. One of her hobbies enjoyed by Goshen students in her undergraduate days was taking moving pictures.

Naomi Brubaker



Laurence Horst

Laurence Horst 45, Th.B. 46, will be hall manager in the boys' dormitory, assistant to the personnel director, and instructor in Bible. He will also continue his services as pastor of the Catlin Mennonite Church near Peabody, Kansas.

Anna Shirey 45, of Canton, Ohio, will teach courses in commerce. During her undergraduate days at Goshen she was assistant to the registrar, and during the past year taught commerce in the high school at Fredericksburg, Ohio. She is assisting Dr. Paul

Bender in the registrar's office for six weeks this summer.

Orpha Zimmerly 43, of Orrville, Ohio, is to serve as head matron. For the past four years Miss Zimmerly has been teaching in the Rosewood Consolidated School near West Liberty, Ohio.

SUMMER SESSION

The enrollment for the 1946 Summer Session covering the nine weeks' period, June 10 to August 9, breaks all previous records, at least for the past twenty years. One hundred and fifty students are registered in the thirty courses being offered by the nine regular and four special instructors.

Dr. H. Harold Hartzler has returned to the campus after spending a year at Bluffton College as visiting instructor. Professor Naomi Brenneman x14, who has been a member of the faculty as visiting professor for the past year, is teaching a course in Shakespearean drama.

Mrs. H. S. Bender (Elizabeth Horsch 18), M.A., Leland Byler 38, Mus.M., and Mrs. Paul Erb (Alta Mae Eby 12), M.A., each are teaching from six to nine hours. The regular instructors employed during the summer session are Dean Carl Kreider 36 and Professors Willard Smith 28, S. W. Witmer 14, Glen R. Miller, Olive G. Wyse 26, S. C. Yoder, and Silas Hertzler 13.

Silas Hertzler

POSITIONS FOR THE CLASS OF 1946

Dr. Silas Hertzler, professor of education and psychology and Director of Teacher Training and Teacher Placement, announces the following list of 1946 graduates and their teaching positions for the coming year:

Ferne Barkey, Eden Township School, Lagrange County
Winifred Erb, Mennonite Parochial School, Johnstown, Pennsylvania
Elizabeth Hershberger, Eden Township School, Lagrange County
Rosalie Hooley, grades three and four, Millersburg
Ruby Hostetler, third grade in Elkhart Public Schools
Ruth Kreider, Wadsworth (Ohio) Centralized School
Mary K. Plank, third grade, Rosewood (Ohio) Consolidated Schools
Helen Rohrer, in Baugo Township Schools at Jamestown
Leona Trump has been offered a position in Elkhart Township Schools.
Edith Bardo, grade one, Wakarusa
Esther Eash, Mennonite Parochial School, Johnstown, Pennsylvania
Parke Lantz, grades seven and eight and grade school principal, New Paris
Sylvia Schrock, part of fourth and part of sixth grades in Concord Township School, Dunlap
Francis Troyer, upper grades and director of boys' athletics in the Hawthorne School, Elkhart
Dorothy (Shoup) Blough, music in the Wakarusa Public Schools
James Gurley, history in the Wolf Lake High School, in addition to being pastor of the Ormas Church near Columbia City, where he has been serving while a student at Goshen College
Wilma Hollopeter, home economics in Sharon, Ohio, High School
Lois Meyer, of Creston, Ohio, and Maxine Woodiwiss, of Surrey, North Dakota, are employed to teach in the public schools of Wayne County, Ohio.
Doris Miller, of Goshen, has accepted a position as instructor in home economics (foods) and manager of the cafeteria in the Wooster, Ohio, High School.
Carol Hartzler, of West Liberty, Ohio, will teach in the Monroe Township Schools near her home.
Ruby Zook, of Surrey, North Dakota, will serve as secretary to Dean Ivan Lind 35, of Hesston College.
Wanda Yoder has been offered a position near her home in Logan County, Ohio.

SECRETARIAL GRADUATES, 1946

Miss Lois Winey 36, instructor in commerce and assistant business manager of the College, is building up considerable interest in the one- and two-year secretarial courses. Students can qualify for the secretarial certificate in one year, and in two years properly qualified students complete the work for the Associate in Arts degree. Such students take the general education courses required of freshmen and sophomores, and in addition complete the courses in secretarial training.

Lois Winey

During the past year two students completed the two-year course. Genevieve Cassida, of Detroit, Michigan, was granted the Associate in Arts degree. Mary Herr, Hanover, Pennsylvania, also completed this course, but did not take the degree because she expects to return in September.

Nine students completed the one-year course and received the secretarial certificate:

Mildred Detrow, of Leetonia, Ohio, employed in the office of the Franklin Furniture Company, Columbiana, Ohio.
Rebecca Garber, of Alpha, Minnesota, doing secretarial work for her father who is an implement and Chevrolet dealer.
Ruth Keim, of Sugarcreek, Ohio, secretary for John Snyder in the Mennonite Mutual Aid office at 1413 South Eighth Street.
Betty Koerner, of Goshen, employed in the Elkhart County Welfare Office.
Josephine Lehman, of Fairview, Michigan, employed for the summer in the College offices.
June Litwiller, of Morton, Illinois, employed in her home community.
Ellen Miller, Canton, Ohio, employed in the College offices.
Irene Zehr, of Mackinaw, Illinois, employed in her home community.
Lillian Zook, of Wooster, Ohio, employed in the College offices.

The increasing number of positions open to secretarial graduates in Mennonite business firms and in Mennonite institutions makes this course especially attractive to Mennonite young women. Since preparation for the teaching profession has been extended to three and four years in some states, secretarial training now takes the place of interim employment, formerly occupied by the teaching profession.

A number of Mennonite young women also are finding through training in commercial branches an opening into the teaching of commerce subjects in high school, a new field for Mennonite young women. If they begin with the secretarial course, they lose no time in their preparation for teaching because most states now require as a prerequisite for teaching commerce all the commercial subjects offered at Goshen.

NEW SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOL SERIES

Miss Mary Royer 30, assistant professor of education, and her sister, Katherine Royer 36, of Orrville, Ohio, are spending the summer writing preschool and primary courses in the Summer Bible School Series being prepared under the auspices of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and to be published in 1947 by the Mennonite Publishing House. The Royer sisters are being assisted by Ruth Carper 46 and Norma Hostetler 44, who are doing the art work, and Elaine Sommers 47, who is serving as office assistant. Arthur Sprunger 22, instructor in art in Goshen High School and Goshen College, is editing the art work.

Other Goshen College alumni engaged in this project are Clarence Fretz 38, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, writing the eighth grade course, and Russell Krabill, Th.B. 46, preparing high school courses. Ezra Hershberger 34, Ivan Moon x44, and Paul Friesen 46 are assisting in the art work for these courses.

Two other writers, Elizabeth Showalter and Ida Boyer Bontrager, are assisting in the project. C. F. Yake, editor of the Youth's Christian Companion and secretary of the Mennonite Board of Education, is general editor of the series. His daughters Ethel 46 and Lois 47 are assisting in the general office work.

TUITION FUND FOR EX-C.P.S. MEN

The Mennonite Board of Education, which operates Goshen and Hesston Colleges, and the Virginia Conference, which controls Eastern Mennonite School, are co-operating in a campaign to raise funds to pay the tuition of ex-C.P.S. men who wish to continue their college work. The G.I. Bill of Rights which makes generous provision for the education of discharged veterans by providing full maintenance, tuition, books, and other expenses excludes ex-C.P.S. men from such aid.

An agreement between the Board of Education and the Virginia Conference provides that funds raised among the members of either constituency may be allocated to pay the tuition of ex-C.P.S. men in any of the three schools; that is, the Virginia Conference will pay the tuition at Goshen or Hesston Colleges for ex-C.P.S. men from the area served by Eastern Mennonite School and the Mennonite Board of Education will pay the tuition for ex-C.P.S. men living in the West or Middle West who wish to attend Eastern Mennonite School.

The Mennonite Board of Education has prepared a folder explaining the need and merits of the plan and directing that all contributions be sent to E. C. Bender. treasurer of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities at Elkhart, Indiana. Further information regarding the plan may be secured from Leland Bachman, Morton, Illinois.

HOUSING SITUATION

One of the problems giving the administration no end of trouble this summer is to find rooms for students. The registration of women for the coming year indicates that both Kulp Hall and Coffman Hall must be reserved for them, as was done last year. On July 1 all rooms in both halls had been reserved by women and applications were still coming in.

Dormitories for Men

Housing for men again will be provided in North Hall and Eighth Street House at 1413 South Eighth. On the campus south of the gymnasium, two large barracks-type dormitories of steel construction, twenty by one hundred and twenty, have been erected. These will be equipped with double-decker beds and built-in wardrobes which will serve to divide the dormitories into small areas giving the occupants some privacy. The dormitories will be connected by a wing containing shower baths and complete sanitary facilities. One end of each dormitory will be set off as a social room. The two dormitories will house eighty-four men.

Housing for married men, especially those with small children, has given the administration the most trouble. A canvass of the city of Goshen and surrounding territory, however, has shown that there probably will be ample housing facilities of various types for married men without children. Very few landlords will rent to families with children.

In order to help solve this last difficulty, Joseph E. Brunk 15, builder and contractor, of South Eighth Street, has purchased a large residence property on South Main near the business district and has secured the necessary permits to move it to a lot on South Ninth, not far from the Condensery. This building can be divided into four apartments, which Mr. Brunk has offered to rent to families with children. (Later.—The building was moved on July 2 and 3.)

The tremendous increase in student enrollment in September will necessitate serving meals in the dining hall cafeteria style. This probably will mean schedule difficulties, a problem with which Dean Kreider is wrestling at the present time.

DOCTOR WITMER DISCOVERS RARE PLANT

The following article appeared in the June 21 issue of the News Democrat of Goshen:

"Dr. S. W. Witmer, professor of biology at Goshen College, whose work in bird-banding has attracted the attention of scientists and scholars throughout North America, is credited in the current issue of a leading journal in systematic botany with the discovery within the boundaries of Elkhart County of one of the rarest species of North America plants: Iliamna remota, variety Typica.

"This plant grows wild in only three known locations in the world; in Illinois on an island in the Kankakee River, in the westernmost county of Virginia, and in a single small area in Elkhart County. It is a member of the mallow family with large showy flowers and somewhat resembles a hollyhock. The name, Maple-Leaved Globe Mallow, has been suggested and used as a non-technical name for the species.

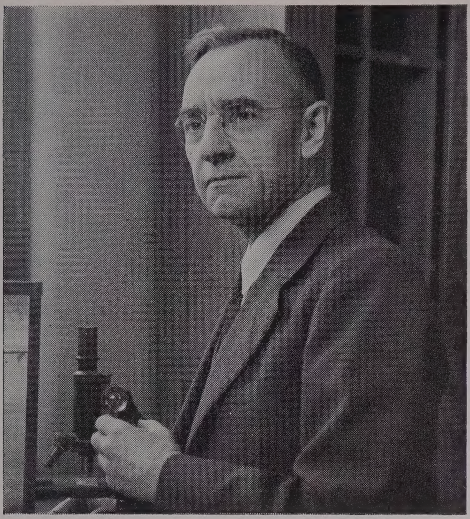
"For many years this species was know only from Kankakee, Illinois, near which it was discovered in the year 1872. By 1920 the plant seemed doomed to complete extermination, as only a single plant was then found growing wild. Within recent years, however, the area has not been cultivated and at the present time several plants are growing there.

"In 1927 some botanists found about fifty plants of this species growing in the westernmost county of the state of Virginia. These plants belong to the same species but to a different variety—the variety, Corei.

"As already stated, the Elkhart County plants belong to the variety, Typica. When Dr. Witmer discovered them, he collected and mounted several specimens to make the discovery authentic. These have been deposited in the Chicago (Field) Natural History museum.

"Botanists are particularly interested in Dr. Witmer's discovery because the Elkhart County location constitutes one of the three places where this species is known to grow in nature and one of only two places where this particular variety—Typica—is known to grow."

Professor Samuel Wenger Witmer, Ph.D., 14, from the standpoint of length of service, is the dean of Goshen College instructors. Since he received the degree, Master of Arts, in 1915, he has served Goshen College continuously as teacher in the field of the biological sciences except for the year that the College was closed when he taught in Bluffton College, for the period when he was absent on leave to complete the requirements for the doctorate, and for the semester when he and his family lived and studied in the Republic of Mexico.



S. W. Witmer

Professor Witmer has transplanted a single specimen of Maple-Leaved Globe Mallow into his back yard where it thrives as a large showy plant with rose-white, cuplike flowers. It began flowering in June and probably will continue into August.

HUSBAND AND WIFE RECEIVE Ph.D. DEGREES

The News Democrat of Goshen carried the following item in the June 20 issue in regard to the commencement exercises of Purdue University in which Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Thomas 34 (Orpha Mae Huffman 36) each received the Ph.D. degree:

"Doctor of philosophy degrees will be presented to a husband and wife, graduates of Goshen College, during Purdue University's eighty-third commencement program at Lafayette next Sunday [June 23.]

"Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Thomas, who graduated from Goshen College in 1934 and 1936, respectively, and are former Purdue staff members, will be honored for extensive studies in their chosen fields.

"Mr. Thomas, of Middlebury, is a mycologist for the Lederle Laboratories, New York pharmaceutical firm, while his wife, the former Orpha Mae Huffman, former mathematics teacher in an Elkhart junior high school, is an instructor in institution management and assistant manager of the cafeteria at the Columbia University teachers' college.

"Both are graduates of Hoosier high schools, Mr. Thomas at Millersburg and Mrs. Thomas at Goshen. Mr. Thomas, after receiving degrees at Wittenberg and Goshen colleges, was awarded the M.S. degree in botany at Purdue in 1940 and served as a member of the agriculture research staff in 1942-43. Since 1943 he has been with the Lederle Laboratories.

"In addition to bachelor degrees from MacMurray and Goshen colleges, Mrs. Thomas holds master's degrees from Michigan State College and Teachers' College, Columbia University. She launched a teaching career at Madison High School, St. Joseph County, in 1927, and taught at Central Junior High School, Elkhart, from 1928 to 1938. She was supervisor of student employees at the Michigan State College union building in 1938-39, and then served as instructor in institution management at Purdue from 1939 to 1942. She has been on the Columbia University staff since 1942."

A. E. KREIDER APPOINTED SPECIAL COMMISSIONER BY M.C.C.

"The Rev. A. E. Kreider [15] will resign September 1 as pastor of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church to accept appointment by the Mennonite Central Committee as its special commissioner in the Far East, it was announced in this week's church publication, 'The Eighth Street Messenger.'

"Mr. Kreider's duties as commissioner will be to visit and counsel with the Mennonite relief units in India, China, and the Philippines and to investigate needs in other areas.

"After accepting the resignation, the congregation, at its annual meeting this week, voted unanimously to extend a call to the assistant pastor, the Rev. Robert Hartzler [41]. Mr. Hartzler has as yet made no expression as to whether or not he will accept the call.

"Coming to Goshen three years ago from Bethel College, Kansas, where he was a member of the faculty, Mr. Kreider succeeded the Rev. George Stoneback. The latter is now at Fairfield, Pennsylvania.

"Mr. Kreider will leave in October to begin his trip through the Far East."—News Democrat of Goshen, issue of Friday, June 14.

GOSHEN ALUMNI GRADUATE AT LA JUNTA

Three former students of Goshen College were members of the class of sixteen graduate nurses at the twenty-sixth annual graduating exercises of the Mennonite Hospital Training School of Nurses at La Junta, Colorado, on June 18: Betty Augsburger x47, of Middlebury; Martha Grove x45, of Hagerstown, Maryland; and Marnetta Yake x44, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania.

In the commencement program Nora Miller, R.N. 39, class sponsor, presented the class. Maude Swartzendruber, R.N. 37, director of the nursing school, conducted the candle lighting service and administered the pledge to the graduates. Bishop Allen H. Erb x11, superintendent of the hospital, presented the diplomas. Bishop Joseph D. Graber 25, former India missionary and now secretary of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, was the commencement speaker.

A complete and very interesting account of the graduating exercises, written by Maude Swartzendruber, was printed in the June 27 issue of the Mennonite Weekly Review. A similar account appeared in the July 2 issue of the Gospel Herald.

OCEAN-GOING COWBOYS

Thirty-two high school and college men from Mennonite communities, who volunteered to serve as attendants on livestock boats this summer, left Newport News, Virginia, on the Liberty Ship, Stephen Mallory, on June 19. The ship carried a load of horses to Poland for U.N.R.R.A.

The group, known as the Gingerich-Oswald crew, includes a number who are well known to many Goshen alumni. Professor Melvin Gingerich, Ph.D., 26, of North Newton, Kansas, is ship supervisor, and Professor Walter Oswald, M.A., 21, of Hesston, Kansas, crew leader.

Following are some of the men known to a considerable number of Goshen alumni: Delmar Byler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Byler, of Akron, Pennsylvania; John Keith Miller, son of Professor and Mrs. Glen Miller (Pearl Klopfenstein), of Goshen; John Hess 47, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania; Byron Bender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra C. Bender, of Elkhart; Delbert Erb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Erb (Alta Mae Eby 12), of Scottdale, Pennsylvania; Owen Gingerich, son of Professor and Mrs. Melvin Gingerich (Verna Mae Roth x29), of North Newton, Kansas; Ronald Graber, son of Bishop and Mrs. J. D. Graber 25 (Minnie Swartzendruber 27), of Elkhart; John Harshbarger, son of Mrs. Eva Geiger Harshbarger and the late Professor Emmett Harshbarger, of North Newton, Kansas; Murray Krabill, of Wayland, Iowa, brother of Vincent and Russell; Albert Meyer, son of Professor and Mrs. J. C. Meyer 15 (Esther A. Steiner 21), of Sterling, Ohio; Robert Kauffman, son of Mrs. Mabel Erb Kauffman, of Hesston, and the late James A. Kauffman x07; Edgar J. Metzler, son of Bishop and Mrs. A. J. Metzler, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania; Jon E. Moyer, brother of Anna Mae Moyer 43, of Elkhart; Robert Ramseyer, son of President and Mrs. Lloyd Ramseyer, of Bluffton, Ohio; and Leonard Smucker, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Smucker 18 (Mary Lantz x21), of Bluffton, Ohio.

The vessel developed engine trouble during the first two days out of Newport News and put in at Boston for repairs before proceeding to Europe. During those two days the boat encountered rough weather and some of the men became seasick.

ACHIEVES THE DOCTORATE

On June 4 Miss Olive Gertrude Wyse 26 reached the end of the long arduous journey leading to a diploma granting her the degree of Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) at Columbia University.

Dr. Wyse was graduated from Goshen College in 1926 with the Bachelor of Arts degree; from the State University of Iowa in 1933 with the degree, Master of Science. During the following years she did additional study at the University of Chicago and at Columbia University.

Olive Gertrude Wyse

She has served her Alma Mater continuously since her graduation, first as instructor in the Goshen College Academy, 1926-32, and then successively as instructor and assistant professor in the College from 1933 to 1945. She now holds the title, Professor of Home Economics.

For her doctoral dissertation, Professor Wyse made a study of the present occupations and needs of Goshen College students who have had home economics courses here and then organized a course which would meet the requirements and interests of the Goshen College constituency. She is to be congratulated on being the first woman graduate of Goshen College since the reorganization of the institution in 1924 to achieve the doctorate. The department of Home Economics of Goshen College now promises to rank with that of the best small colleges in the Middle West.

MENNONITE LIFE

The second issue of Mennonite Life is just off the press. With this issue the publication becomes a quarterly, although previously announced as a semiannual publication. The magazine, "An Illustrated Quarterly on Mennonitism the World Over," aims to cover every area of Mennonite life and activities wherever Mennonites may be found—religion, culture, art, literature, economics.

Two of the leading articles in the current issue are Albert M. Gaeddert's "What Have We Learned from Civilian Public Service" and M. S. Harder's "My Father," a biography of a Mennonite leader, educator and minister, well known among General Conference Mennonites.

Other articles which should prove interesting to a wide circle of readers are an editorial, "Can These Bones Live?" by the editor, Dr. Cornelius Krahn; an article, "A Mennonite Encyclopedia," by Dr. Harold S. Bender 15, dean of the Goshen College Biblical Seminary; and the well-illustrated articles, "Pioneering in British Columbia," "Experiences of the Dutch Mennonites During the Last World War," and "Christian Love in Action—The Hutterites," the latter by Dr. Robert Friedmann 44. Readers will enjoy also the examples of the work of two Mennonite artists, J. P. Classen, of Bluffton College, and Arthur Sprunger 22, instructor in art at Goshen College.

The publication promises to be recognized as a "must" on the magazine list of any reader interested in Mennonite culture. Its beauty and value must be seen to be appreciated. The address of Mennonite Life is North Newton, Kansas. The price for four issues is $2.00 ($2.30 for Canadians).

NECROLOGY

Priscilla Adeline, daughter of Jacob and Barbara (Kurtz) Umble, of Gap, Pennsylvania, was born on October 14, 1862. On January 18, 1883, she was married to Samuel E. Allgyer and moved to Ohio where she reared a family of eight children, six of whom attended Goshen College: Barbara x07 (Mrs. Earl M. Yoder x10), deceased; Roy 15, of Chevy Chase, Maryland; Anna 20 (Mrs. A. Ray Eschliman), of Wenger, South Dakota; Ruth x24 (Mrs. John Gaius Baumgartner x23), of Princeton, New Jersey; Maurice x26, of Columbus, Ohio; and John x29, of Plain City, Ohio. The eldest daughter, Eva, wife of Bishop Noah Troyer, of West Liberty, Ohio, is the mother of Luella x32 (Mrs. L. J. Martin 29), of Goshen; Raymond 36, of West Liberty, Ohio; and Earl x45, also of West Liberty, Ohio. The third daughter, Maude, deceased, first wife of Dan C. Yoder, of West Liberty, Ohio, was the mother of Dr. C. Richard 37, of Chicago, and Jay Warren x44, of West Liberty. Mrs. Allgyer died on April 23 while asleep. Interment was made in the cemetery near the Oak Grove Mennonite Church southeast of West Liberty.

Emma Lefever 98 was born November 12, 1876, at Sterling, Illinois. On July 6, 1898, following her graduation from Elkhart Institute, she was united in marriage to Noah E. Byers, then principal of the Institute. She died at her home in Bluffton on April 27. She was the mother of two sons: Cecil Floyd, born at Elkhart in 1901, general manager of the Goshen Condensery; and Robert, of Lakewood, Ohio, consulting engineer for the firm of John Paul Jones, Architects, in Cleveland. Burial was made in the Bluffton Cemetery.

Amelia Alice, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Horst) Weaver, was born in Mahoning County, Ohio, November 12, 1869, and died at her home in Orrville, Ohio, May 29, 1946. On June 23, 1890, she was united in marriage to John H. Eshliman. They resided in Stark and Wayne counties until 1942 when her husband passed away. She is survived by two daughters and four sons. She was the mother of Ray 20, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Nora x23 and Irene 33, both of Orrville.

John Gaius Baumgartner 23 was born near New Stark, Ohio, on April 22, 1899, and died at Portsmouth, Ohio, of a heart attack on June 20. He matriculated at Goshen College in September, 1919, and completed the work for the B.A. degree in 1923. Later he attended Bluffton College and was united in marriage to Ruth Allgyer x24, a graduate of Bluffton College and the daughter of Bishop and Mrs. S. E. Allgyer, of West Liberty, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner are the parents of three daughters. Both Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner were members of the Westminster Choir. Professor Baumgartner also served as baritone soloist. She is survived by her husband and three children: Walter, a civilian under the U.N.R.R.A. at Rome, Italy; Mrs. C. C. Berkey, of Filer, Idaho; and Robert S., of Twin Falls, Idaho. After her marriage she completed her term as instructor in the business department of the Elkhart Institute, then moved with her husband to Goshen, Indiana, to serve in the Clinton Brick congregation where he had been ordained to the ministry. In 1907 they accepted a call from the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities to open a city mission in Toronto, Ontario. After four years of service as superintendent and matron, they moved to Cullom, Illinois, to take charge there. In 1913 they moved to Filer, Idaho, and became charter members of the Mennonite congregation at that place. Interment was made in the Memorial Park Cemetery at Twin Falls.

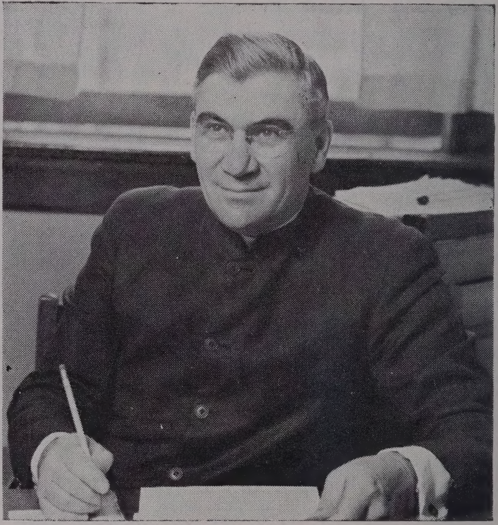
PERSONALS

C. L. Graber, business manager of the College, who has been in the Philippines and China setting up relief work under the Mennonite Central Committee, returned to the Philippines on June 6, bringing with him Dale Nebel, one of the workers from China who was a member of the Relief Training Unit on the Goshen campus in 1943. Mr. Nebel, who will serve as director of the Mennonite Central Committee Unit to be set up in the Philippines, wrote from Manila about June 12: "We have now been here five days and have spent nearly all that time renewing contacts which Graber made en route to China. Through these contacts we have available to us a 50-bed hospital with full dental equipment and supplies and a number of army surplus vehicles. We hope to get some vehicles that can be shipped to China."



C. L. Graber

Dr. James Brenneman x37, who has been practicing medicine at Moundridge, Kansas, has sold his office and equipment and will be sent to the Philippines to do hospital work under the Mennonite Central Committee.

Ivan Lind 35, dean of Hesston College, is continuing his graduate work this summer at Greeley, Colorado.

Marian Messner 35, instructor at Hesston College, accompanied a ladies' quartet from that institution on a singing tour through the Dakotas, Montana, Minnesota, and Iowa at the close of the school year.

Three members of the faculty of Hesston College and Bible School are spending the summer doing graduate work at the University of Wisconsin: Melva Kauffman 44, Alice Buckwalter 45, and Lois Litwiller 44.

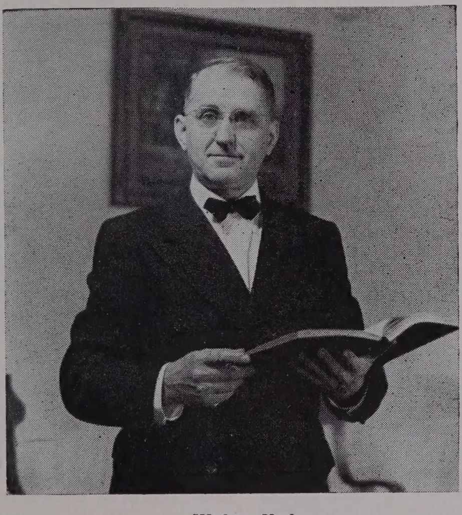
Roy D. Roth 43, Th.B. 44, pastor of the Pleasant Hill Mennonite Church near Peoria, Illinois, is continuing graduate work at Princeton Theological Seminary this summer. During his absence Wilfred Ulrich 45 is acting pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Holderman 38 (Frances F. Holderman 39) and family arrived in New York on furlough from Argentina on May 28. They will spend part of their furlough with Mrs. Holderman's parents in New Jersey and with Mr. Holderman's parents in Colorado.

On May 15, Weyburn Groff 44, Th.B. 45, underwent an appendectomy. Mr. and Mrs. Groff (Thelma Miller 44), with Lena Graber, R.N., 42, and Florence Nafziger, R.N., 45, attended the Hindi Language School at Landour during May and June.

Dr. George D. Troyer x16 wrote from Aibonito, Puerto Rico, on May 31: "We were fortunate to get 4,000 feet of lumber for our tabernacle. Tomorrow we expect to get the corrugated roofing and hope to proceed rapidly with this building. It will consist of ferroconcrete pillars, corrugated iron roof, with canvas sides that can be rolled up."

The Mission News Bulletin carried the following extract of a letter written from Chaco, Argentina, by J. W. Shank 10, on May 28: "I accompanied my wife to the hospital in Buenos Aires where she had a slight operation for varicose veins. She expects to get home at the end of this week. She had been in a very painful condition for about six weeks. The local doctor told us that she could not be taken care of here. We found a good doctor at the British hospital and she is much improved. While in the city I could get two critically needed tires and brought them home on my ticket."



Walter Yoder

Professor Walter E. Yoder 33 has been conducting "Church-Music Weeks" in Mennonite congregations in the United States and Canada. He conducted such a Church-Music Week in Ontario, June 9-16, in which sixteen different congregations participated. There were afternoon meetings the first Sunday at Waterloo and the second Sunday at Kitchener. Evening meetings during the week were held at Elmira, Waterloo, Blenheim, Hagey, Kitchener, and Breslau.

Frank Umble x31, ethyl blender and octane machine operator in the Champlin Oil Refinery at Enid, Oklahoma, visited his parents, Professor and Mrs. John Umble 01 (Alice Landis 01), of 401 College Avenue, during the last two weeks of June. The Champlin plant in which Mr. Umble is employed is one of the few remaining independent oil refineries. The plant processes 17,000 barrels of crude oil per day, and Mr. Umble's particular task is to dye and lead the nine to ten thousand barrels of gasoline per day and to determine the octane test. Mrs. Umble, the former Loree Hammer, is employed as a secretary in the Champlin Company's offices in Enid and was unable to arrange a vacation at this time.

Dr. Clarence B. Hostetler x42, D.V.M., is county veterinarian of Cook County which includes the entire Chicago area. He is the youngest veterinarian ever appointed to this office. Dr. and Mrs. Hostetler and Tanya Lee reside at 1381 Whitcomb Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois.

The address of Edna G. Hostetler x40 is Eleanor Club Three, 4649 South Woodlawn Avenue, Chicago 15, Illinois.

Gerald D. Boshart, of 1512 Timea Street, Keokuk, Iowa, is teaching music in the Keokuk Schools.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roy King, of Haddonfield, New Jersey, were pleased to welcome them in a visit in Goshen over the week end of June 23. Mr. King, a former resident of Goshen, did relief work in the Near East with Dr. Silas Hertzler 13 and Mrs. Cleo Mann, of 211 Cleveland, Elkhart, Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. King and their two sons Roy and Donald, were returning from Helena, Oklahoma, where they had visited Mr. King's father, Benjamin J. King x07, retired building contractor. Mrs. Benjamin J. King, the former E. Irene Lighthall, also was a student in Goshen College. She died in 1937.

Professor John C. Wenger 34 was director of the Young People's Conference which opened the 1946 season of the Laurelville Mennonite Camp, near Mt. Pleasant, Pennsylvania, on June 26. Professor Wenger is spending most of the summer writing for the Mennonite Publishing House. He has just completed a revision of "Glimpses of Mennonite History" which is now on the press.

Professor Guy F. Hershberger is spending the summer writing on various phases of pacifism. His book, War, Peace, and Nonresistance, is now on the press for a second printing.

Elsie White, R.N., 46, of Wichita, Kansas, will serve on the faculty and nursing staff of the Mennonite Hospital and Training School for Nurses at La Junta, Colorado, during the coming year.

At the second Youth Conference of the Sunnyside, Britton Run, Beaver Dam, and New Wilmington congregations near Meadville, Pennsylvania, on June 8, 9, T. H. Brenneman 37 and Lester Glick x41 were two of the four guest speakers.

On June 12. Dr. and Mrs. W. Delmar Hershberger 27 (Mary Martin 29), of Princeton, New Jersey, called on friends at the College. Dr. Hershberger had attended the Conference on Molecular Spectroscopy at Columbus, Ohio, sponsored by the University of Michigan and Ohio State University, and had delivered an address on "Absorption of Micro-Waves," a paper in the field of infrared which has come out of his study of short waves during the past dozen or more years.

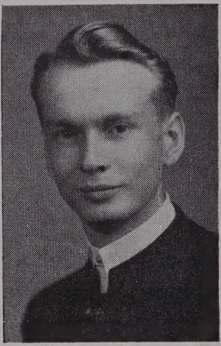
Carol Glick 41, who has been teaching in the Baptist Academy at Barronquitos, Puerto Rico, flew to the states and spent part of her vacation at the College late in June.

Albert Buckwalter x44 transferred to Buckingham Side Camp (C.P.S.) at New Ramer, Colorado, in June.

Faith Stalter x49, a member of the summer service unit at the Cleveland State Hospital, is enjoying her work and the fine group of men and women who compose the unit.

Nettie Glick 42, who has been teaching in the American Community School at Beirut. Lebanon, meets many people who are acquainted with Goshen College students or alumni. In May she was planning to spend part of this summer at one of the M.C.C. relief centers in France. She finds Beirut a very interesting place. She and Gladys Hershberger 37 visited Damascus, Jerusalem, and Bethlehem on Christmas Eve, and many other places of Biblical and historical significance. Mail, however, is very irregular and in other respects also they are rather isolated. The newspapers are usually one and at the most two pages, highly colored by British opinion, which is not always flattering to American politicians.

The following item appeared in the July 2 issue of the Gospel Herald: "The directors of the Mennonite Community Association met at Greensburg, Pennsylvania, on June 26 to consider various matters concerning its organization and the launching of its proposed periodical. The Mennonite Community. It was planned to begin publication in January, 1947. Bro. Grant Stoltzfus [41] is editor of the new magazine, and other members of the staff are H. Ralph Hernley [41], Harold Mishler [42], G. F. Hershberger and Paul Hertzler."



Grant Stoltzfus

Dr. Dana Troyer wrote on April 14 from Dhamtari, India: "It is a few days less than two months now that I arrived here. The time has passed rapidly. Every week I have spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Sankra. Tuesday is the big clinic day at Sankra, on which there are about fifty to eighty patients to take care of, including lepers. On Wednesday we make the leper clinic, started by the Friesens, along the road toward Drug. We try to treat mainly lepers because the clinic is for them, but there are others who come.

"I have done several majors this month, including a ruptured appendix for Dariyad, one of our evangelists, and I am thankful he is still living, and back on his feet. Also I have done some minor surgery."

Lawrence Burkholder, B.D., 39 has consented to remain in China for an additional period to help the Mission Board with the problem of finding a suitable location for opening mission work in China and making the necessary arrangements incident to the opening of a new work in a new land. Mrs. Burkholder (Harriet Lapp 37) and children, Myrna Rachel and John Howard, expect to leave for China as soon as necessary arrangements can be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton C. Vogt 27 and family left India on furlough on the S/S Belle of the West on May 6 and arrived in Baltimore about the middle of June. They expect to live in Hesston, Kansas, for the next three years. Mr. Vogt will teach in Hesston College.

Irene Zook 29, of Bridgeville, Delaware, returned to her nursing position after spending four months with her family in Pasadena, California. The trip was climaxed by a plane ride across the continent.

Lt. Orus Jessup x36 was released from the U.S. Navy in January and at once resumed teaching social science and mathematics in junior high in Columbus, Ohio, where he had been teaching before he was called by Selective Service. Mr. and Mrs. Jessup live at 168 West Weber Road, Columbus, Ohio.

The present address of Walter C. Zehr x32 is 314 South Mesa, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Yordy 45, Th.B. 46, (Ruth Pauline Miller x45) are located in the Mennonite Mission at Perryton, Texas. During the past year while Mr. Yordy completed the work for the Th.B. degree, Mrs. Yordy was employed as secretary in the Mennonite Mutual Aid offices in Goshen. Richard Showalter, pastor of the Perryton congregation, is living in Goshen with his family and will be a student in the College next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Orie O. Miller 15 (Elta Wolf 12) left Akron, Pennsylvania, on June 12 on a commissioner-visit to South America where they will review the relief program among the Paraguayan Mennonites and visit the Mennonite colonies in Brazil. Before returning to the States in the latter part of July, they plan to visit the La Plata project in Puerto Rico.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Diener (Inez Snyder, R.N., 43) arrived in Shanghai on June 11 on their way to the interior of China where they will engage in relief work under the M.C.C.

Dr. and Mrs. Paton Yoder 35 (Hazel Marie Smucker 30) and family, who have been spending a short leave in Goshen, have returned to Santa Barbara, California, where Dr. Yoder is professor and head of the department of history in Westmont College. He has been offered a position as academic dean of the institution.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Mininger x36, of Cleveland, have moved to Elkhart, Indiana, where Dr. Mininger is engaging in private practice. He had been assistant superintendent of the Cleveland, Ohio, City Hospital.

Donald King, Th.B. 46, formerly of Crystal Springs, Kansas, has been chosen pastor of the Pigeon Mennonite Church at Pigeon, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. King moved to their new location in June. Mr. King is the son of the late minister, L. Oliver King, and grandson of the late Bishop Tillman Erb, both of Kansas.

Elizabeth Hershberger 46 was director of the summer Bible school of the College congregation in June. The enrollment was 173 with an average attendance of 155.

Professor and Mrs. J. Harold Smith 32 (Mildred Risdon 33), who have been living on the Gerald Kreider farm northwest of Goshen, have moved to Olin Park, rural route four, Madison 5 Wisconsin, where Professor Smith is attending the University of Wisconsin doing graduate work in English with the ultimate objective of securing a Ph.D. in that field.

Gladys "Gladdie" Burkhart 32, known to alumni in the thirties as secretary to former president, Dr. S. C. Yoder, and more recently as a T.V.A. secretary, visited with friends in Goshen on her return from Europe last spring and then accepted a secretarial position with the National News Service in New York. She now is enjoying her work as secretary to Harvey D. Gibson, president of Manufacturers Trust Company, of 55 Broad Street, New York City. The accompanying cut used in the Maple Leaf at her graduation still is an excellent likeness.

Gladys Burkhart

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kowallik (Betty Trump 39) moved last year from North Manchester to Jacksonville, Illinois (522 Henry Street), but they hope to be back in Indiana by autumn. During the year 1944-45, Mrs. Kowallik taught the fifth and sixth grades in North Manchester. During the past year, however, she is "enjoying one child, Dick, who is at the interesting age of two."

AIR VIEW OF GOSHEN COLLEGE CAMPUS, 1946

Above is a recent view of the campus taken from the air and looking south. The Administration Building and Science Hall are shown in the center. In the foreground at the extreme right is part of North Hall. South of this, along Ninth Street, is Coffman Hall Annex, the residence of the dean of men and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Levi C. Hartzler 35. Next is Coffman Hall, then the gymnasium, then the quadrangles furnishing temporary housing for men. South of the quadrangle stands the old interurban substation and to the left of it, the new heating plant.

On the right side is Kulp Hall with the annex known as the Health Center; beyond Kulp Hall, the library with a triangular roof, and still farther south, South Cottage, which has now been moved one half block west of Main Street directly opposite the library in order to make room for the proposed auditorium-gymnasium. The latter will extend, north and south, from High Park Avenue south of the library to a point in the driveway south of the former location of South Cottage. The main part of the auditorium will extend from approximately the west side of the former location of South Cottage to a point nearly at the edge of the shadows on the right of South Cottage.

The Student Center and a small auditorium connecting the Student Center with the main auditorium will occupy part of the space now used as a garden. The proposed women's dormitory may be located in a space on the front campus north of Kulp Hall and the proposed chapel and Bible school building in the center foreground between the main sidewalk and the driveway on the left.

ALUMNI DIVISION OF THE GOSHEN COLLEGE ACCREDITMENT PLAN

The months of August and September are a slack time so far as alumni contributions to the financial program are concerned. Several generous contributions, however, have been received during this time. All alumni contributions made since approximately July 1 will be acknowledged in the next issue of the NEWS LETTER.

As stated elsewhere, alumni contributions for the coming year will go toward the erection of a student center including snack shop, cafeteria, bookstore, post office, and additional recreational facilities for the students of Goshen College.

NEW PLANS FOR THE AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM

While it is impossible at present to secure building materials to erect the proposed Auditorium-Gymnasium, the administration is proceeding with plans for the building and also with plans for raising an additional amount to insure the proper completion of the building.

The architects, Bauer and Eash, of Traverse City, were on the campus early in October with suggestions for making the building more practical and usable. According to the plans now favored by President Miller, the building would serve a threefold purpose. It would be, first of all, an auditorium to accommodate the large numbers of Goshen College alumni and friends who crowd our present auditorium during Christian Life Conference, commencement, Home-Coming, and similiar occasions.

But it is to serve also as a gymnasium. According to present plans, when the entire floor is in use, it would provide a regulation-size basketball floor with plenty of room for bleachers on the sides. It can also be divided in the middle so as to provide two practice floors which might be in use at the same time. This would allow for men's and women's classes in physical education to meet in the same building at the same time but with a steel folding door between the two areas.

A third use of the building is to be as a student center. An annex at the north, approximately 34 x 92 feet, would provide space for snack shop, cafeteria, and bookstore. Under this is to be a full-sized basement to provide storage space for supplies of various kinds. Adjacent to this part of the building and connecting it with the main auditorium is to be a small auditorium which can be used for smaller meetings and also for student recreation.

The additional amount of money required to complete this threefold building, auditorium, gymnasium, and student center, is estimated at approximately one hundred thousand dollars. The Board of Education is planning to continue the campaign for funds for this building during the coming year.

Other pressing building needs also have become evident during the past few years. With the enlarged student body and especially with the increase of the freshman class which indicates that the present increase in enrollment is likely to be permanent, there is urgent need for a women's dormitory. This is estimated to cost one hundred and sixty-five thousand dollars. The crowded condition of the present Assembly Hall at chapel time points to the necessity of a new chapel, also. The estimated cost of this building is seventy thousand dollars.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association, the committee decided in consultation with the administration to undertake as the alumni project for this year the raising of twenty-five thousand dollars for the north wing of the student center. This would include the post office, snack shop, cafeteria, and bookstore.

The Executive Committee voted also to include as part of the amount to be raised by alumni during the current year one thousand dollars of the twenty thousand dollars needed for current operating expense. This twenty-six thousand dollars is slightly in excess of any amount raised by alumni during recent years, but contributions have averaged more than twenty thousand dollars.

The Executive Committee believes that alumni are sufficiently aware of the need of a student center so that they will be willing to contribute willingly toward this building. Complete plans for raising this amount of twenty-six thousand dollars have not been completed, but alumni will receive notice in due time and the officers of the Association are confident that donations will be generous as in recent years.

HOME-COMING, 1946

Faculty and students are considering plans for Home-Coming. With conditions already crowded on the campus as they are, the administration is wondering whether it would be advisable to invite alumni to the campus. How about food, dining hall space, and lodging?

President Miller has appointed a faculty Home-Coming Committee to consider some of these problems: C. L. Graber, chairman; Miriam Stalter 37, and Roy Umble 35. The student chairmen of the Y Social Committees are John Hess and Mary Herr.

Announcements regarding Home-Coming will be made in due time. At all events, it seems proper to state at this time that any visitors returning to the campus should make certain about lodging accommodations before their arrival.

DEAN BENDER ON EUROPEAN TRIP

Dr. Harold S. Bender 18, dean of the Biblical Seminary of Goshen College, left on Wednesday, September 25, for a four weeks' trip to northwest Europe in the interests of the relief work of the Mennonite Church and other church concerns. He left from New York by American Air Lines Trans-Atlantic plane to Frankfurt, Germany, in the American-Occupation zone. There he was met by Robert Kreider, son of Rev. A. E. Kreider 15, of Goshen, who accompanied him on church conferences with the officials of the Mennonite Church in the American and French zone.

His schedule called for five days in Germany, then visits through Switzerland, France, Belgium, and Holland where he was to continue his conferences with Mennonite Church leaders in those countries. In Belgium he was to review the relief program of the Mennonite Church there with a view to determining its future. He took with him supplies of insulin and vitamin concentrates for distribution to special cases of need.

Dean Bender, who with Dr. C. Henry Smith, of Bluffton, of Ohio, is coeditor of a newly projected Mennonite encyclopedia, will negotiate with European scholars who are expected to collaborate in this project of research and publication. He expects to return by American Airline plane from Amsterdam, arriving in New York, October 22.

KREIDER TO CIRCLE GLOBE FOR M. C. C.

A. E. Kreider 15, of Goshen, former assistant professor of Old Testament and business manager of Goshen College, left on Tuesday evening, October 2, on a special mission for the Mennonite Central Committee. The Goshen News-Democrat carried the following item on that date:

"The Rev. A. E. Kreider, former pastor of the Eighth Street Mennonite church of Goshen, will leave this evening for New York City from which point he will leave on Friday for Holland. The Rev. Mr. Kreider is beginning a year's mission as a representative of the Mennonite Central Committee which will take him to India, Java, China, the Philippines and other far eastern points in addition to his European contacts. He will visit Mennonite relief units in the various areas, submit reports to the central headquarters, touch a number of Mennonite mission fields, and the like.

"At the completion of his mission Rev. Kreider will return to the Goshen community to make his permanent home. Mrs. Kreider, who is not accompanying her husband on this trip, is remaining at their farm home west of the city."

Mrs. Bertha Seiber (Bertha Shoemaker x08), who retired as chief cook in the College kitchen last spring, will live with Mrs. Kreider (Stella Shoemaker 16) until Rev. Kreider's return.

MISS WHITE RETURNS TO THE LIBRARY

On June 22 Neva White 44 was graduated from the University of Michigan with the degree Bachelor of Arts in Library Science. After spending a few weeks visiting relatives in Kansas she returned to the campus where she is serving as assistant librarian in the absence of J. Boyd Cressman 21 who is continuing graduate work in English at the University of Michigan.

PUERTO RICO MENNONITE CHURCH ORGANIZED

Bishop Sanford C. Yoder and Nelson Litwiller 25 have returned from a visit to the Mennonite Mission in Puerto Rico where during their visit the new church building was dedicated and Bishop Yoder baptized the first class of five converts. He also organized the congregation. Nelson Litwiller held a short series of evangelistic meetings during which the usual attendance was two hundred. There were additional confessions of faith in Christ and the instruction class for new converts continues. Yoder and Litwiller report that a large door of opportunity is open on the island and that an aggressive program of evangelism should be continued to capitalize on the opportunity thus far opened by the program of Mennonite service and relief.

LECTURE COURSE FOR 1946

Professor Willard H. Smith, chairman of the Lecture Course Committee, has announced the following numbers for the annual lecture course:

November 14—Russell Wright, "Sweden and Denmark," natural color pictures.
November 29—Anauta, Eskimo woman, "The Life of Eskimo Women."
January 15—Langston Hughes, negro poet, "Poems of Negro Life."
February 6—Dr. Luther Gable, "Atomic Energy, Black Light, and Radar." Scientific demonstration—lecture.
March 3—Austin West, "South Africa, Land of Tomorrow." Natural color pictures.

PRESIDENT MILLER BRINGS STUDENTS FROM EUROPE

One result of President Miller's visit to Italy, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Holland, and Germany during the past summer is the presence on the campus of a number of foreign students. Six of these have come from continental Europe: Immetje Terwey, from Amsterdam, a senior; Meindertje Kuitse, from Wildervank, Holland; Johannes Matthijssen, from Vlissingen, Holland; and Lenze Meinsma, from Makkum, Holland, juniors. Adolfo Comba, from Torino, Italy, and Willy Piron, from Brussels, Belgium, are also juniors.

Partly as a result of the influence of Dr. H. Clair Amstutz 33 and other relief workers in Puerto Rico, five students are here from that island: Gabriel Coll, a senior; Fidel Mercado and Miguel Limardo, and two sisters, Amparo and Virginia Gonzalez, freshmen.

William A. Stoltzfus 17, president of American Junior College for Women at Beirut, Lebanon, has sent two of his students, Adele Haddad and Gladys Kemp, both juniors.

A special course in public speaking has been organized for the foreign students to assist them in achieving standard pronunciation and speech rhythm.

CAPTAIN BECHTEL TO PRACTICE DENTISTRY IN GOSHEN

Capt. Kermit Bechtel x43, now stationed with the Army Transport Command at Memphis, Tennessee, will succeed Dr. Singer, aged Goshen dentist, after his discharge from the Armed Forces about October 15.

Capt. Bechtel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O. Bechtel, of rural route three, Goshen, and a brother of Harold H. Bechtel x26, Goshen High School principal, served with the dental corps in India for nearly a year. For nine months before going overseas he was stationed at the army air base at Gulfport, Mississippi.

The suite on the fourth floor of the Shoots building formerly occupied by Dr. Singer is being remodeled and redecorated for Dr. Bechtel's occupancy.

APPOINTED EDITOR OF THE 1947 MAPLE LEAF

John J. Fisher 48, son of Professor and Mrs. J. J. Fisher 13 (Alma Warye 18), of Blooming Glen, Pennsylvania, has been appointed editor of the 1946-47 Maple Leaf. Associate editors are Clara Esch, daughter of Mrs. Mina and the late Dr. C. D. Esch, of India; Lois Yake, daughter of Clayton F. Yake, secretary of the Mennonite Board of Education; and Paul Witter, of Navarre, Kansas. Mary Herr, of Hanover, Pennsylvania, is secretary to the editor; and Harold Good, of Waterloo, Ontario, is business manager. Assistant business managers are Jack Piatt, of Goshen, and Robert Ebersole, of La Junta, Colorado.

EDITORIAL CHAT

Literary society solicitation this year took on huge proportions. The four societies achieved practically equal increase in membership, each receiving about fifty new recruits.

Alumni who have been members of the Goshen College student body in former years would scarcely know the campus these days. The large number of married students, the equal number of men and women, the new quadrangles housing eighty-four men, students literally rooming all over Goshen and commuting in from Elkhart, Middlebury, Wakarusa, and Syracuse; meals served cafeteria style in the dining hall with lines extending from almost the corner of the Administration Building to the door of the dining hall, classrooms overcrowded, chapel seating extending into the wings, students from Holland, Belgium, Italy, Lebanon, Puerto Rico, and Canada, besides the usual quota of missionary children from India and South America; the Mennonite Historical Library used as a freshman reading room for Science Survey, Introduction to Christianity, and Introduction to Civilization. All these and a number of other features lend an entirely new air to our college campus.

The work of an editor has its pleasures but it also has its areas of uncertainty. Let us say, for instance, that an editor prepares an issue of some thousands of copies and the mailing department sends them to the four corners of the world. He often wonders whether the results justify the effort. And then he gets letters like the following which arrived within a few weeks of each other.

"First I wish to commend you for the fine work you are doing as Editor of the Alumni News-Letter Each issue causes one to look forward with great anticipation to the next. I certainly enjoy them because they give one the 'inside NEWS' of Goshen College activities as well as alumni news." The above came out of a clear sky from an alumnus from whom the editor had not heard for years.

A few weeks later came a letter containing the following: "I enjoy reading the bulletin and I never cease to marvel at the way these young Mennonites have become world citizens and are engaging in all types of social, educational, and welfare work around the world. I would like to see more of them enter the field of medicine." The letter goes on to say that this alumnus would be glad to help worthy young men in their preparation for the field of medicine.

A few days later John H. Warye 17, of Urbana, Ohio, wrote at the end of a letter enclosing his contribution for the Auditorium-Gymnasium, "Enjoy reading the Alumni News-Letter and other literature sent out by the College."

FACULTY MEMBER'S BOOK REPRINTED

A second printing of War, Peace, and Nonresistance, the exhaustive and authoritative work by Professor Guy F. Hershberger, Ph.D., was made by the Herald Press, Scottdale, Pennsylvania, in August. The first edition (2000 copies) of this 415-page volume appeared in November, 1944, and was soon sold out. The present printing, substantially a reprint of the first, is 2500 copies.

The first edition was widely and favorably reviewed by theologians, sociologists, and historians, both Catholic and Protestant. The Catholic Historical Review says, "Dr. Hershberger has compiled the standard work on nonresistance . . . . It is a challenge to the compliant assumption that wars are always just. All lovers of peace are earnestly recommended to study this authoritative work . . . ." Rural Sociology comments, "This is a surprisingly well-written book—well planned, skillfully executed, temperately phrased."

Guy F. Hershberger

Just a sentence from two other reviews. The Lutheran Standard: "Much is said and read about postwar planning. Here you find something helpful." Union Seminary Review: "I wonder if this volume will not be a sort of source book for a good deal of writing in the years that be ahead of us."

Seldom has a Mennonite writer produced a work so widely acclaimed for its sound scholarship or for its discriminating analysis of a controversial topic.

THE STUDENT DIRECTORY

Dr. Paul Bender and his office assistants have compiled a more elaborate student directory than in previous years. The 1946 directory includes, in addition to the name and home address of students, the campus residence and the telephone address. The large enrollment is making it increasingly difficult for students and faculty to "keep track" of one another.

The directory is printed as the September issue of the Goshen College Bulletin. It contains, in addition to the student directory, a faculty directory, comparative enrollment tables for the past several years, and an interesting introduction pointing out certain significant trends in the enrollment. This introductory statement is printed below.

ENROLLMENT TRENDS

By Dr. Paul Bender

Colleges all over the country are being flooded with students, and are turning away many desirable students because of the impossibility of expanding facilities and staff sufficiently to care for the current demand for higher education. The reason for this increase is twofold: first, the end of hostilities has released many young people to resume their interrupted education; and second, the advantageous economic status, both of servicemen and the general public, makes it possible for young people to finance a higher education.

Goshen College is experiencing this same flood of students. The current enrollment of five hundred and one full-time students represents an increase of seventy-five per cent over the number registered a year ago, and an increase of sixty-five per cent over the second semester enrollment of last year. This increase is the more significant in face of the fact that the second semester enrollment of last year represented the highest enrollment in the history of Goshen College. This expansion will require wise planning for the future of the College, necessitating the clearest possible foresight as to enrollment trends during the coming years. A careful analysis of the current enrollment should contribute to this foresight. The facts set forth below are an attempt to make some analysis of this year's enrollment.

Release from government service has permitted large numbers of men to return to college, as is reflected in the fact that men and women are equal in number in our present enrollment, as compared to a one-to-three ratio for last year. The current increased enrollment, however, is not entirely due to the increase in men students, since the women number thirty-five more than a year ago. There are, however, one hundred and eighty more men on the campus this year than last. A large proportion of this increase is made up of the eighty-five ex-C.P.S. men and the fifty veterans enrolled, although the additional increase of forty-five men is composed of those who were not in government service.

Sixty Per Cent of Freshmen Are Men

The large return of men to the campus is reflected in the one hundred and twenty-five men in the freshman class, making the class sixty per cent men, whereas all of the other classes still have more women than men. The occupational choices of freshmen also reflect the return of men. Religious work takes first place among occupational choices, being slightly higher than teaching, which previously has always had first place. Medicine, business, and engineering have very large increases in the occupational choice of freshmen. A larger number of women students have chosen nursing as a profession than among last year's freshman women. Six students list farming as their chosen occupation.

The Biblical Seminary has profited by the increased interest in religious work, showing an increase in enrollment of sixty per cent over last year. Although this is slightly below the general college increase of seventy-five per cent, it represents a proportionately large increase because theology students were permitted to attend college during the war years.

Mennonites

Students who hold membership in some branch of the Mennonite Church total three hundred and ninety-two, or an increase of one hundred and sixty-eight over a year ago. This number is seventy-eight per cent of the full-time enrollment as compared to seventy-nine per cent a year ago. Members of the Mennonite Church, the branch which operates Goshen College, number three hundred and thirty-two, or sixty-six per cent of the total. This represents an increase of one hundred and thirty-one over a year ago, even though last year's ratio of seventy-one per cent was somewhat higher than this year's ratio. These figures reveal that there has been a very substantial increase in attendance at Goshen College by members of other Mennonite groups.

Enrollment by States

The study of enrollment by states is also quite significant, particularly since most Mennonite students come from states other than Indiana. Indiana students constitute this year about thirty-eight per cent of the total as compared to last year's thirty-seven per cent. In other words, the increase in Indiana students is approximately the same as the increase in total enrollment, or seventy-five per cent. Ontario also shows an increase of about seventy-five per cent. However, the three states furnishing most of the Mennonite students, namely, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Illinois, have fallen below this general school increase with percentages of fifty-four, twenty-seven, and twenty-one respectively. Accordingly, other states show disproportionally large increases, notably Iowa, Michigan, Kansas, Minnesota, Virginia, and Colorado. Other miscellaneous sources of students also show relatively large increases. Among these are foreign students, of whom there are five from Puerto Rico, four from Holland, one from Belgium, one from Italy, and two still expected from Syria. In addition there are missionaries' children numbering three from India and three from Argentina.

GRADUATE STUDY IN MUSIC

Miss Mary Oyer 44, instructor in music, continued graduate work at the University of Michigan during the past summer. In one of her courses, she wrote a paper on "Hymn Tunes of the Amish." Her classmates were delighted to see at firsthand a living specimen of the strange species of genus homo, called Mennonite. They were delighted also with the way that she played first cello in the University Symphony Orchestra.

When the Publicity Department of the University of Michigan released, in September, the names of the one hundred and twenty-nine students who had made A grades in all subjects studied during the summer session, Miss Oyer's name was on the list. Miss Oyer is the youngest daughter of the late Dean Noah Oyer and Mrs. Siddie Oyer, matron of North Hall.

MENNONITE MAGAZINE

The first issue, January, 1947, of the new Mennonite periodical, The Mennonite Community, long awaited and widely advertised, is promised in December. The prospectus printed in September calls it "A Paper on the Affairs of Everyday Living." The initial printing will be five thousand copies.

This prospectus states that "There must be a means for the spirit of God to lead us so that we will preserve and propagate our way of life. For some years church leaders have thought and talked about a periodical to help meet the needs of our churches and communities as they face the problems of living our faith in a changing world . . . . The Mennonite Community will not concern itself primarily with those areas that are covered through such organs as the Gospel Herald and the Christian Monitor."

The Mennonite Community will appear as a bimonthly pictorial magazine. Of the thirty-six pages of the January issue, about ten pages will be devoted to photographs of Mennonite farms, businesses, churches, and community life. The publishers will accept advertising, chiefly of Mennonite businesses, of interest and value to Mennonite people.

The magazine will include the following departments and features: The Mennonite Farmer and His Problems; Homemaking Interests; The Christian in Business and Industry; Mutual Aid; Life Work and Vocational Guidance for Youth; Marriage and the Home; Rural Living; Education; News; Health; Literary; Cultural and Recreational Life; Advertising; Pictures.

The stated aims of the publication are: (1) To make our communities more Christian; (2) To portray life in the Mennonite Community as attractive and satisfying; (3) To challenge youth to serve in the home community as readily as elsewhere; (4) To introduce the various Mennonite communities to each other; (5) To strengthen at the base the church's outreaching program of evangelism and service.

The Board of Directors of the Mennonite Community Association, publishers of The Mennonite Community, are: Paul Erb, president; John L. Yoder 10, vice-president; Guy F. Hershberger, secretary; A. J. Metzler, treasurer; Ivan Miller, Clayton L. Keener, and Harold S. Bender 15. The association has chosen the following editorial staff: Grant M. Stoltzfus 41, editor; Guy F. Hershberger, associate editor; Paul Erb, associate editor; Harold Mishler 42, associate editor; H. Ralph Hernley 41, associate editor and business manager; Paul Hertzler 50, photographer and artist.

The following alumni are members of an editorial council of twenty-three members: Dr. H. C. Amstutz 32, Puerto Rico; Leland Bachman 38, Morton, Illinois; Atlee Beechy 35, Akron, Pennsylvania; H. S. Bender 15, Goshen, Indiana; Melvin Gingerich 26, North Newton, Kansas; Howard Kauffman 47, West Liberty, Ohio; John E. Lehman 35, North Lima, Ohio; Ivan Lind 35, Hesston, Kansas; Orie O. Miller 15, Akron, Pennsylvania; Maude Swartzendruber 37, La Junta, Colorado; Olive G. Wyse 26, Goshen, Indiana; John L. Yoder 10, West Liberty, Ohio.

WEDDING BELLS

On May 23, Ivan Kauffmann 49, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kauffmann, of Minier, Illinois, and Lola Good, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Good, of Armington, Illinois, were united in marriage, Bishop Simon Litwiller performing the ceremony. Both are members of the Hopedale Mennonite congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Kauffmann are living at 1624 South Eighth Street, Goshen. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kauffmann are employed part time at the Goshen Bakery. Mr. Kauffmann is a member of the sophomore class.

Coleen Barton x44, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Barton, of Cumberland, Maryland, and Kay O. Nelson 44, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Nelson of Shipshewana, were married August 24 in the garden of the Barton home, Roy Roth, B.A. 42, Th.B. 43, of Peoria, Illinois, officiating. Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Eastern Mennonite School and completed the sophomore year at Goshen College. Mr. Nelson, a veteran of two and one-half years in the army with a year spent in the South Pacific, is now associated with the Barton Dairy in Cumberland.

Vivian Busby 46, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Busby, of South Eighth Street, became the bride of Max Hile, son of Mrs. Nellie Hile, of Olive Street, on September 14. The Rev. Trevor Dillon performed the ceremony at his home on South Fifth Street. Mrs. Hile is employed in the office of Caswell Runyan. Mr. Hile is a junior in physical education at the University of Notre Dame.

On September 15, at St. Mark's Methodist Church, Muriel A. Barnard 39, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Birch Barnard, of 616 North Third Street, became the bride of Woodrow W. Bickel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bickel, of route one, Shipshewana, the bride's pastor, Kenneth E. Smith, reading the service. Following her graduation from Goshen College, Mrs. Bickel attended Purdue University for one year. She has been employed as a visitor in the Elkhart County Department of Public Welfare. Mr. Bickel is a graduate of International Barber College at Indianapolis. He served for three and one-half years in the Sixth Armored division with twenty months in Europe. He will practice barbering in Goshen.

On Sunday morning, September 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Yost, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, Ruby Pearl Martin, daughter of Mrs. Ben Martin, of Minot, North Dakota, was married to Ira T. Zook, Latour, Missouri, Jess Kauffman, pastor of the Hesston College congregation, officiating. Mrs. Zook was graduated in 1935 from the Junior College at Hesston College and Bible School, and received her B.A. degree from Goshen College in 1938. Following her graduation she was employed at the office of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities in Elkhart. Later she transferred to the office of Miles Laboratories, Inc., where she spent a number of years before returning to Minot, North Dakota, in 1944 to live with her mother at the time of her father's death. In Minot she was employed in the office of the Armour Creameries. Mr. and Mrs. Zook are living near Latour, Missouri, where Mr. Zook is engaged in farming.

James R. Clemens 35, member of the Plain congregation of Lansdale, Pennsylvania, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clemens, was united in marriage with Eva M. Moyer, of the Line Lexington, Pennsylvania, congregation, by Bishop Arthur D. Ruth at the home of the bride on May 25. Mr. Clemens held several important positions in C.P.S., and is now engaged in teaching in junior high school in Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

On June 1, Esther Miller 46, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malva J. Miller, of Walnut Creek, Ohio, was married to James Hershberger. Mrs. Miller continues in her former teaching position, grades one and two in the Walnut Creek schools, where she has taught for the past two years.

On June 7, in the Christian Church, in Jasper, Arkansas, D. Wyman Sundheimer 49, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Sundheimer, of Sugarcreek, Ohio, and Elizabeth Wiebe, daughter of Reverend and Mrs. F. V. Wiebe, were united in marriage, the father of the bride officiating. The young couple reside at 1124 South Eighth Street. Mr. Sundheimer is resuming his college work in the Goshen College Biblical Seminary since his discharge from C.P.S.

On June 8, at the home of the bride's sister, Beula Mast 48, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C., Mast, of Gap, Pennsylvania, and Hersey Bumstead 48, son of Mr. and Mrs. Trowbridge Bumstead, of Hemet. Items from the News Letter of the Class of 1942

For the following items, the editor is indebted to Miss Mildred Witmer whose industry and enterprise keep the class letter going. Members of the class send to her their individual letters (sometimes after they receive the second post card notice), then she mimeographs the letters and mails them to the members of the class.

Mrs. Millard Lind (Miriam Seiber) writes, "The more we are around our children (Danny—blond, blue-eyed, terribly active, at two years and one month; Jonathan—"Jontee," dark-haired, brown-eyed, lazy, and pleasant at four months) the more we love and appreciate all children, and the greater is our interest in and prayer for those of you, our classmates, who are also parents." Mr. Lind, in addition to being pastor of the Kouts Mennonite Church, and teaching a class in Intermediate New Testament Greek several days a week at Goshen College, is "the Sales Manager for the Mallett Home Appliance Store in Kouts, and has been busy all summer trying to make farmers believe that they can't live without an Arctic-jet milk cooler." Mrs. Lind is trying to convince him that she can't live without one of his Norge gas kitchen ranges.

Lois Musselman was a member of a summer service unit of eight young women at Camp Bernard, Gulfport, Mississippi, during the past summer. The group lived in the C.P.S. camp and taught Bible school and supervised recreation in Gulfport and surrounding rural areas. They found the negro Bible schools the most interesting.

Clarence Burck, of 3314 Mesa Drive, San Gabriel, California, was building a house during the past summer. He hopes to attend Goshen College during the second semester and to graduate in June.

Lester Zimmerman wrote in July from Conway, Kansas, "On May 4 I arrived at Baltimore, Maryland, after making two trips to Europe with livestock. We took two hundred head of horses and five hundred head of Holstein heifers to Poland on my first ocean experience. After spending two weeks on American soil in March, I set sail again, this time for Greece, with three hundred and thirty head of Brown Swiss cattle. I enjoyed the trips very much. We spent about ten days each time on foreign soil." Mr. Zimmerman is registered as a senior in the College.

Dr. Kenneth Lehman, husband of the former Genevieve Warner, began his service as an Army doctor at Ft. Knox, Kentucky, and from there to Ft. Sam Houston. Mrs. Lehman now takes care, not only of little Annie, but also of her second daughter, Rebecca Warner, born on September 11.

Pearl Kauffmann left for Ponce in April to work in a Puerto Rican hospital and feels that she received very valuable experience which will help her in the community nutrition project being promoted in the La Plata Valley. They operate a milk station and do other nutritional work. Miss Kauffmann also teaches nutrition classes for the nurse aids in the Mennonite hospital in Puerto Rico. There are approximately forty people on the staff and in addition twenty Puerto Rican employees.

Royce Engle wrote from route three, Fayette, Ohio, on August 8, "March 11 I was discharged from C.P.S. —the government's gift to me occasioned by the arrival of Scott. We were most fortunate in renting a very fine country home with garden, lawn, chicken coop, etc. I also landed a job as a mill worker in the Archbold mills. We bought an old $35.00 Ford. We've done o.k. this summer. Doris has been busy with baby, house, garden, and chickens. I am away from home from 7:00 to 7:00 and so have little time for anything other than the lawn, repair jobs, and some garden work. We find life in the country pleasant and good for us."

Annabelle Troyer was a member of the M.C.C. Unit in the La Plata Valley in Puerto Rico until October 1. Since then she is giving part time to the Mennonite mission field in Pulguillas, about ten miles from La Plata. She has set Thanksgiving Day as the date of her marriage to Lawrence Greaser. In January they expect to return to the states so that Mr. Greaser may complete his college course.

Rev. Merle R. Meeden, of 6396 Gale Road, Atlas, Michigan, is pastor of the Atlas Baptist Church. After waiting nine months for a new Ford car, they received a new Super De Luxe four-door sedan and took a several weeks' vacation trip visiting relatives and friends in Illinois, then east as far as Baltimore, where his brother is pastor of the Temple Baptist Church.

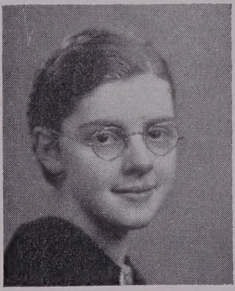
Mrs. Emory Gross (Viola Eby), of rural route two, Bristol, Indiana, who had not previously written for the class letter, has given up teaching because her time is entirely occupied at keeping house and taking care of her two sons, Stephen Kent, who will be three on October 21, and Dennis Keith, who will be one on December 21. Mr. and Mrs. Gross have bought a home in Vistula, six and one half miles northeast of Bristol.

In August, Pauline Hershey wrote that half of her nursing class at La Junta are affiliating at the Colorado State Hospital at Pueblo. They spend two weeks on one ward—receiving, treatment, hospital, hydrotherapy, and chronically disturbed wards. She adds, "I think I can understand the experiences of our C.P.S. Hospital Units now."

Mary Zehr, of Morton, Illinois, spent four weeks teaching Bible school last summer, one week teaching in a summer children's camp, and was employed in the Morton Pottery as a decorator. She spent one week at the new Mennonite Camp, Little Eden, in Michigan, and came away very enthusiastic about the facilities of the camp and the educational and recreational features connected with the conference which she attended.

Mrs. Bennie Fadenrecht (Ruth Zook) gives her address as Tabor College, Hillsboro, Kansas. They with their ten-month-old son, Bennie Dwight, moved to Hillsboro from the Ypsilanti State Hospital at the end of July. Mr. and Mrs. Fadenrecht are enrolled at Tabor College, taking further Bible training in preparation for mission work.



Mildred Witmer

Miss Mildred Witmer herself completed work on a master's degree at Indiana University during the summer. She was elected to Pi Lambda Theta, national education honorary society. In addition to her duties as Supervisor of Elementary Education in the Goshen city schools, she has been elected Supervisor of the kindergartens and Director of the testing program in the elementary schools.

A Few Gleanings from the 1943 Class Letter

As stated in the last issue of the NEWS-LETTER, the items from three class letters were crowded out on account of lack of space. Most of this material is now out of date. Here are a few items which are not too old to be "news."

Mr. and Mrs. D. Edward Diener 43, who have been living at Clarence, New York, for the past two years as pastor and pastor's wife of the Mennonite congregation at that place, succeeded in building a new house during the past summer. It is located about a quarter of a mile outside the village of Clarence and along a beautiful stream.

Margaret Detwiler spent the summer at the University of Michigan after a trip to the west through the Ozarks and on to New Mexico and Arizona visiting Carlsbad Caverns on the way.

During the past summer Rosemary Roose was a member of a girls' service team sent out by the Mission Board of the Brethren Church. Their work included daily vacation Bible school teaching, camp work, and helping with programs and recreation for churches in need of such assistance. They started in Indiana and gradually worked toward the southeast. The August issue of The Brethren Evangelist printed a picture of Miss Roose and her associates in this work.

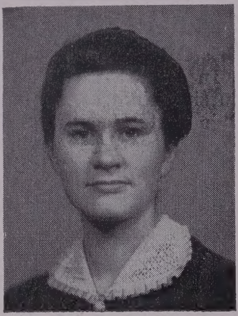
Mrs. Orval Myers (Elizabeth Leitner) and her son, John, have gone to Paraguay where Mr. Myers x44, an electrical engineer, has been installing a telephone system for the Mennonite colony.

Carol Stine



Elizabeth Leitner Myers

Carol Stine continues her service at the Brethren Relief Center at New Windsor. Her work has been recruiting cowboys for the shipments of livestock which U.N.R.R.A. makes to the devastated countries of Europe. She finds it "very interesting but almost a twenty-four hour a day job, especially when you are called out of bed in the middle of the night for a telephone call from Kansas, New York, California, Kentucky, Texas, or any other state in the union." By midsummer they had sent more than three thousand men into Greece, Yugoslavia, Italy, France, Belgium, Germany, and Poland, and at the time she wrote her letter the number of shipments was increasing every day. The work which she formerly did alone was then being done by eight or ten people.

Ethel Climenhaga wrote, "My three years at Hesston were very enjoyable years and I appreciated working with the faculty at that place. I will miss not being there. Next year I plan to be in California at Beulah College." Miss Climenhaga is a member of the Brethren in Christ Church which owns and operates Beulah College.

Bernice Meyer spent the summer at Norristown State Hospital as a member of the summer service unit. She is teaching in the Sterling, Ohio, Public Schools.

Mrs. Edgar Noble (Barbara Esch) and her husband are living in Waynesdale, a small unincorporated town south of Fort Wayne. They occupy their own four-room house on a three-acre lot. Mr. Noble is working as a meat cutter in his father's grocery store in Waynedale since his return to the states in November from Germany after serving eight months overseas.

Mrs. Harold Oyer (Esther Hartzler) is keeping house this year and taking special care of her son, Phil, instead of teaching forty first and second graders as last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh King (Viola Zehr) are living in Albany, Oregon, since Mr. King's release from C.P.S. in December, 1945. Mr. King is working with a young Mennonite contractor, and Mrs. King is employed in an insurance office. They are living in a three-room apartment.

Roy Roth, majoring in the field of New Testament under Dr. Otto A. Piper, completed his studies for the Th.M. degree at the Princeton Theological school last summer. He and Mrs. Roth (Carolyn Byler 45) have returned to rural route five, Peoria, Illinois, where Mr. Roth continues his pastorate of the Pleasant Hill Church. During his absence the pastorate was filled by Wilfred Ulrich, B.A. 44, Th.B. 45.

Elta Yoder, R.N., spent the summer in Goshen. She returned to La Junta Mennonite Hospital this fall to resume her position as charge nurse in the medical division. In addition she is teaching medical nursing.

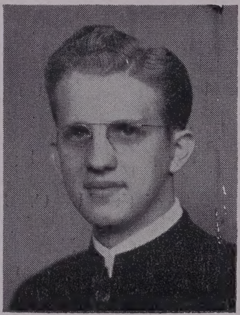
Paul and Dorothy Martin have now been in Culp, Arkansas, for more than a year. During the summer they were assisted by a service unit of Mennonite young people: Bob Keller 47, Marie Kaufman 44, Margie Culp x46, and Nila Jean Ramer who has not been in school at Goshen.

Russell Krabill is continuing his pastorate of the Locust Grove Church and in addition is manager of the Gospel Book Store in Goshen. He spends considerable time in the preparation of summer Bible school manuals for the new course which the Mennonite Publishing House is planning to publish in the summer of of 1947. His assignment is the first two years of high school, grades nine and ten.

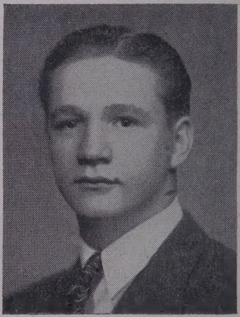
Anna Mable Kilmer and Kathryn Miller taught country schools two miles apart near Pinckney, Michigan, last winter. Their reason for going to this section of Michigan was not so much to teach school as it was to assist Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Beachy 33 (Bertha Noheji 34) in a small mission in Pinckney. They are very enthusiastic about the work of the mission.

Zelma Brunk is early evening supervisor for the Mennonite Hospital at La Junta, Colorado. The census ranged from eighty-nine to one hundred and seven most of the summer, although the Mennonite Hospital is considered a seventy-bed institution.

Dr. Norman Loux, formerly of Souderton, Pennsylvania, has started his internship in Hahnemann Hospital in Philadelphia. His classmate, Dr. Galen Miller, as mentioned elsewhere in this issue, is interning at Huron Road Hospital in East Cleveland, Ohio.



Dr. Norman Loux



Dr. Galen Miller

Mr. and Mrs. George Falb (Priscilla Miller), who had been living in a three-room apartment in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, are in Detroit where Mr. Falb is continuing his engineering course at the University of Detroit from the point where it was interrupted by his call to Civilian Public Service. During their stay in Lancaster, Mrs. Falb served as nurses' aid in the Lancaster General Hospital.

The Indian Mission in northern Argentina where Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Shank 10 are located, is showing satisfactory signs of progress. Bishop Amos Swartzentruber who visited that mission in August writes: "Edna and I have just returned from a two weeks' trip to our mission in the north among the Indians. Brother and Sister Shank with the help of a young native worker are in charge of a large and growing work. The Shanks have no one to counsel with and there are many phases of the Indian work that need to be looked after. Consequently, Brother Shank asked for someone from our section to visit them and help them in making future plans. We are highly pleased with the progress the Indians have made in just a few years' time, their sincerity, and their desire to learn. At the same time, there are many discouraging things that will need to be solved or overcome.

"There are now three interested groups—one of about forty-five, most of whom are believers; another of about one hundred, in which there seem to be difficulties to overcome because the Chief is not always sincere. The third is a group of about one hundred and fifty to two hundred. Here the Chief is converted and baptized. It was a real inspiration for us to be at several meetings in each congregation and fellowship with them. Summing up the situation there results in this—they should by all means have one more North American family to help in carrying the responsibilities of the work. But we have no one to send for the present. May the doors soon open for more laborers in our field."

Orin Beachy 33 is farm manager of Boys Village, near Wooster, Ohio, since his release from C.P.S. His address is rural route three, Wooster.

Kenneth Burkholder x32, who had been employed in the Yoder Greenhouses at Smithville, Ohio, since his release from C.P.S., has accepted a position with the Yoder Greenhouses at Barberton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Hostetler B.A. 23, Th.B. 46, (Ida Miller 46) have returned to Bihar, India, after a period of furlough in the United States, during which they did additional school work at Goshen College. The Mission News Bulletin prints the following excerpt from a letter written by Mr. Hostetler: "We have just gotten back from our tour of our new field in Palamau District. We visited many villages. The jeep is surely the thing in such country. It goes anywhere an oxcart can travel. The Chandwa pastor says the field is ripe and there are good prospects if the field is worked over a good-sized area. There are adversaries to be sure. We feel led to go and possess the land, but we need more help. The bungalow we will rent will be large enough for us and can easily accommodate a new couple from America while they are doing language study."

Vernon Schmidt 39 has now been employed in the chemical laboratory of the C. H. Musselman Company at Biglerville, Pennsylvania, for more than a year, following a two-year period of service in Paraguay building roads under the M.C.C. Mr. Schmidt's present work is checking the quality of the products; checking weights, volumes, color, pH, consistency, sugar content, and so on, of apple sauce, cherries, tomato juice, tomato puree, apple butter, and jellies; also, ciders. The company makes five flavors of jelly: straight apple, apple and grape, cherry, elderberry, and raspberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard C. Wyse 32 and their three children, Berdine Ann, Leland, and Linda Kay, who formerly lived at Wayland, Iowa, have moved to West Unity, Ohio, where Mr. Wyse is employed by the Yeager Elevator Company.

Dr. J. Glenn Widmer x42 was discharged from the Public Health Service on September 1. Dr. and Mrs. Widmer have moved to Wayland, Iowa, where he is starting medical practice.

Dr. Clarence C. Wyse x32 is practicing dentistry at the same place.

Dr. Reuben Widmer 40, formerly of Wayland, Iowa who is due for discharge from Public Health Service, is staying on in that service and at the present time is receiving special training in tuberculosis.

Vernon Miller 37, music teacher in the Berlin, Ohio, schools, has been employed to teach music part time in the Walnut Creek schools this year.

Henry Troyer 36, of Walnut Creek, Ohio, has been employed to teach in the Trail, Ohio, School to replace the teacher who has transferred to Walnut Creek to accept the position vacated by Mr. Hershberger.

Marie Kaufman 44, of Havelock, Iowa, who taught in a public school in Whitley County, Indiana, near Columbia City last year, has accepted a position in the Mennonite parochial school at Culp, Arkansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McCammon B.A. 45, Th.B. 46 (Dorothy Snapp 44) spent the summer at the Summer Institute of Linguistics in Norman, Oklahoma. After the close of the term late in August they spent a week with Mr. McCammon's relatives in Omaha, Nebraska, before attending the Iowa-Nebraska Conference. They spent most of September on the campus and then left for Cornell University at Ithaca, New York, where they will spend the year studying the Chinese language in preparation for missionary work in China.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lehman 42 (Mary Shank 43) are enjoying their work at M.C.C. headquarters in Akron, Pennsylvania. Mr. Lehman is employed by the Peace Section of the M.C.C. and is in charge of finding American Mennonite correspondents for Holland Mennonite young people.

Otto Binkele 33 received the master's degree in history at Indiana University in June, 1946. He is teaching history and social studies in the high school at Ligonier.

William Allan 40 is teaching in the elementary schools in Canton, Ohio.

Doran Hershberger 46, who was graduated from Case School of Applied Science at Cleveland with honors in December, 1945, is now employed in Massachusetts by the General Electric Company as electrical engineer.

John Thut 23, formerly of West Liberty, Ohio, and more recently of the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, returned from two years' service in relief work in England, Belgium, and France. During August he gave several lectures illustrated by colored slides. He served chiefly in prisoners' camps.

On September 9, Mr. and Mrs. Lotus Troyer 38 and children, Lyle and Lila, moved to Bloomington, Illinois, where Mr. Troyer has accepted a position as assistant superintendent of the Mennonite Hospital. He is also serving the Mennonite Church in Carlock, Illinois, as temporary pastor. Mr. Troyer spent several years in C.P.S. as director of the unit in the Ypsilanti Hospital.

Sara Miller x48, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Miller 22 (Mary Warye x24), of Columbus, Ohio, is teaching the third and fourth grades at the Washington Local School in Byhalia, Ohio.

Charles Burkhart x49 gave a piano recital in the College auditorium in August. Arthur Farwell, eminent composer and former critic for Musical America, was present and wrote in enthusiastic praise of Mr. Burkhart's work. He stated that "Mr. Burkhart shows very much of promise; his sense of tonal beauty is exceptional as his sensitivity is everywhere apparent, and his technique is already well advanced. The recital gave ample evidence both of the excellent training he has received and of his own individual qualities." Mr. Burkhart is continuing his work in piano under the instruction of Professor Noble Kreider and he is also giving lessons to a considerable number of young people in addition to his work as a college sophomore.

Mrs. L. J. Martin (Louella Troyer 37) has been appointed northern province chairman of Psi Iota Xi Sorority for the coming year. The sorority raises funds for contributions to the Goshen Youth Center, payment for tonsillectomies performed upon local children, transportation for children and parents attending the speech and hearing clinic, and donations to county and city philanthropic causes. The local chapter operated a food booth at the Elkhart County Fair in September and realized over one thousand dollars from sales.

Reverend James Gurley 46 is teaching grades seven and eight in the Troy School in Whitley County. He is also continuing his pastorate in the church at Wolf Lake.

Ezra Beachy 34, of Pinckney, Michigan, is the editor of the Rural Evangel, "an eight-page bimonthly mission paper devoted to the spread of the Gospel in the Indiana-Michigan district." The Executive Committee of the Indiana-Michigan District Mission Board are Homer F. North x15, of Nappanee, president; Clarence Shank x02, of Wakarusa, vice-president; Perry J. Miller, husband of Olive Miller 31, secretary; E. F. Martin x09, of Elkhart, treasurer; and Bishop Edwin J. Yoder x07, of Topeka, mission superintendent.

Dr. Earl C. Mast, M.D., x30 and his wife, the former Esther Ellen Maurer, are practicing medicine and surgery together at their offices at 282 Park Avenue, W., Mansfield, Ohio. This address is on the Lincoln Highway just west of the square. They are very busy but hope to attend commencement at Goshen in 1947. Dr. Mast's only recreation is flying and going to Canada on fishing trips. During the first week in August he flew over Goshen at eight thousand feet by commercial airlines and was forced down at South Bend when one motor went out over Goshen. Dr. Mast and another Mansfield physician expect early delivery of a Seabee and a Beechcraft 35, both passenger planes.

Wilmer E. Eigsti 22, who has been on the staff of the Department of Zoology of the Chicago Natural History Museum (formerly Field Museum), has been appointed director of the Hastings Museum at Hastings, Nebraska. Celeste Norr x49, missionary in Hartshorne, Pittsburg County, Oklahoma, writes in Go Ye, the little four-page publication of the "Go Ye" Mission, Incorporated, at Inola, Oklahoma: "I praise the Lord for the privilege which is to be mine to implant the Word of God in the hearts and minds of children. 'The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom' (Ps. 111:10). I anticipate with joy this service of the King in which, the Lord willing, I am to enter a new county this fall to have Schoolhouse Scripture Memory Work. I understand the field is as needy as the one the "Go Ye" Mission entered four years ago. My prayer is that I might in His strength buy up every opportunity for the Lord, that these children might also put their trust in the precious blood of Christ for salvation, and grow in His grace." Miss Norr is particularly interested in missions for children and is one of two workers assigned to Pittsburg County.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kraus B.A. 46 (Ruth Smith x 42) are living at Harrisonburg, Virginia, where Mr. Kraus is serving on the faculty of Eastern Mennonite School.

A. C. Brunk 12, of the American Mennonite Mission of Shantipur, India, wrote under date of July 16: "Yesterday the missionary women were here and divided the bales of clothing which lay so long in Oregon. They were in good condition and possibly needed more now than when they were first shipped." These goods were shipped to India about December 1, 1941, but were returned to San Francisco when the Japanese made the attack on Pearl Harbor. They were subsequently stored in Oregon until a few months ago when they were shipped again to India.

In the August 14 issue of the Mission News Bulletin the Chicago Avenue Mennonite Mission of Harrisonburg, Virginia, made a prayer request for Moses Slabaugh, superintendent of the mission, who has been at Smithland Convalescent Home since June 28. He is the husband of Mary Troyer 35.

On September 2, Adeline Aschliman 41 began service at the Protestant Deaconess Hospital, Evansville 11, Indiana, as director of nurses. The hospital is Reformed Evangelical. Miss Aschliman is glad to be back in a church hospital and invites her alumni friends to stop with her if they pass through Evansville.

On Sunday, September 29, Mrs. Lawrence Burkholder (Harriet Lapp 37) and her two children, Myrna and Howard, left from San Francisco for Shanghai, China, on the S/S Marine Lynx. Four hundred other missionaries sailed on the same ship. Mrs. Burkholder is joining her husband who is serving as a relief worker under the Mennonite Central Committee.

Clifford Yoder 40 has been released from the Armed Forces and is now employed in the Veterans Placement Service in Youngstown. Mr. Yoder's address is Columbiana, Ohio.

William J. Hershberger x20, former instructor of the fifth and sixth grades and a veteran basketball coach of Walnut Creek School, Ohio, has accepted a position in the Baltic School.

THE ALUMNI NEWS–LETTER

Alumni Division of Goshen College Accreditment Plan

New Rating Brings New Financial Problems

Alumni no doubt recall that, when the North Central Association granted accreditment to Goshen College, that action was based in part on the confidence that the examiners had in the continued support of the program of the College by freewill offerings. The examiners were convinced that the constituency of the College would continue to make regular contributions for maintaining a high grade of college work.

These regular contributions were accepted by the examiners in lieu of endowment income. Hence, the North Central Association would feel justified in withholding membership provided such regular contributions would not provide for a standard program of college work.

Requirements of the N.C.A.

The North Central Association sets up certain specific standards by which it judges the measure or type of education which the institution gives to the student. It expects the college to serve the student by giving him an adequate educational experience.

It is generally accepted in educational circles that an adequate program of education cannot be furnished with the fees which the average student can pay. Hence, the North Central Association judges an institution in part by the percentage of the cost of education paid by the student. Some of the cost of education must come from outside sources. That is one reason why Goshen College every year needs a specified amount for current operating expense.

The North Central Association also inquires whether a given institution has the proper kind of plant to provide a satisfactory educational experience for the student. This includes housing, recreation, the social life of the student, and provision for the wholesome use of his free time when he is not eating, sleeping, or working.

In 1941, the examiners found Goshen College fairly satisfactory except on library holdings and finances, but admitted Goshen to membership with the proviso that there would be additional examination on the two latter points. Subsequent examinations satisfied the examiners on these items.

New Rating of Goshen College

Now, however, new problems arise. The student body is larger. The 1941 rating was based on one school with one dean and a student body of about three hundred. Recently, however, the College has been placed in a higher class because Goshen now has two deans and two educational units, the Liberal Arts College and the Biblical Seminary. The new rating demands more money for operating expense and increased library holdings.

One other fact regarding membership in the North Central Association is not generally known or fully understood. Membership in the North Central Association means a periodic examination on faculty, that is, the number of instructors and their training, and also on finances and library holdings.

Every two years, every college and university in the North Central Association must submit a complete schedule on one of these points. Whenever an institution fails to meet the standards of the North Central Association on one of these points, membership may be discontinued. During the war, examiners have been more lenient, but with the return of normal conditions, we may expect a tightening up of requirements. Hence, Goshen College at this time needs the support of its constituency as much as, or more than, at any point in its history.

Higher Rating—Higher Standards

The new rating naturally means that new standards must be met. Goshen College, with two units and five hundred students, is in a different class from Goshen College in 1941 with one dean and less than three hundred students. The new rating brings a very real need for more buildings, more books, and an enlarged staff. Every one of these requires money.

Alumni Support Imperative

Alumni, if Goshen College is to retain the respect of the accrediting agencies, to continue to attract a high type of student, and to give that student a standard educational experience, she must have your wholehearted financial support. Many causes are begging for your money. Many of them are worthy and deserve your support, but if your alma mater is to continue to produce trained Christian leaders, and to send out Christian students to the farms, churches, and into the professions, alumni must give to her support with a still larger measure of devotion and sacrifice in the future than they have in the past.

We alumni cannot expect people with other interests to support our college. The major portion of the burden rests squarely on the shoulders of those who have received their training here and realize the peculiar place of Goshen College in Christian education.

The church constituency of Goshen College has been bearing the major portion of the burden. Support has been most gratifying. The Field Secretary of the College, your fellow alumnus, Irvin E. Burkhart, member of the class of 1926, has been serving as Field Secretary of the College for ten years. He enjoys meeting people and has been very successful in presenting the financial needs of the College to the members of the Mennonite Church in the Goshen College area and also to other elements in the constituency.

Irvin E. Burkhart

More and more the Mennonite Church looks to Goshen College for its teachers, missionaries, Sunday-school workers, Christian farmers, doctors, and nurses, as well as members of other professions. Interest in preparing Christian young people for work in the professions has grown tremendously in the Mennonite Church during the past few years, for in that time approximately one hundred young people have been graduated annually from one or more of the courses offered by the College. An even larger number of nongraduates also retain their interest in the institution even though they transferred to other institutions to complete their professional preparation or for graduate work.

Recent Alumni Contributions

Following is a list of the contributors to the Alumni Division of the Goshen College Accreditment Plan since the July issue of the News Letter—to about December 14. The total contributions for this period are about $7,000.00. This amount was contributed by about four hundred alumni, counting two for the families of alumni where both members have been students at Goshen College.

Many of the gifts were generous. One alumnus contributed $750.00 during this period, two $200.00, two $150.00, one $125.00, thirteen $100.00, one $80.00, sixteen $50.00, and sixty-one between $20.00 and $50.00. These are generous gifts, but certainly the president of the Alumni Association of Goshen College would be justified in proposing that out of over seven thousand alumni (former students and graduates), there should be more than four hundred contributors to the financial program of the Alumni Association during this period.

Totals to be Announced at End of Year

Please send in your contributions soon. It is our policy not to print the amount of a single gift, but at the end of the year, we expect to print the number of people in each class, the number of contributors from the class, and the total amount contributed by the class. At present, the class of 1930 leads all others by a considerable margin.

Will your name appear among the members of your class when we print the next report? What will your class total be at the end of the year?

EDITORIAL CHAT

This issue might be called a Class Letter Number. The editor regrets that the class letters crowded out about four pages of interesting "Personal Items" which must wait for the next issue.

Work on the Directory is progressing—right through Christmas vacation. About half of the material will be ready for the printer by mid-January. The remainder needs a few final touches, especially bringing changes of address up to date.

PROPOSED LOCATION OF THE NEW AUDITORIUM-GYMNASIUM

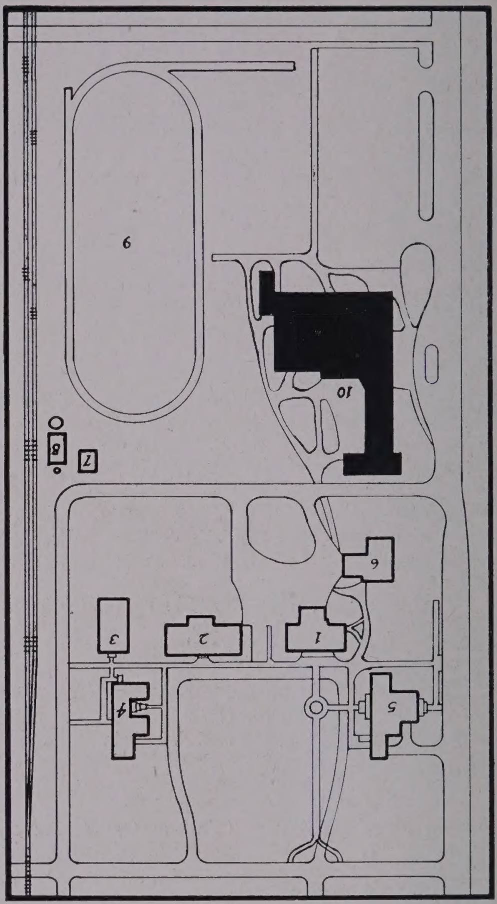
The above etching reprinted from the Goshen College Record indicates the location of the present buildings on the campus looking south from College Avenue. The space printed in solid black shows, approximately, the ground plan of the proposed Auditorium-gymnasium and Student Center.

The etching is printed upside down so that readers of the News Letter may compare this drawing with the aero-photo printed in the October issue. There the campus is seen also from the north. Ninth Street and the New York Central (Big Four) tracks and siding are shown at the left and South Main Street at the right.

Numbers identify the buildings as follows: (1) Administration Building, (2) Science Hall, (3) Gymnasium, (4) John S. Coffman Hall and the Apartment for the Dean of Men, (5) Kulp Hall and Health Center, (6) Memorial Library, (7) Former Interurban Sub-Station, now Garage and Shop, (8) New Heating Plant, (9) Athletic Field and Running Track, (10) Proposed Auditorium-Gymnasium and Student Center. High Park Avenue between the Library and the Auditorium site, as well as Ninth Street south of College Avenue, are private driveways owned by the College.

The main part of the proposed new building is the Auditorium-Gymnasium running east and west. The Student Center at the north, with a full basement for storage, is to provide room for the book store, a cafeteria, and a snack shop. It is to be nearly as large as the present gymnasium (Number 3 on the etching). Joining the Student Center and the Auditorium-Gymnasium is a smaller hall, somewhat larger than the present gymnasium which can be used for visual education, for smaller meetings of a semi-public nature, and also for student recreation.

The Student Center is the part of the building for which the Alumni Association of Goshen College proposes to raise $25,000.00 during the present fiscal year, September 1, 1946, to August 31, 1947. As mentioned elsewhere in this issue, response to this appeal, by several hundred alumni, has been prompt and generous; if the remaining seventy-five hundred alumni (former students and graduates) would contribute $5.00 each, we could far exceed our pledge. The officers of the Alumni Association are making a special appeal for contributions from alumni who have not yet joined the band of faithful givers. Any amount, however small, will be appreciated; but it takes a lot of small gifts to build a $25,000.00 Student Center.



GOSHEN COLLEGE PRESENTS PICTORIAL APPOINTMENT CALENDAR

For 1947 Goshen College proudly presents a weekly appointment calendar that combines utility, beauty, and cherished memory—a spiral-bound book with an appointment page for each week of 1947. In all, more than fifty photos have gone into the book, most of them having been taken especially for this purpose. The scenes are varied. Familiar buildings, traditional student activities, well-known personnel, campus beauty spots—the rare and the ordinary—will stir the memory of each alumnus as he turned to each week's appointment page and finds it flanked with a 5 x 6 photograph by the camera-artist, Merle Shanklin. Friends of the college will be introduced to the beauty of the campus and will feel the pulse of the life that moves within its walls. A limited number of copies are still available. One dollar sent to the Goshen College Bookstore will bring a copy postpaid to your door.

HOME-COMING, 1946

In spite of congested conditions on the campus and advance warning that the College would be unable to furnish lodging for all homecomers, the Home-Coming crowd was larger than usual. Everyone seemed happy and well taken care of, and so far as we know everyone was able to secure shelter for the night.

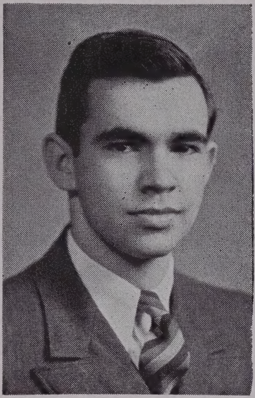
The Home-Coming program was considerably abbreviated, extending only over Thursday and Friday, November 28 and 29, instead of the entire week end as formerly.

Thursday, November 28

The Home-Coming exercises began with the usual Thanksgiving service at 10:30 in Assembly Hall. Dr. S. C. Yoder preached another of his great Thanksgiving sermons calling attention to both the material and spiritual blessings for which it is our privilege to give thanks.

Thanksgiving dinner, including A. C. Gingerich's famous Iowa turkeys, was served cafeteria style in the dining hall to four hundred and forty-six students and guests. Faculty members and other local alumni who usually enjoy the turkeys donated by Iowa's turkey king, this year ate their Thanksgiving dinner at home, most of them satisfied with the more humble goose, duck, or chicken.

Students, homecomers, alumni, and friends met in Assembly Hall at 2:00 for the after-dinner program. Reverend Robert Hartzler 41, pastor of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church, of Goshen, was chairman. Speakers on the program were Daniel Miller, B.A. 45, Th.B. 46, student at the New York Biblical Seminary; Professor Samuel A. Yoder, of the College; Ruby Hostetler 46, of Elkhart; and President Ernest E. Miller 17, of the College. Helen Hoover x43, of New Paris, accompanied by Rosemary Roose 43, favored the group with a vocal solo, and Charles Burkhart 49 with a piano solo.



Robert Hartzler

The A Cappella Chorus under the direction of Professor Walter E. Yoder presented the usual Home-Coming program in the high school auditorium on Thursday evening to an overflow audience. Scores of people stood throughout the program and the janitor estimated that more than one hundred had been turned away. (Another evidence of the crying need for an auditorium-gymnasium on the campus!)

Friday, November 29

The Friday program began with regular classes from 7:30 to 11:00, followed by Chapel in charge of Harold S. Bender, dean of the Goshen College Biblical Seminary. Speakers on the program were Paul Lederach, B.A. 45, Th.B. 46, of Lederach, Pennsylvania; Ralph Hernley 41, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania; and Rev. Amos Geigley 13 of Fairfield, Pennsylvania.

At 1:15 homecomers and friends gathered in Assembly Hall for the annual Musicale—numbers by the Collegiate Chorus directed by Miss Mary Oyer; solos by David Byler 45, of South Bend; a trio, Jean Rowsey 48, violin; Clara Ann Leist 48, cello; and Mary Ellen Bender 49, piano; a reading by Mrs. Melvin Rensberger (Lois Yoder x45); a piano duet by John Fisher 48, of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, and Ralph Wade 49, of Sterling, Illinois; and two numbers by the Vesper Male Quartet, Ralph Wade 48, of Sterling, Illinois; Albert Buckwalter 47, of Hesston, Kansas; Ralph Buckwalter 48, of Hesston, Kansas; and David Shank 48, of Goshen.

Both of the annual basketball games in the gymnasium on Friday afternoon were captured by the varsity. Both games were well played and the scores were large, but the varsity pulled through with the long end of the score. Varsity wins are probably due to the superior coaching of Roman Gingerich 41 and Edith Herr, directors, respectively, of men's and women's physical education.

The alumni men had a large number of former stars in suit: Fred Swartzendruber 44, of Chicago; Chester Long x44, of Rock Falls, Illinois; Wayne Yeater x40, formerly of New Paris; Cleland Gunden x41, of Goshen; Harold Holloway x , of Goshen; Gerald Miller 40, of Shipshewana; Walter Mumaw x45, of Wooster, Ohio; Ralph Hernley 41, of Scottdale, Pennsylvania; Ansel Henderson x48, of Sterling, Illinois; David Byler 44, of South Bend; Albert Miller 45, of Elkhart; Elbert Smith, Th.B. 46, of Grantham, Pennsylvania; and Eugene Schertz WBT, of Washington, Illinois.

The starting team for the varsity was Ray Bair 47, Lowell Short 50, Wyman Sundheimer 49, Junior Steiner 48, Elton Gunden 47, and David Krogh 50. The alumni played an excellent game, but Ray Bair's inability to miss shots put the varsity in the lead.

The women's game also was well played, but good team play of the varsity and the basketball shooting of Loreen Davidhizer of Wakarusa, gave the varsity the heavy end of the score.

Over two hundred and fifty single admission tickets were sold for the Home-Coming lecture at the high school in the evening. Anauta, only Eskimo woman on the platform, gave the audience their money's worth with her interesting account of Eskimo life in Baffin Land.

CHORUS RENDERS MESSIAH

A chorus of 250 voices, under the direction of Professor Walter E. Yoder 33, presented the Messiah to an overflow audience in the College gymnasium on Sunday afternoon, December 15. Soloists were: Romaine Stahl 47 of Davidsville, Pa., Soprano; Avis Saltzman 47 of Grantham, Pa., alto; Dwight Weldy 40 of Akron, Ohio, tenor; and Wilbur Huneryager of Goshen, bass.

SECOND SEMESTER ENROLLMENT

Dr. Paul Bender, registrar, estimates that more than fifty new students will be admitted at the beginning of the second semester on January 27. Early in December, twenty-two had already been admitted. eighteen were in process, and the Admissions Office is receiving new applications almost daily.

No more women can be admitted who wish to live in the dormitories. There is room for a few more men in the quadrangle. C. L. Graber, business manager, has been able to locate a few more apartments for married students. As was true in September, enrollment is being limited by lack of housing and by lack of room in the classes. Some classes are already much too large.

The small number of first semester dropouts fails to make much room for new students. All but a half dozen of the first semester students plan to return for the second semester.

Front row left to right: Lenze Meinsma, of Holland; Adele Haddad and Gladys Kemp of Lebanon; Virginia and Ampero Gonzales, of Puerto Rico; Meintje Kuitse, of Holland, and Willy Piron of Belgium. Back row left to right: Adolfo Comba of Italy; Johannes Matthijssen of Holland; Gabriel Coll, Fidel Mercado, and Miguel Limardo all of Puerto Rico.

Not present at the time this picture was taken were Immetje Terwey and Willem van der Vlugt of Holland.

ENROLLMENT FOR THE YEAR 1947-48

President Ernest E. Miller is already looking forward to next year's enrollment with considerable misgiving. It seems inevitable that the number of applications for enrollment next year will greatly exceed the number received last summer and fall. Alumni and other friends of the College who wish to make certain that their young friends and relatives will be admitted to Goshen College in September, 1947, should see to it that they apply for admission as soon as possible.

Applications for admission may be had by writing to the president, the registrar, one of the deans. or the new student secretary. Students who will be graduating from high school next spring should apply for admission now even though it will be impossible to fill out the high school record in full at this time.

The College is particularly desirous of accommodating children of alumni, members of large Mennonite communities who have been giving loyal support to the College, and also young people of the local Goshen community, especially the city of Goshen and Elkhart County. It should be stated again that in order to make sure of admission in September, 1947, applications should be filed soon. Scores of applicants were refused admission in August and September, 1946, and the same undoubtedly will be true during the summer of 1947.

NAMED DEAN OF HARVARD

Dr. Wilbur J. Bender x25, son of Mrs. Elsie and the late George L. Bender, was elected dean of the Liberal Arts School at Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts, on November 26. He succeeded Dr. A. Chester Hanford, the university's longest tenured dean, who has resigned to become professor of government at the university.

Dr. Bender is married and the father of two daughters and one son. His wife is the former Laura Fay, daughter of the professor of history at Harvard. He is the brother of Dr. Harold S. Bender 15 dean of the Goshen College Biblical Seminary.

EXPANDING MISSIONARY ACTIVITY

Alumni are taking an active part in the growing missionary work of the Mennonite Church. Bishop Joseph D. Graber 25, secretary of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, left Elkhart on November 19 for a tour that will take him to new mission fields and around the globe. He was scheduled to leave New York on November 20, London on November 22, Cairo on November 24, and to arrive at the Mennonite Relief Unit in Nazareth, Ethiopia, on November 25. G. Irvin Lehman reports that the hospital building at that place is nearly completed and that they hoped to have the dedication service about December 1.

After a visit with the relief workers in Ethiopia where the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, of which Orie O. Miller 15, of Akron, Pa., is secretary, has decided to open mission work, Mr. Graber is scheduled to arrive at Dondi, C.P.. India, on December 10, then at Shanghai, China, for a visit with the American Advisory Committee in mid-February. In China his chief interest will be the location of a new field of Mennonite missionary activity in that country. He is scheduled to arrive home about April 1.

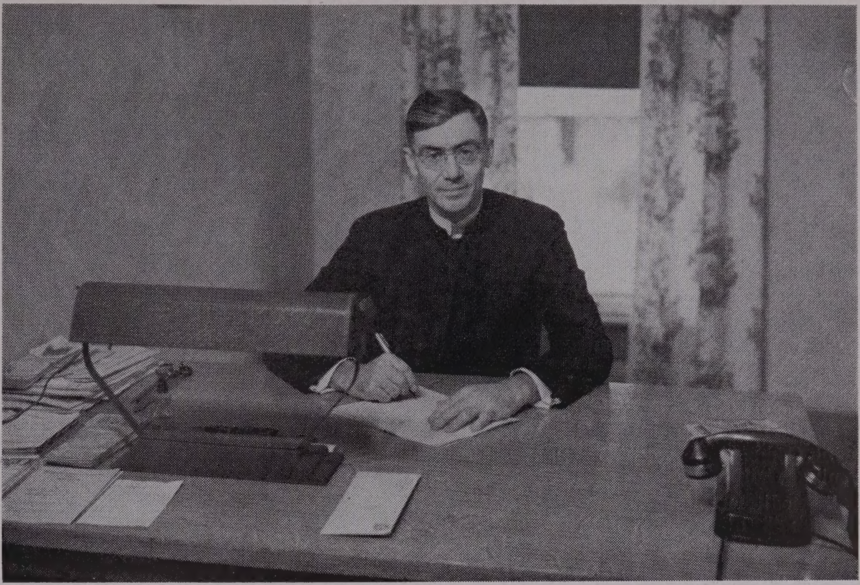
On October 11, word was received that India residence permits had been granted to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. King (Nellie Zook 27) and family, Dr. and Mrs. Jonathan G. Yoder 27 (Fyrne Miller 30) and family, Mary M. Good 19, Elizabeth Erb, R.N., and Verna Burkholder 43. The King family and Misses Burkholder and Erb are to leave from Seattle, Washington, on the S/S Marine Falcon on December 31 for the India mission field. The Yoder family and Miss Good will leave later, probably about January 15.

R. R. Smucker 28, former missionary to India, who until recently was pastor of the Yellow Creek Mennonite congregation west of Goshen, also is under appointment to return for a three-year period of service in India, and is scheduled to leave early in the new year. Professor John Mosemann of the college faculty has been appointed pastor of the Yellow Creek congregation during Mr. Smucker's absence.

Permission has at last been granted to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hershey, B.A. 36, Th.B. 38, (Alta Good 38) and family, of Chicago, to Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Byler, B.A. 40, Th.B. 45 (Anna Hallman 38) and family, of Mathis, Texas, and to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Snyder 46 (Doris Swartzentruber x44) and family, of Kitchener, Ontario. to enter Argentina. As we go to press, the sailing date has not been decided.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, the committee decided to open mission work in Uruguay, a republic adjoining Argentina in South America. The committee had decided to send the Hershey, Byler, and Snyder families to that country to open a new mission station, provided permits to Argentina were again refused or unduly delayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McCammon, B.A. 45, Th.B. 46 (Dorothy Snapp 44), who are under appointment for mission work in China, are enrolled at Cornell University, in Ithaca, New York, studying the Chinese language and civilization in preparation for their assignment. Both Mr. and Mrs. McCammon are of non-Mennonite parentage and background, but both have demonstrated unusual comprehension of, and adherence to, the basic principles of the evangelical faith as taught and practiced by the Mennonite Church.



J. D. Graber

RELIEF COMMISSIONER TO EUROPE

Orie O. Miller 15, executive secretary of the Mennonite Central Committee, arrived in Amsterdam on November 17 for several weeks work with the over-all future of the Mennonite European relief program. He was sent as special relief commissioner by the M.C.C.

He visited most of the Mennonite relief projects in Europe, and arranged for permanent general headquarters in Basel, Switzerland, where Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Beechy 35 (Winifred Nelson 38) and small child will live. Mr. Beechy is general director of European relief under the M.C.C.

ORDAINED TO THE MINISTRY

Richard Yordy

On Sunday November 3, Richard Yordy, A.B. 45, Th.B. 46, was ordained to the ministry at Perryton, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Yordy (Ruth Pauline Miller x45) have had charge of the congregation at Perryton in the absence of the regular pastor, Richard Showalter, who is registered as a senior in the Goshen College Biblical Seminary. Mr. Yordy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yordy x21 (Alma Eigsti x19), of Chicago.

Bishop Allen Erb x10, of La Junta, who serves as bishop of the Perryton congregation, was in charge of the ordination. The ordination service came at the end of a Bible conference extending from October 27 to November 3.

ACTIVITIES AT THE PORTLAND MISSION

The November issue of the Mennonite Gospel Mission news letter edited by Paul E. Yoder, superintendent of the Portland, Oregon, Mission, gives evidence that the work is growing. The kindergarten opened on October 7 with an enrollment of one pupil. It has gradually grown until the enrollment in November was fourteen with prospects of further increase.

The Girls' Club started on October 2 with an enrollment of thirty-five girls between the ages of six and thirteen. The younger girls meet on Thursday and the older girls meet on Friday after school.

Boys' Shop, under the instruction of Paul Yoder x39, opened on Thursday afternoon, October 10. In November there were nine boys and an expected increase in enrollment.

Mrs. Yoder (Flossie Lehman 37) has charge of the home nursing class for mothers each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. The nine mothers enrolled are interested in a course of Bible lessons.

The workers at the mission are doing some work in the Negro settlement near the mission.

WEDDING BELLS

On Tuesday evening, December 3, Doris Zehr x47, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zehr, of Morton, Illinois, became the bride of Robert Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Yoder, of Eureka. Harold Oyer, of Morton, pastor of the New Castle Mennonite Church, was the officiating minister. Mrs. Yoder taught Maple Lawn School near Eureka for two years. Mr. Yoder is engaged in farming with his father near Eureka.

On Friday, November 15, Earl Troyer x45, son of Bishop and Mrs. N. E. Troyer, of route one, West Liberty, Ohio, and Madeline Plank x47, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Plank, of route two, West Liberty, were united in marriage at the Oak Grove Mennonite Church, the groom's father performing the ceremony. Mrs. Troyer is employed by the John A. Hare Insurance Agency and Mr. Troyer is manager of the West Liberty branch of the Neuhauser Hatchery Company.

On May 25, 1946, in the Congregational-Christian Church, in West Liberty, Ohio, Hilda Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Warye 17 (Nellie Marie Yoder x), of route three, Urbana, Ohio, and Wayne H. Brenneman 47, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heber C. Brenneman, of Goshen, were united in marriage. The Reverend Robert Wearly was the officiating minister. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brenneman were graduates of the Fort Wayne Bible Institute in 1945. They are living in Goshen and attending Goshen College.

Maurine Culp 46, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Culp (Cora Smucker x16), of Tiskilwa, Illinois, and Robert Hess, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Hess, of Goshen, were united in marriage on October 20 at the home of the bride's parents. Ralph Smucker 28. uncle of the bride, read the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hess are living in Goshen.

The editor missed the announcement of the wedding of LaVerne Wenger x40 and Edwin Hollenbach. They were married June 3, 1944, and are now living at Crum Lynne, Pennsylvania. Mr. Hollenbach is a mechanical engineer employed by the Rheem Manufacturing Company. Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbach were Home-Coming visitors at Goshen at Thanksgiving.

The editor missed the wedding of Rose Anna Eigsti x33 at Eureka, Illinois, about a year ago. Miss Eigsti, the daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Eigsti, of Manson, Iowa, and Jacob Graber, son of Mrs. Marie Graber, of Secor, Illinois. were married on December 15 at the home of Bishop Ezra Yordy, the officiating minister. Mrs. Graber taught in the rural schools at Manson. Iowa, for several years after she attended Goshen College. For the last ten years, she has been employed at the Home for the Aged at Eureka, Illinois, and served as assistant matron during the past several years. Mr. Graber has been engaged in farming near Secor, Illinois. Following their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Graber spent several weeks in the southern states. Since that time they have been living on Mr. Graber's farm near Secor.

On October 30, Lawrence Greaser, a relief worker in Puerto Rico, and Annabelle Troyer, R.N., B.A.. Th.B. 45, were united in marriage at La Plata, Puerto Rico. Dr. George Troyer x16, father of the bride, was the officiating minister. Both Mr. and Mrs. Greaser have been engaged in relief work in Puerto Rico. They expect to return to the States soon after the beginning of the new year. Mr. Greaser will enter college to complete his course. They are planning later to engage in mission work on the foreign field.

Paul King 41, son of Mr. and Mrs. William King, of Howard County, and Evonna Charlene Myers x47, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myers of Kokomo, Indiana, were married on June 2. 1946. Bishop Anson G. Horner x17, uncle of the groom, was the officiating minister. Mrs. King has been employed as a secretary since completing the secretarial course at Goshen College in 1944. Mr. King is teaching in the Howard Township Schools near Kokomo.

On August 11, Henry Troyer 38, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Troyer, of Walnut Creek, Ohio, and Thelma Sundheimer, daughter of Mrs. Paul McKee, of Killbuck, Ohio, were married at the Walnut Creek Mennonite Church by Bishop Paul W. Miller. Mr. Troyer has resumed his teaching duties after spending four years in C.P.S. Mrs. Troyer is completing nurse's training at the Aultman Hospital, in Canton, Ohio.

On November 17 Phyllis Evans x49, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Evans of Milford, became the bride of Stanley Custer, a student at Indiana University. Rev. Harry Graham 46, the bride's pastor, was the officiating minister.

Dale Wenger 39, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wenger, of South English, Iowa, and Twila Swartzendruber 43, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swartzendruber of Manson, Iowa, were united in marriage on June 20, 1946. at the Cedar Creek Church near Manson.

On November 1, at the home of the bride's parents, Virgil Goetz W.B.T., of the Yellowcreek congregation near Goshen, and Bertha Burkholder of the Prairie Street congregation in Elkhart were united in marriage by Bishop D. A. Yoder.

On November 7 Anna Hoover 10, member of Yellow Creek Mennonite congregation west of Goshen, became the bride of Harvey Bollman, a member of the North Main Street congregation at Nappanee. Homer F. North x15 performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Abram Hartman (Ada M. Hoover 14) of rural route three, Goshen. Mrs. Bollman has been a faithful and highly successful school teacher in Harrison Township for many years. Mr. and Mrs. Bollman live on North Main Street, Nappanee. Mr. Bollman is employed as a clerk in the Shiveley Hardware Store.

On October 19 Lois Johns 45 Th.B. 46, daughter of Bishop and Mrs. Otis N. Johns x07 (Margaret Rickert 09), of 1509 East Main Street, Louisville, Ohio, became the bride of Lester Glen Yoder 44 Th. B. 45, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Yoder, of Garden City, Missouri. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by her father. Mrs. Yoder taught in the public schools of Stark County, Ohio, for several years before returning to complete her college work. Mr. Yoder, after completing his course for the degree, Bachelor of Theology, at Goshen, was ordained to the ministry and is serving as pastor of the Mennonite Church at Protection, Kansas.

Lois Johns

Mr. and Mrs. Niemann A. Brunk 32 (LaVerne K. Schertz x34) of Frederick, Maryland, adopted a second daughter on July 20. Her name is Barbara Ann.

Ruth Yvonne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kraus 46 (Ruth Smith x42) of Harrisonburg, Virginia, was born on March 16.

IN MEMORIAM

On December 3 Levi S. Eash x11 of 134½ South Main Street, real estate dealer in Goshen for many years, died at the Shieber convalescent home near Bristol after an illness of nearly a year. He was born in Lagrange County on April 3, 1866, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eash. The Reverend Robert Hartzler 41, pastor of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church, officiated at the funeral service.

On October 16 Forrest Ober, aged forty years, of near Garrett, husband of the former May Warstler x34, of Goshen, was killed in a fall from a ladder while painting a barn near Corunna. He married May Warstler, a teacher in the Goshen public schools, six years ago. Surviving are his wife and three small sons, David. Larry and Kent.

Mrs. Frank Yoder, the former Cora Miller, a member of the College Mennonite Congregation, passed away very suddenly on October 20 at the age of sixty. She was the mother of three sons and one daughter. Two sons, Lester O. 32, of 111 Garfield Street, Goshen, and Ira Stanley x46, of 1214 Hickory Street, Goshen, are Goshen College Alumni. Interment was made in Miller's Cemetery east of Goshen.

Jesse E. Smucker, descendant of a family long prominent in Amish Mennonite circles, died very unexpectedly at his home in Goshen on November 2. The youngest son of Jonathan and Saloma Peight Smucker, he was born at Nappanee, February 27, 1878. On March 11, 1900, he was united in marriage to Anna Yoder who preceded him in death in 1909. They were the parents of five children. (Edith x20—Mrs. Shipstock, of Goshen; Paul 22, of Philadelphia; Silas 30, of Rensselaer; Ruth x29—Mrs. Ora Yoder—of Shipshewana; and Anna x30—Mrs. William Ropp—of Detroit). On February 20, 1910, he was united in marriage to Emma Zook. She was the mother of Hazel Marie 30, Mrs. Paton Yoder, of Santa Barbara, California. His widow, Emma, and six children survive him.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE 1941 CLASS LETTER

Most of these letters were written in November, mailed to Nelson Springer, efficient manager of the Goshen College Bookstore and Snack Shop, mimeographed by him, and mailed out to the members of the class.

Mrs. Paul Conrad (Nancy Hernley) wrote from Nazreth, Ethiopia, on October 7 telling in an interesting way about the work at the hospital. The personnel of the Mennonite unit in Ethiopia now includes Dr. and Mrs. Paul Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. G. Irvin Lehman, Ervin Hooley, Geneva Alexander 48, and Dorsa Mishler 42. (Mrs. Mishler, the former Mary Diller, of Elida. Ohio, now also is on the way to join the unit.) They are holding church services in English and also have organized a service in Amharic.

Ethel Zook writes from the Mennonite Hospital at La Junta that the new wing is making favorable progress and that the management hopes to move into it by February 1. The solarium is now being used for overflow patients.

Harold Dwayne, who arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs Raymond Charles (Anna Lois Bucher) in October, reduced Mrs. Charles' letter to a bare eight lines.

Howard J. Zehr, of Freeport, Illinois, held meetings at the Locust Grove Mission south of Elkhart during the fore part of November.

Charlotte Zehr wrote from Croghan, New York, while she was listening to the election returns. She seems not to have been too unhappy at the re-election of Dewey. She planned to spend Thursday and Friday of Thanksgiving week in Atlantic City attending the convention of the National Council of Teachers of English. The Zehrs also plan to spend Christmas in Florida.

Arnold Dietzel is enjoying his duties at Hesston College as director of physical education along with teaching bookkeeping, college accounting, and college geography. Arnold was surprised to find mud in Kansas. He had expected to see dust.

Mrs. Henry Becker (Gladys Weaver) wrote from Aberdeen, Idaho. The Beckers are planning to be in Goshen College during the second semester in preparation for sailing next fall as missionaries to Bihar, India.

Lola Schertz gives a Washington. D.C., address and writes that she is working in a hospital that has all private patients. Her roommate is the young woman who was dietitian at Powellsville C.P.S. Camp. The latter is employed as telephone operator in the Catholic University.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Shoemaker. of Dakota, Illinois, spent a week at Little Eden Camp in Michigan last summer. They crossed Lake Michigan on the ferry. He writes that they "enjoyed Little Eden because of the Christian atmosphere, and also because they were four hundred miles away from their farm chores."

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sutter (Elsie Eash) are living at Kouts, Indiana. Clayton's mother having passed away in June, they are living with Clayton's father. Clayton is carpentering at a near-by elevator which is being remodeled.

Alfred Zook had a contract as science instructor at the Rittman Junior High School, but has been given a year's leave of absence to recover from an acute chest infection. He is at Tuscarawas Valley Sanatorium, New Philadelphia, Ohio.

Dr. Ernest Smucker's letter bubbles with the usual amount of humor and tells interestingly of their children, John, Ernie, and Elaine Kay. Dr. Smucker enjoys his work at Fisher very much.

Clarence D. Hooley is back at North Lawrence, Ohio. He states that his "two greatest problems are finding a car and an assistant laboratory technician."

Adeline Aschliman. director of nurses at Protestant Deaconess Hospital, Evansville, Indiana, since September 1, spent a week at Little Eden "where boat rides on the lake and on into Lake Michigan are a serene delight." She also visited New York City and in late September represented her School of Nursing at the American Nurses' Association biennial convention in Atlantic City, also the Protestant Hospital Association Convention in Philadelphia. She traveled by air but found the sudden rise to ten thousand feet up rather uncomfortable. In October she spent a day at the Kentucky State Association Convention at Owensboro. Miss Aschliman is teaching two professional adjustment courses. The hospital has one hundred and fifty students in the School of Nursing, and seventy-five registered nurses as faculty and staff to care for an overcrowded hospital of two hundred and seventy-five beds with a million-dollar addition in the process of being built.

Nellie Esch is "in the income tax paying group again" and likes it. After completing her course in St. Luke's Hospital, she began work as X-ray technician at Central X-ray and Clinical Laboratories in the Chicago loop.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Engle (Doris Stuckey) have moved to a farm near Pettisville, Ohio, where they are taking up farming next spring. As mentioned elsewhere in this issue, they attended Home-Coming at the College. They mention enjoying talks by Miss Mary Royer 30 and Miss Olive Wyse 26 at the Young Married People's Literary at Archbold.

Betty Landaw spent most of her summer vacation at the lake "fishing, swimming, and taking life easy." Now she is teaching forty fifth and sixth graders at the Pike Street School in Goshen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hernley are living on a nineteen-acre farm about three miles southwest of Scottdale with Mr. Hernley's sister and her husband. They have thirty-six hogs and one chicken. The chicken was a present from Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Stoltzfus 41 (Phyllis Hartzler 39) when they visited them in August. The chicken was expected to furnish a meal but she lays eggs so faithfully that so far she has escaped the frying pan.

Ruth Inbody finished her work for the M.A. at Ball State with special work in business education. She is teaching at the Merrillville High School three miles south of Gary, three typing classes, two shorthand classes, and a bookkeeping class. She is enjoying her work. She also finds time to take a physical education course at the Y.W.C.A. in Gary and to attend the meetings of the Association of University Women.

Paul King, route four, Kokomo, who married Evonna Charlene Myers x47 on June 2, took time off from helping his brother with carpenter work to enjoy a honeymoon at Mammoth Cave, and to spend a week at Little Eden Mennonite Camp in Michigan in July where he taught nature study and Mrs. King supervised household camp activities of the children. He is teaching in Howard Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Regier (Eunice Weaver) continue to enjoy their residence in Wyandotte, Michigan. They spent part of the summer visiting friends in central Kansas and in Goshen.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kendall Troyer and daughter. Arlene, are living on route five. Kokomo. Mr. Troyer is principal of an elementary school south of Kokomo.

Harvey Birkeys are continuing their tract distribution and Gospel teaching in the Southland. Their winter address is Sarasota, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Kreider and son are living in President Miller's comfortable upstairs apartment on Eighth Street. He is taking fifteen hours in the Goshen College Biblical Seminary and teaching five hours: Principles of Accounting and Secretarial Accounting. Last summer the Kreiders spent a week at Little Eden Camp in August. Mr. Kreider was also moderator of the Ohio Christian Workers' Conference last summer.

Carol Glick is teaching in the Baptist Academy at Barranquitas, Puerto Rico, a school with one hundred and fifty students from the ninth to the twelfth grades.

Mr. and Mrs. Roman Gingerich (Shirley Erb 39) and children have moved to their garage home on their five-acre plot east of the College on College Avenue. Mr. Gingerich's return from C.P.S. has given new life to the physical education program and recreational activities on the campus.

Robert Hartzler, now pastor of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church, in Goshen, found time to write about little else than their new son, Geoffrey Oliver.

The letter closes with an interesting two-page account of activities on the campus written in his own inimitable way by Mr. Springer. The editor is tempted to include the entire letter at this point because it gives a complete and interesting overview of life at the College since September.

N. SPRINGER'S LETTER TO CLASS OF 1941

Goshen College, Goshen, Indiana, November 22, 1946

Dear Classmates,

About now you can sit back and begin to catch your breath, for the end is on the next page. I'll catch mine too, because it's always good to see the letters whipping into shape and acting as if they were ready to fold themselves into their envelopes. I spilled them on the floor once already today; so I'd better hurry them along, lest they be ruined. I want to express my appreciation for the help Miriam Stalter gave me in cutting the stencils, making it possible for me to get them out as soon as this. She sends greetings and has appointed me to give the college news.

Nelson Springer

During the summer we frequently wondered how Goshen College would seem to us with five hundred students. Longer ago we had talked about going back to "the good old days." Now we know that five hundred students are a crowd for our campus, and that the "good old days" don't repeat themselves. Goshen College during the war was different from Goshen College before the war, and postwar Goshen College is different from either one. There's enough of the old that we can recognize our own alma mater. but there's plenty of the new to indicate progress on the one hand and new battles to face on the other.

Shall I give you a bit of a picture of campus life? Traditionally the day on Goshen College campus used to begin with the broken bell driving fellows down the front steps of Coffman Hall, two steps at a time, buttoning their shirts as they went. There is no broken bell now. One, two, three at a time the girls and fellows come from all directions—girls from Coffman Hall; fellows from the Quadrangle, the Eighth Street House; and both from all the other places in which students are now living. This begins about 7:00 a.m. and lasts to 8:20 a.m. Too many boarding students for the dining hall forced cafeteria service upon us. We still enjoy the fine dining hall fellowship, however, for we fill up the tables as we go and don't leave one person stranded by himself at a table, if he doesn't happen to be in our gang. Food is served from a steam table just inside the kitchen from the dining hall. As you pass, it seems you see dozens of people working with the food preparation and dishwashing. Mrs. Sieber, however, is no longer there. She's closed her years of faithful service for the College, but lives with her sister, Mrs. A. E. Kreider. near enough to the campus to come to our special meetings.

Classes begin at 7:30. The fourth period closes at 11:10, the beginning of chapel. In chapel we get the best picture of what a mass five hundred students is. P.G.'s, Seniors, and Freshmen occupy the main floor. Juniors and Sophomores the balcony, and the faculty and staff members are privileged to sit on folding chairs in the corners of the hall, facing the sides of the platform. To accommodate a few overflow people the east side-room is opened daily. At 11:30 the fifth morning class begins. On Tuesdays and Thursdays this time is reserved for the choruses—A Cappella mixed, Collegiate Chorus mixed, and a third chorus of women. Incidentally the chorus which is rehearsing for the Messiah fills the main floor of chapel hall. The program will be given December 15 in the high school auditorium. (The lecture numbers are held there too, with a crowd of one thousand attending the first one.) The three afternoon classes meet on the schedule familiar to all of us.

One day in chapel someone remarked about a janitor who was trampled to death in a Chicago high school some weeks ago. That's about the feeling you have if you venture out into the halls when classes are changing. We almost need traffic cops to direct the traffic. It's the same story everywhere you go. Everything is filled. In the library they have opened the Mennonite Historical Library as a reading room for the Freshmen. They're planning to make a study hall for the Winter Bible School people in the basement of Science Hall. Classes are larger than any we've ever had. I ordered nearly two hundred composition books for the Freshmen for the first semester (one hundred and sixty-five of them are still to come), and for the second semester I've ordered over two hundred books for Introduction to Literature.

Campus life seems to have adjusted itself quite nicely to all of these things. Student organizations are active and are loyally supported. Among the new organizations are the flying and science clubs. We have enjoyed a fine series of revival meetings under the leadership of Paul Erb, with excellent interest among the crowds which attended each session. An unusually beautiful autumn has given Roman excellent opportunity for a full athletic program. Missing is a measure of the "one big family" spirit. Do you remember how we used to talk about faculty members who passed us without greeting us? Now the students meet faculty members on the campus and don't even look at them.

A fine group of foreign students add accent to campus living. I can say that for several reasons. Most obvious, of course, is the accent in their speech—Dutch, Belgian, Italian, Libanese, Puerto Rican, and I think I'd better include Argentinian too. In addition there is the accent of their cultural backgrounds. Speaking what I think is the opinion on the campus, I'd say we're glad they're here, and we want to make their year with us an enjoyable one.

It seemed good to have Howard Zehr with us for a week. I was fighting a case of laryngitis at the time and got to only his Sunday meetings, but I enjoyed that much at least. The Locust Grove and East Goshen Sunday schools are doing very nicely as student missionary projects. I spent two days with Russ Krabill and the Locust Grove boys in camp at Joe Brunk's Michigan cabin in August. For several months following I helped with the Sunday-school work too, and I've learned to love those people.

This year I'm rooming at Dean Bender's, for they've gone back to taking roomers as they did when we were Freshmen. and about four of our number lived there. Now they've made a room in the attic. Altogether seven of us fellows live there. I carried through the hectic days of the opening of school quite well, in spite of the fact that books were harder to get this year than they have been at any time in my experience. Bit by bit the continued pressure has borne down upon me, so that I'd much rather spend a quiet week at home than to endure the drudgery of another Home-Coming.

I'm sorry for the absences from our class letter this time. It would be more work, but a lot more fun if we had response from every member of the class. I should make apologies for Sam and Ella May, because I didn't send them a notice, but trusted they would remember the general instructions last spring, as Nancy did. Set down the last week of March as the time for you to supply letters for the next issue. I won't attach a list of addresses of the missing members, for some of the addresses are in doubt.

Fellows, the barn in which we met for the Senior Sneak is gone. It's now Alta Schrock's residence and stands nearer the race.

Sincerely,
Sprink.

NOTES FROM THE 1944 CLASS LETTER

Most of these letters were written in November. They were sent to Lois Litwiller at Hesston College and mailed out to members of the class from there.

Walter E. Schlabach will complete his work at Hahnemann Medical School in Philadelphia about March 1. Last summer he served for two and one-half months on the staff at Woman's Hospital in Philadelphia in the obstetrical ward; did mostly medical work and emergency laboratory work. He also took the first part of the National Board Medical examinations.

Miss Neva White, librarian at the College, has a staff of thirty students. She is well pleased with her help this year. (Miss White is doing a highly creditable piece of work as a librarian.—Ed.)

After eleven weeks at the Summer Institute of Linguistics at Norman, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. Don McCammon (Dorothy Snapp) are studying Chinese at Cornell University. They are also taking courses in agriculture and in home economics. They occupy a furnished house and also have a Ford. They will probably remain at Cornell until June in preparation for mission work in China.

Wilma Roeschley is teaching at Cromwell. Last summer she and Jeannette Rowell, the history teacher at Cromwell, attended Indiana University for nine weeks. Miss Roeschley studied band arranging, public speaking, and teaching of English. She is taking the Tuesday evening class in oral interpretation at the College this winter.

Ruby Fisher is teaching thirty-nine first graders in the public schools of Degraff, Ohio. Last summer she spent a week at Little Eden Camp at Portage Lake near Lake Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Ulrich (Betty Stutzman) are living at 815 Meadows, East Peoria, Illinois, only a few blocks from the schoolhouse where the Highway Village Sunday School meets. Mr. Ulrich is teaching and Mrs. Ulrich is employed as a stenographer at one of the large department stores in Peoria. During Christmas vacation. Mr. Ulrich will be director of the Young People's Normal at Fisher.

Norma Hostetler spends most of her eight-hour day on the campus working at making drawings for the first grade summer Bible school workbook, and the supplementary material that goes with it. She is employed by the Mennonite Publishing House.

Della Lapp ended her first year teaching a one-room rural school in May, taught Bible school at the Wooster, Ohio, Mission for two weeks, and another two weeks at Belleville, Pennsylvania. She is teaching thirty-nine fifth graders in a school about six miles from home. She is also taking a course in visual education at Westminster College, and is newspaper reporter for the New Wilmington Printing Office.

Mrs. Earl Lehman (Areta Graber) finds work at the mission interesting. The Chicago Mission is giving one hour of religious instruction per week to public school children released for this purpose.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kauffman are living in a prefabricated house located in the new campus addition at Hesston College. He writes that the auditorium-gymnasium is progressing rapidly since the steel has arrived.

Marie Kauffman wrote her letter from a little three-roomed cabin in the heart of the Ozarks. She is teaching in the parochial school at Culp. Arkansas. The present enrollment is about thirty. She is teaching the four upper grades and supervising the work in the lower four. Dorothy Horst is teaching in the high school.

Alice Yeater again is teaching in Leesburg. During the summer she seriously considered accepting a position in the editorial office of the Methodist Publishing House at Nashville, Tennessee. As you would expect, she does a bit of philosophizing: Sometimes, in the midst of a trying day, I look up at the sky and trees and try to recapture that feeling of peaceful serenity that used to engulf me as I listened to the Goshen College Student Body sing in chapel. I suppose the feeling can be captured anywhere God is, but that was one place it seemed especially easy. The harmony was truly "music of the spheres" and gave one the feeling of being "hitched up to reality," to put it in someone else's words. I couldn't put it into words myself! I think, perhaps, it is the memory of such experiences that keeps alive a sometimes flickering hope that somehow the world may yet achieve peace. I have known folks who lived hinged up to reality. They may not be many and the sphere of their influence may be small but so long as they are true to the highest they know, they'll have the backing of the universe, if not the world.

Adella Brunk is now "on affiliation" at the Denver General Hospital. Because the bed capacity at the Mennonite Hospital does not meet state requirements for all the special services, nine months of the senior year of training are spent at larger hospitals. Her work this summer was with psychiatric patients at the Colorado State Hospital, in Pueblo, "largest hospital west of Chicago."

Ruth Eleanor Mendenhall is in the latter part of the junior year of medical school at Northwestern University. This term she is doing ophthalmology, internal medicine, and dermatology. Last summer she worked for the Y.W.C.A. as doctor in a summer camp.

Melva Kauffman, teacher at Hesston College, seems to have been so busy helping to prepare the class letter that she had little time for a news item of her own. The same is true of Lois Litwiller. Probably the latter was saving most of her news for Home-Coming at Goshen. She visited her family and other friends on the campus during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Fred Swartzentruber is rooming at 639 Groveland Park, Chicago 6, Illinois, with Lisle Roose and Richard Yoder. The latter two are studying medicine at Northwestern University and Fred at Illinois. During November, he was at St. Luke's Hospital on his senior anesthesia clerkship. The present term is his surgical quarter. He spends most of his time at Cook County, Research, and Educational Hospitals.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE FIRST CLASS LETTER OF THE CLASS OF 1946—SIX MONTHS AFTER GRADUATION

Ferne Barkey—home room of nineteen fifth graders, all Amish but six—teaching music in all grades from one to eight—seventh grade literature and writing, all Amish but two.

Harold Bauman, graduate work in Th.B. course—proctor of the Quadrangles.

Mrs. Duane Blough (Dorothy Shoup)—employed in the office of Barler Metal Products in Goshen.

John Balyo, pastor of Simonton Lake Baptist Church, route two. Elkhart, has accepted a call to Bible Baptist Church in Kokomo—will move December 1.

Royal Bauer, graduate student in Th.B. course—employed in the Snack Shop and post office—teaching Bible in Clinton Community School—two hundred students in all eight grades, every Wednesday afternoon.

Kay Crager, applied for admission to Women's Medical in Philadelphia—accepted a position in the serology department of St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago.

David Derstine, taking fifteen hours of seminary work—teaching Bible one afternoon at each of three schools, Benton, Millersburg, and Juday—teaching four classes in each school. Mrs. Derstine (Maxine Troyer x46) is clerking in the Purl Street Grocery.

Ruth Carper, in Goshen, teacher in Locust Grove extension Sunday school—working out the new Kindergarten I lesson activities for the new Mennonite Publishing House set.

Anna Cocanower—bookkeeper in the College business office.

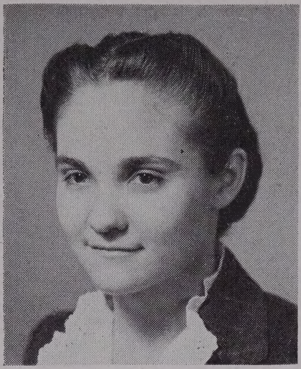
Esther Eash—fifty-one pupils in the first four grades in Johnstown Mennonite School, a parent-supported parochial school.

Paul Friesen—graduate work in Th.B. curriculum—proctor of North Hall—teaching Bible classes in the Wakarusa high school every Wednesday afternoon.

James Gurley—address. route three, Columbia City, Indiana—pastor of the Ormas Baptist Church—teacher of seventh and eighth grades at the Troy Center School.

Rev. Harry L. Graham and their three children, after five and a half happy years at Milford. are moving to Bargersville, Indiana, a rural church twenty miles south of Indianapolis, on January 1.

Grace Eichelberger



Winifred Erb

Catherine Hernley

Grace Eichelberger, R.N.—in China, struggling furiously with the Chinese language—loaned to U.N.R.R.A. for a project at Fu Kuo made desperately needy by the flood—to establish orphanages and old people's homes.

Winifred Erb's half page bubbles with enthusiasm for her work in the Johnstown Mennonite School.

Catherine Hernley—secretary to Paul Erb, editor of the Gospel Herald, and bookkeeper and secretary in the office of The Mennonite Community.

Doran Hershberger—address, Building 45-2, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York—beginning a three-year technical course in the General Electric Advanced Engineering Program.

Elizabeth Hershberger—teacher of thirty-three second and third graders in the Honeyville School in Eden Township, east of Goshen. (The editor wishes all of you could read some of these letters—very interesting.) Miss Hershberger. with Mrs. Daniel Diener (Carrie Yoder 37) and Ferne Barkey, makes the fifteen-mile trip from Goshen to Honeyville and return each day.

Wilma Hollopeter is teaching three home economics courses, a sophomore English class, planning meals and ordering groceries for the cafeteria—a school of three hundred and five students with fourteen full-time and four part-time teachers. Miss Hollopeter writes, "Certainly Goshen College was one of the best places to spend four years preceding actual service. Goshen College and students along with other church leaders left their impressions on many of us and have grounded us in some basic things. So grateful I am to God for the training period and the lasting friendships."

Rosalie Hooley, teacher of thirty-six third and fourth graders in the Millersburg School—taught Bible school on an Indian reservation in northern Minnesota with Leona Yoder 40, Martha Hiestand 48, and Mable Brunk 47 last summer.

Alice Grace Hostetter—at Temple University—working with rats on experimental diets—nutritional deficiencies are beginning to appear. (Miss Hostetter is preparing to serve her alma mater—Messiah Bible College—as dietitian and home economics instructor.

Ruby Hostetler—thirty-two third graders in the Elkhart Public Schools—also interested in "church work, Sunday-school class, junior sewing, junior meeting, etc."

Mrs. Vincent G. James (Rosemary Miller), of 307 North Sixth Avenue, Columbus 1, Ohio, was married on June 9, in the Presbyterian Church in Columbus. Mr. James is a sophomore in engineering. Mrs. James is teaching third grade in a suburb of Columbus.

Norman Kraus—teaching three sections of senior civics, two of American history, and one of world history in the academy of Eastern Mennonite School. Mr. and Mrs. Kraus (Ruth Smith x42) and their daughter Yvonne, are living near the campus.

Ruth Kreider—teacher of twenty-eight pupils, the overflow from the other first and second grade rooms. The twelve in second grade are the slower ones from the other room. Miss Kreider is teaching in her home school, Wadsworth, Ohio, and enjoys it very much.

Earl Leinbach—applied for admission to medical school—back in the teaching profession for this year —teaching mathematics in the Calumet Township Junior High School near Gary, Indiana.

Leda Litwiller—teaching music in the grades and high school in the Salem Center School at Pleasant Lake, Indiana—also teaching seventh grade geography and English and freshman and sophomore girls' physical education class twice a week. (Her college major was history!)

Mary Kay Plank—teaching third grade in Rosewood Consolidated Schools, twelve miles from home—thirty-one pupils. The twenty Mennonite teachers in Logan and Champaign counties have organized an association. Recent initiates were Wanda Yoder, Mary Jeanette Yoder, Pauline Yoder, Carol Hartzler, besides Miss Plank. This summer the Mennonite Teachers' Association bought a heifer to send to Europe.

Dorothy Powell—teacher in Salem Center School, Pleasant Lake, Indiana—four home economics classes, a seventh grade health class, and a study hall.

Clifford Snyder

Clifford S. Snyder wrote from Kitchener, Ontario, in November, "November finds us waiting to enter Uruguay." (Since that time the Snyders have been granted permission to enter Argentina. — Ed.)

Mrs. Lloyd Frantz (Helen Rohrer) —teacher of twenty-five first graders in the Baugo Township Schools at Jamestown. Mr. and Mrs. Frantz live in Goshen. Mr. Frantz is a junior in the College.

Kenneth Heatwole—graduate work in the Th.B. course at Goshen—hopes to enter medical college next fall.

Daniel Kauffman is busy in the business office at Hesston College—building auditorium-gymnasium with a seating capacity of two thousand—after that a new girl's dormitory—increased enrollment of one hundred.

Merrill Heinz, pastor of Church of the Brethren—address, 2215 East Broad Street, Richmond, Virginia.

Carolyn Weaver

Carolyn Weaver—continuing as secretary to Dean Carl Kreider—director of a ladies' chorus which is the overflow of the other choruses—taking two education courses and principles of accounting. The group now practicing "The Messiah" is the largest Goshen College has ever had. Miss Oyer and Miss Weaver are accompanying at the pianos.

Phyllis Roose—taking the administrative course in dietetics at Texas State College for Women at Denton, Texas—and finds it very stimulating and interesting.

Carol Schertz—now in the obstetrical ward at Mennonite School for Nursing at La Junta—attended the meeting of Colorado State Nurses' Association with Mrs. Maude Swartzendruber 37 in October.

Ada Schrock is teaching English, reading, writing, and spelling to the junior high group in her high school Alma Mater at Salisbury, Pennsylvania—ninety students.

Leona Trump—teacher of twenty-eight third and fourth graders in the Pike Street Elementary School. In this school Mrs. Joe Eckstadt (Mary Beckner x28) teaches the first and second grades, Betty Landaw 41 the fifth and sixth, and Galen Whitehead 39 is principal of Pike Street as well as West Goshen.

Doris Wade, of Morton, Illinois, attended summer school at Ann Arbor, Michigan, last summer.

Elsie White is night supervisor at Mennonite Hospital School of Nursing at La Junta.

Ethel Yake wrote her contribution to the class letter during a visit at Goshen in November. She is assisting her father in the office of The Youth's Christian Companion—editing copy, planning issues, features, making dummies, deciding what type to use, ordering and marking pictures for the making of cuts, and helping with the preparation of summer Bible school materials to be released next summer.

Rev. Richard Reilly spent the summer at the University of Oklahoma in the Summer Institute of Linguistics. He is now full-time director for the Elkhart County Youth for Christ, helping to organize Christian clubs in the local high schools, directing radio broadcasts over WTRC in Elkhart.

Paul L. Yoder remained in Goshen College for at least an additional semester to complete preparation for teaching.

Capt. Hubert Hahn x28, Chaplain in the U. S. Army, visited his mother, Mrs. Hattie B. Hahn, of 610 River Avenue. Mrs. Hubert Hahn is living at Portis, Kansas.

Vincent Krabill 43 is teaching social science in the Wayland, Iowa, High School since his release from Civilian Public Service.

Leonard C. Kreider 31, professor of chemistry at Bethel College, attended the two-day Petroleum Meeting of the American Chemical Society, Wichita Section. Dr. Kreider opened this eleventh annual meeting and for the ensuing year was appointed National Councilor.

Harold S. King x42 is again working for the Bell Aircraft Corporation, Niagara Falls, New York, as a Flight Test Engineer on production and experimental helicopters. Mrs. King (Avis Hostetler x44) and baby, Linda, have joined him at their new residence on Ridge Road, Lewiston, New York.

David Bechtel 37, now home after serving in the Armed Forces four and one-half years, is enrolled as a predental student at Goshen College. He was recently discharged as a lieutenant in the army engineers.

Charles H. Fricke 27, who had been printing instructor at the Edgewood School at Greenwich, Connecticut, has been appointed by the Presbyterian Board to West Africa. He is to take up the work of directing the mission printing press at Elat, Cameroun. The press at Elat is fairly well equipped, having a Kelly automatic cylinder press, a job press, monotype casting machine, paper cutter, and the usual printing equipment. Mr. Fricke is thrilled at the idea of bringing the Gospel to the Africans on the printed page. The press prints in English, French, and Spanish and in six African dialects. Mr. Fricke's African address is Elat, Cameroun, West Africa.

Dallas Voran, who was a member of the relief training unit on the Goshen campus in 1943, plans to leave to spend three years in China as a relief worker.

Leona Yoder 40, of West Liberty, Ohio; Rosalie Hooley 46, of Ligonier, Indiana; and Mabel Brunk 47, of Goshen, were members of a Mennonite Service Unit carrying on extensive summer Bible school work at Ogema, Minnesota, thus relieving the local workers this summer to help in the erection of a much-needed church building.

Wanda Yoder A.A. 46 is teaching grades three and four in the Monroe Township School near West Liberty, Ohio.

Carol Hartzler A.A. 46 is teaching grades one and two in the same school.

Richard Smoker A.A. 44, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Smoker 13 (Mabel Unzicker 15), of South Eighth Street, Goshen, has accepted a position as research director and analyst for the Indiana Farm Bureau Co-operative in Indianapolis. Mr. Smoker was recently graduated from Purdue University. He will be in charge of developing a new program which will be largely in the field of market research.

Mrs. C. B. Blosser (Carrie Yoder 05) and her sister, Mrs. Mabel Hostetler (Mabel Yoder x08), are spending the winter months in Sarasota, Florida.

Mrs. Mabelle Lehman Stump 21 is continuing her teaching in Rensselaer after spending the summer in Goshen with relatives.

The Reverend Robert W. Hartzler 41 assumed the pastorate of the Eighth Street Mennonite Church on Sunday, September 1. He has been serving the congregation the past year as assistant pastor. Official installation ceremonies were held for him on Sunday, September 8.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hess 06 (Anna H. Kauffman 04), of Shiremanstown, Pennsylvania, are planning to retire from the corn drying business. They shared a generous portion of the 1946 crop with the College dining hall and some of their other friends in Goshen. Their farm is being converted into a housing project which is developing slowly because of the scarcity of building materials.

The Liberal Arts College and Vocational Training

When the liberal arts college was first established it was thought of as a place of study for free citizens who did not have to work for a living; the work was done by slaves or peasants who had no use for an education. Even as late as the eighteenth century a college education was considered as training for gentlemen of leisure. The only exception to this nonvocational principle was the concept of the college as a preparation for the ministry.

With the growth of the liberal arts college in America, a new conception of liberal arts education gained considerable favor. Our nation had no leisure class; making one's living was both normal and socially approved. It was not possible for the liberal arts curriculum to be purely cultural; it had to contain information and techniques of practical value to businessmen, professional men, farmers, and others. Women, too, needed more than a preparation for leisure. Most college women planned to marry and, therefore, needed practical assistance in household management. Others planned careers in which vocational training was extremely useful.

In recent years the conflict between liberal arts training and vocational training has been rather sharp in some quarters. Goshen College feels that this conflict arises from a misunderstanding of the basic meaning of a liberal arts education and of vocational training. A liberal arts program can and should be directed toward specific careers and vocational goals. This does not imply a lowering of the quality of standards long characteristic of liberal education. Rather, standards have been raised by giving them practical laboratory application. When a student enters Goshen, he is given a battery of freshman tests. These tests together with interest inventories available in the dean's office enable a student to plan for a vocation which will be in line with his interests and aptitudes.

The following pages describe briefly some of the careers available to Goshen College graduates. Some of them require additional study in professional schools. For others no specialized preparation is as good as the in-service training which is given on the job. This list of careers is certainly not exhaustive nor are the suggested courses more than an indication of the various patterns which your college course should assume. In addition to the special courses suggested, all students will take work in English Composition and Literature, Bible, social studies, science, psychology, and the fine arts.

The college, not only in its course work, but also in its basic philosophy, encourages the development of strong Christian community living. Students are urged to choose careers, not on the basis of their financial rewards nor their social status, but upon the extent to which they represent the student's maximum contribution to the promotion of the kingdom of God. We believe that most students can best make their contribution through choosing vocations which will enable them to render effective service in their home communities.

Business Administration

This alumnus found a career in business as a purchasing agent.

In the early days of our country it was thought that all a man needed to enter the business world was a little money or credit and a great deal of self-assurance. Many of our outstanding business leaders prided themselves on being "self-made" men. The complexities of our modern economic structure have made this almost impossible today, and a specialized education in economics together with a broad liberal arts training is a great asset in the business world.

Goshen College does not aim to train big business men. Our ideal of a business graduate is one who returns to his home community where he can operate a useful business and at the same time make a significant contribution to the life of the community. In this capacity some Goshen graduates serve as sales executives, some in managerial capacities, some in banking, and some in accounting. Where specialized skills are necessary we recommend that the student take one or two years of graduate work beyond the B.A. degree. For the majority of cases, however, a broad general knowledge is sufficient, and many Goshen alumni serving in the business world have not had training beyond that offered at Goshen College.

Basic Goshen courses: principles of economics, principles of accounting, intermediate accounting, cost accounting, corporation finance, money and banking, public finance, introduction to statistics, persuasion and forms of public discussion.

Helpful extracurricular activities: treasurer of one of our many student organizations; business, advertising, or circulation manager of the Record or Maple Leaf.

FARMING

Farming continues to attract numerous Goshen alumni

Over half of the students at Goshen College were born and reared on the farm. In the past some parents have regarded a college education for their children as an avenue whereby they may escape the drudgery of farm labor. In recent times, however, many young people have been awakened to a new vision of the opportunities of a job which keeps them close to the soil. The democratic traditions of farm life have a permanence about them which has a vital implication for the future stability of society in general and of the church in particular. This important element is often lost when the individual lives in an urban environment.

Farming involves the mastery of certain techniques and skills. Certain specialized courses are available to enhance the student's knowledge of these techniques and skills. Many students, however, have learned these skills in the school of experience prior to coming to Goshen College, and they recognize that modern farming involves a good deal more than merely tilling the soil. A farmer has a vital role to play in the life of his community and in the building up of the rural church. In addition to taking courses directly relating to farm techniques, therefore, we suggest that our students select many courses in Bible and liberal arts.

Basic Goshen courses: chemistry, botany, plant pathology, rural economics, rural sociology, accounting.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Audubon Society; campus, garden, and farm work appointments; Science Club.

Government Service

The government of the United States, federal, state, and local, has absorbed an increasingly large part of the total working population. Although certain government jobs involve tasks which the majority of Goshen College graduates do not care to perform, there is a wide range of positions which offer opportunities for general service. The work of soil conservation specialists, meteorologists, postal employees, and a host of others allow the worker to become a vital part of his community life.

The student's program in training for government service will depend largely upon the aspect of government work he desires to enter. Some students will take courses in science, some in home economics, some in the social sciences and some in secretarial work. Beginning salaries in governmental service are comparatively high. The employee has good tenure, and advancement under civil service follows established rules.

Basic Goshen courses: wide choice of major and electives. American government and state and local government are suggested for everyone entering this field.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Peace Society; work in departmental clubs.

This alumna has discovered that running a home can be made more interesting through skills developed in a College Home Economics Curriculum

Household Management

A very high percentage of Goshen College women marry. A number of these women have prepared for careers in a wide variety of fields, such as teaching, nursing, secretarial work, music, and others. An increasing number, however, are preparing specifically in the field of household management by majoring in home economics, either by taking a general course or by preparing for interim service as a dietitian or home economics teacher.

Household management involves far more than is commonly thought of as "domestic science"—learning how to cook and sew. Certainly, these basic skills are obvious requirements. In addition, however, work in the training of children, in the management of household finance, and in the planning and furnishing of homes is very important. A sound liberal arts training is of even more significance than these technical subjects, however, for they enable the mother to enjoy the finer things of life and impart a deep appreciation of these enjoyments to her family. To attain this end training in Bible, music, literature, and art is of invaluable assistance.

Basic Goshen courses: foods and nutrition, clothing, home management, child welfare, house planning, children's literature, family, oral interpretation.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Home Economics Club; Social Committee work in student organizations.

Journalism

The newspaper press has been one of the most vital forces affecting American life. The press of a local community not only exerts a tremendous influence over the shaping of international affairs but it also often imparts a specific moral and cultural tone to the community it serves. There is, therefore, a tremendous opportunity for Christian newspaper editors and writers in the small community. Adequate preparation for such work would demand training in English composition to provide the journalist with tools of clear and concise English. It also, however, demands a liberal arts background of the broadest character. The journalist should have a real appreciation of community problems: farming, labor relations, community industry, and problems of social pathology. He should also have a deep religious experience and conviction which will enable him to write with a sense of vision.

Basic Goshen courses: English composition, creative writing, journalism, economics, sociology, government.

Library Work

If you like the atmosphere and orderliness of a library, you can begin your training at Goshen for a librarianship

Although interesting careers in library science are open to both men and women, most small libraries make it a policy to hire women librarians. The librarian must collect, classify, and make available to her clientele vast stores of human knowledge, whether in the public library, school and college library, or special library (medical, law, scientific, business). Far more than mere cataloguing of books and materials is necessary for success in this career. The librarian must be patient, must take pleasure in orderliness, and must have good organizing ability. She should be able to work effectively with people as well as with books. With a wide knowledge of the books available in the library the librarian can often point interested individuals to readings that will help them meet special needs. Professional librarianship requires one year of training in a recognized library school in addition to the basic liberal arts training at Goshen College.

Suggested Goshen College courses: English literature, history, psychology, science, foreign languages, typewriting.

Helpful extracurricular activities: student work in the college library.

Medicine and Dentistry

The acute shortage of doctors and dentists in the United States in the past three years has forcibly brought to our attention our dependence upon the medical and dental professions. An increasing number of Goshen College students, therefore, have been attracted to these professions. They have recognized that the medical and dental professions afford an admirable opportunity for service in any small community and an even greater opportunity for service among the underprivileged in many of the mission stations operating under the church. In Puerto Rico, Paraguay, and the Far East many people have been living for years with poor medical care. Consecrated doctors and dentists can give them an invaluable service.

The study of medicine and dentistry requires the highest qualifications, both academic and personal. The position of influence physicians and dentists occupy and the service and social responsibilities placed upon them demand breadth of culture as well as professional knowledge and skills. Therefore, although some medical and dental schools now admit students upon the basis of two years of college work, it is much better if the student has the sound academic background which four years of liberal arts work can afford. In addition to a preprofessional program, the prospective doctor should be willing to spend four years in medical school, one year in an internship and still further study if specialization is desired.

Basic Goshen courses: zoology, general chemistry, physics, comparative anatomy, embryology, organic chemistry, quantitative analysis, and a wide election of cultural courses strongly advised by medical schools.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Science Club; student assistantships in science laboratories; summer work appointments in mental hospitals.

Ministry

When liberal arts colleges were originally established the only vocational goal they permitted in many cases was the preparation of men for the Christian ministry. Over the country as a whole the liberal arts college still plays a very significant role in this regard. In the Mennonite Church, however, it has long been traditional to choose the ministry from among the laity of the same congregation. This tradition has many advantages and should continue. Complete adherence to such a tradition, however, does not preclude the possibility of an adequately trained ministry. Goshen College, therefore, has established numerous programs of training for church work. For full-time church work we recommend the five-year Th.B. program offering two years of liberal arts education and three years of specialized training in Bible. Ministers and prospective ministers who cannot stay this long will find help in programs lasting one, two, or four years. A full seminary program based upon four years of liberal arts education and leading to the B.D. degree is also available.

Basic Goshen courses: courses in Old Testament, New Testament, Systematic Theology, Practical Theology, Church History, Philosophy and Speech.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Th.B. Fellowship; extension work, Mennonite Historical Society; Christian Workers' Band.

Mission Work

Missionary work in the Mennonite Church was started at approximately the same time as Goshen College. Since that time the missionary program of the church and the program of higher education have gone hand in hand. Goshen College has contributed a large proportion of the foreign missionaries of the Mennonite Church. The foreign mission program, on the other hand, has provided a constant source of inspiration.

Mennonite missionaries have enjoyed a fine reputation for their well-rounded educational background. Graduation from college with a baccalaureate degree has been considered a prerequisite in most cases. The college major depends upon the specific type of missionary work undertaken. Most of the missionaries engage directly in evangelistic endeavor and consequently feel the need for thorough preparation in Bible, but some have served as doctors, some as dentists, some as nurses, and some as teachers and have modified their academic program to accord with their special need. Many of our missionaries have enjoyed the stimulus of graduate work, especially during their years of furlough. An increasingly large number have taken this graduate work in Bible.

Basic Goshen courses: Missions, Evangelism, other courses depending upon the nature of the mission appointment.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Foreign Missions Fellowship, Christian Workers' Band, Mission Study Committee of the "Y", extension work.

Music

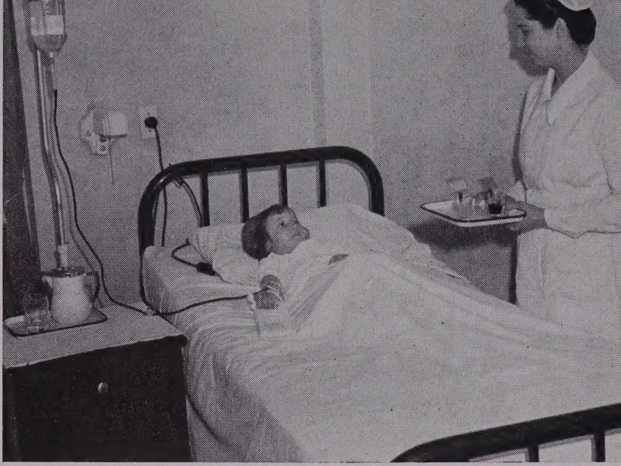
Students at Goshen College have long enjoyed the benefits of a fine musical tradition. The phrase in the college song, "Goshen College ever singing," aptly describes the vital part played by music in the life of the institution. Many students have found their study of music at Goshen College excellent preparation for a career in public school music. Many others have found their musical training an invaluable aid in building up the musical program of their home church. A still larger number have found great satisfaction in the personal enjoyment of music through study of voice or of an instrument or through music appreciation. In addition to the music major as a part of the B. A. degree, special two-year programs in general music and in church music are available.

Basic Goshen courses: harmony, sight singing, history and appreciation of music, chorus directing, private instruction in vocal and instrumental music.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Collegiate Chorus, A Cappella Chorus, quartet work, Music Club.

The director of this community chorus is a graduate and former Goshen instructor

Nursing affords countless opportunities for service



Nursing

The registered nurse can serve in a hospital either at home or on the mission field, she can render service as a private duty nurse in homes, and she can render assistance in promoting the health of our people. In addition to her professional duties, she has received excellent training if she decides later to become a homemaker.

Goshen College offers several programs for nurses' training. Some students come to college for two years and then transfer to the La Junta School of Nursing. After three years of nurses' training they are awarded the degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing by Goshen College. It is also possible to receive a Bachelor of Arts with a major in natural science for nurses by taking three years of academic work at Goshen College plus the three years of nurses' training. The three years of college work may be taken either before or after the nurses' training.

A nurse with a college degree has a better opportunity to secure supervisory positions in a hospital or to serve as an instructor in a nurses' training school. In addition, the college training adds a richness to the total educational background of the nurse that is not gained in a hospital alone.

Basic Goshen courses: chemistry, anatomy and physiology, bacteriology, foods and nutrition, psychology, and sociology.

Helpful extracurricular activities: summer service units in mental hospitals; Science Club.

Publishing

An alumnus edits a paper at our church publishing house

Numerous opportunities for careers are presented in the field of publication. This involves editorial work for papers and magazines and the writing and editing of books, pamphlets, and tracts. The publication industry in the United States has been greatly expanded in the past four or five years in spite of an acute paper shortage. People are reading more than ever before and to an increasingly great extent they purchase the publications they read. However much people read, their intellectual and spiritual development is greatly conditioned by the quality of the material they read.

The graduate of a church college has an admirable opportunity to express his Christian ideals in work of this kind. He should be thoroughly familiar with the nature of the world in which we live and with the Christian answer to the world's problems. In addition, he should obviously be well trained in the tools and techniques of publication work. This would mean a clear understanding of English grammar and composition and an appreciation of our heritage of great literary masterpieces. If he engages in publication work in a specialized field, he should choose specialized academic courses in that field.

Basic Goshen courses: English composition, Creative Writing, Bible, Economics, Sociology, Government.

Helpful extracurricular activities: College Record, College Maple Leaf.

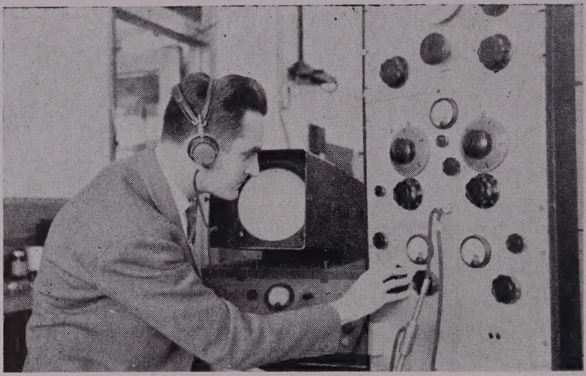
Relief and Reconstruction

Students at Goshen College always have been alert to the problems of human suffering occasioned by great national and international catastrophes. A large share of the relief and reconstruction workers serving after World War I and during and after the Spanish Civil War and World War II have been graduates or former students of Goshen College. In the past many of these workers had few qualifications for their assignment other than a firm conviction of the supreme importance of the work in which they were engaged and a deep spiritual concern for the people they served. This will continue to be the most important qualification, for the longer such work is continued the more convinced our graduates have become that mere humanitarianism only scratches the surface of the problem. To an increasing extent, however, relief organizations have been able to find relief workers with special skills. Some of our graduates received training in child welfare and rendered outstanding service in children's homes. Others with special engineering skills have rendered singular service in construction activities. Trained dietitians, doctors, and dentists have used their special skills to great advantage.

Basic Goshen courses: wide variety of courses, depending upon the specific avenue of service contemplated.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Emergency Service Committee of the "Y"; club work in connection with extension Sunday schools.

This graduate served as a relief worker in England for five years



Television research affords a stimulating career for this alumnus

Scientific Research

Successful workers in scientific research must possess an intellect of the highest quality and an earnest desire to work faithfully, even when tangible rewards are meager. A liberal arts college education with specialization in the field of his major interest is an absolute prerequisite to a research job. In most cases, however, at least three years of postgraduate work leading to the Ph.D. degree are also required. Positions are available in many industries but a large sphere of service is open in Mennonite communities for research workers who are interested in improving methods of agricultural production and in developing local community industries which will provide a wholesome livelihood for the members of the local community.

Science majors available at Goshen College. Complete majors are available in the following sciences: chemistry, physics, botany, biology, mathematics, and home economics. A major in any of these fields consists of at least twenty-four hours within the field plus a minimum of sixteen hours of related subjects.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Science Club; student assistantships in science laboratories.

Secretarial Work

The basic secretarial skills may be learned in high school or in short courses offered by business colleges. The efficient secretary, however, is one who knows vastly more than how to take shorthand, run a typewriter, and keep a few books. Broad liberal arts training will enable the prospective secretary to serve her employer not only by doing the routine skilled jobs but also by relieving him of many tasks he would otherwise be compelled to do.

Goshen College offers a one-year secretarial course which combines a mastery of the basic skills together with a significant amount of elective work in the liberal arts. Many of the recipients of this diploma have occupied positions of responsibility without further training. It has been gratifying, however, to note that a very significant number have remained after their one-year program to take additional work in liberal arts to prepare for the teaching of secretarial courses or for secretarial positions of even greater responsibility than a one-year course would afford.

Basic Goshen courses: typewriting, shorthand, secretarial accounting, office practice, English composition and literature, economics, psychology.

Helpful extracurricular activities: typing for the Record or Maple Leaf: student assistants to faculty and administrative officers.

Elementary Teaching and Administration

The elementary teacher exerts a profound influence over his students during their most pliable years. Public school children learn to appreciate the high ideals of their teachers and seek to imitate many of their attitudes and characteristics. The elementary school teacher also may be a vital part of the church and community program by serving as Sunday-school teacher, vacation Bible school teacher, youth leader, and summer camp worker.

Indiana and a few other states now require a bachelor's degree for elementary teaching. Although most of the other states in the area served by Goshen College still grant licenses upon the basis of from two to three years of college work, the tendency toward a four-year program is pronounced and four years will no doubt be generally required after the current shortage of teachers is supplied. Not only is special training in elementary education necessary to help the teacher master the techniques of effective instruction, but a liberal arts background for elementary teachers is absolutely necessary to enable the teacher to understand the world in which the student lives. Although a majority of elementary teachers are women, there is a large opening for men as well. Experienced men who are willing to take graduate training in educational administration are frequently given responsible positions as elementary school principals and supervisors.

Basic Goshen courses: Principles of Teaching, Educational Psychology, Practice Teaching, Elementary Education Practicum, Psychology of Childhood, Philosophy of Education.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Elementary Education Club, teaching in extension Sunday schools, summer service projects.

Many graduates have served their home communities in the public school room

High School Teaching and Administration

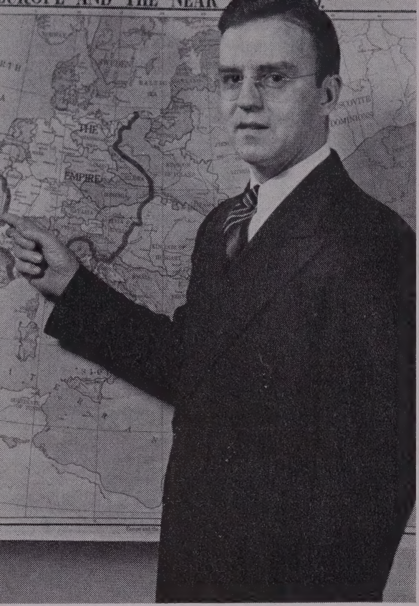
The high school principal guides youth through a critical age

The high school teacher or administrator occupies a position of great importance in the community. Not only does he exert the most significant single influence over the lives of many teen-age youth but he also is in a unique position to exercise a helpful church and community leadership. By taking an active interest in the program of the local church he can work against the tendency toward secularism in public school education. There are also an increasingly large number of opportunities for secondary school teachers and administrators in schools operated by the church. Although the financial rewards possible in such service are meager compared with public school salaries, teaching in a church school provides a challenge of the highest order.

All states now require college graduation for high school teaching. In addition to a broad liberal arts background, the student is expected to have specialized training in secondary education and in the subject matter fields he intends to teach. Students usually are urged to select not less than two subject matter fields. Advancement for teachers toward positions of administrative responsibility ordinarily requires graduate work beyond the baccalaureate degree.

Basic Goshen courses: Secondary Education, Principles of Teaching, Practice Teaching, Educational Psychology, specialized training in the proposed teaching subjects.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Student assistantships, forensics.



College Teaching

This alumnus teaches history in a church college on the west coast

All teaching is important but the college teacher has an unusual responsibility, for he trains many of the people who will ultimately teach others. The ideals, both academic and spiritual, which he imparts will become a vital part of the life experience not only of those whom he teaches but indirectly of numerous others. The Mennonite Church colleges have absorbed a large number of Goshen College graduates who have sought college teaching positions. With an expanding program of higher education in the Mennonite Church, these opportunities will doubtless become more numerous.

College teaching demands an academic background of the highest character. Students who expect to make it their life work should definitely plan not only for a baccalaureate degree but for sufficient graduate work for the doctor's degree. This will require not less than seven years of full-time training and in many cases more time is required. College teachers usually prepare for their job by choosing a college major in the same field they ultimately intend to teach. A college teacher, however, must be thoroughly acquainted with the liberal arts. Too great a specialization in the field of concentration in college, therefore, is undesirable.

Basic Goshen courses: thorough work in general education plus a major in the intended field for later specialization.

Helpful extracurricular activities: Student assistantships to college professors; forensics.

Afterword

Only a few of the hundreds of interesting careers pursued by Goshen College graduates have been depicted on these pages. There are, however, besides all those we know today many new ones to come. As new ideas bring new channels of employment, Goshen graduates will find new opportunities to lend expression to their special abilities. At the same time they will also enter the traditional careers. In all these careers the criterion of success must always remain service to Christ and our fellow men. See to it that you are well prepared.

Goshen College - Goshen, Indiana

Entered as second class matter, November 17, 1924, at the postoffice at Goshen, Indiana, under act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Sec. 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized November 17, 1924.

Enrollment Trends

Colleges all over the country are being flooded with students, and are turning away many desirable students because of the impossibility of expanding facilities and staff sufficiently to care for the current demand for higher education. The reason for this increase is two-fold: first, the end of hostilities has released many young people to resume their interrupted education; and second, the advantageous economic status, both of service men and the general public, make it possible for young people to finance a higher education.

Goshen College is experiencing this same flood of students. The current enrollment of 501 full-time students represents an increase of seventy-five percent over the number registered a year ago, and an increase of sixty-five percent over the second semester enrollment of last year. This increase is the more significant in face of the fact that the second semester enrollment of last year represented the highest enrollment in the history of Goshen College. This expansion will require wise planning for the future of the college, necessitating the clearest possible foresight as to enrollment trends during the coming years. A careful analysis of the current enrollment should contribute to this foresight. The facts set forth below are an attempt to make some analysis of this year's enrollment.

Release from government service has permitted large numbers of men to return to college, as is reflected in the fact that men and women are equal in number in our present enrollment, as compared to a one-to-three ratio for last year. The current increased enrollment, however, is not entirely due to the increase in men students, since the women number thirty-five more than a year ago. There are, however, 180 more men on the campus this year than last. A large proportion of this increase is made up of the eighty-five ex-CPS men and the fifty veterans enrolled, although the additional increase of forty-five men is composed of those who were not in government service.

The large return of men to the campus is reflected in the 125 men in the freshman class, making the class sixty percent men, whereas all of the other classes still have more women than men. The occupational choices of freshmen also reflect the return of men. Religious work takes first place among occupational choices, being slightly higher than teaching, which previously has always had first place. Medicine, business, and engineering have very large increases in the occupational choice of freshmen. A larger number of women students have also chosen nursing as a profession than among last year's freshman women. Six students list farming as their chosen occupation.

The Biblical Seminary has profited by the increased interest in religious work, showing an increase in enrollment of sixty percent over last year. Although this is slightly below the general college increase of seventy-five percent, it represents a proportionately large increase because theology students were permitted to attend college during the war years.

Students who hold membership in some branch of the Mennonite church total 392, or an increase of 168 over a year ago. This number is seventy-eight percent of the full-time enrollment as compared to seventy-nine percent a year ago. Members of the Mennonite church, the branch which operates Goshen College, number 332 or sixty-six percent of the total. This represents an increase of 131 over a year ago, even though last year's ratio of seventy-one percent was somewhat higher than this year's ratio. These figures reveal that there has been a very substantial increase in attendance at Goshen College by members of other Mennonite groups.

The study of enrollment by states is also quite significant, particularly since most Mennonite students come from states other than Indiana. Indiana students constitute this year about thirty-eight percent of the total as compared to last year's thirty-seven percent. In other words, the increase in Indiana students is approximately the same as the increase in total enrollment, or seventy-five percent. Ontario also shows an increase of about seventy-five percent. However, the three states furnishing most of the Mennonite students, namely, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois, have fallen below this general school increase with percentages of fifty-four, twenty-seven, and twenty-one respectively. Accordingly, other states show disproportionally larger increases, notably Iowa, Michigan, Kansas, Minnesota, Virginia, and Colorado. Other miscellaneous sources of students also show relatively large increases. Among these are foreign students, of whom there are five from Puerto Rico, four from Holland, one from Belgium, one from Italy, and two still expected from Syria. In addition there are missionaries' children numbering three from India and three from Argentina.

In addition to the Directory of Faculty and Students, there are printed in this bulletin tables showing various comparative enrollment figures, both for the current year and for past years, including curriculum, class, sex, church membership, intended occupation, and geographical distribution.
